Dairy Team Places Fifth In Nationals

The K-State college Senior Dairy Judging team placed fifth among 33 teams at the National Dairy Cattle Congress Inter-Collegiate Judging Contest October 1.

The team members are: Kenneth Kirton, DH Sr, Ancel Armstrong, DH Sr, L. C. Garrison, Ag Sr, and Donald Harris, DH Sr.

Kirton was eighth high individual in the contest, and placed third in Ayrshires, and seventh in the Brown Swiss.

Garrison was fourth in Brown Swiss and Armstrong was sixth in Brown Swiss.

The team left Manhattan September 29 and were guests of the Dannen Mills, Inc. for dinner. In the afternoon they judged Holsteins at the Clyde Hill farms, Clyde, Missouri.

Sunday morning the team went to the Ivan Gates farm, West Liberty, Iowa. The team arrived in Waterloo Sunday afternoon in order to rest up for the judging contest Monday.

The awards banquet was Monday afternoon, October 1. The team stayed in Waterloo Tuesday for the National Dairy Cattle Congress, and returned to Manhattan Wednesday.

Widely-Traveled Mr. 6,500th Student 'Feels Right at Home' in United States

Being student No. 6,500 on the K-State enrollment list this semester is just an incidental sidelight in the career of Bibano Arzadon, Pasay, Philippine Islands.

A graduate student in agricultural economics, he is studying here under an International Cooperative Administration grant and formerly was a fellow of the Statistical International Education Center in Calcutta for six months. He was there as a participant in the Colombo Plan, under the auspices of the United Nations Economic, Social and Cultural organization (UNESCO).

This is Arzadon's first visit to the United States. Upon his arrival in Seattle, Sept. 8, he said his first impression was, "I felt right at home, partly because of the orientation I received before leaving the Philippines."

"I am very grateful to have the opportunity to come to Kansas State college, and want to extend my gratitude to those who have been so helpful."

"Some Americans had told me that I might find some racial discrimination. However, I haven't seen any evidence of this in Manhattan, and I'm proud of K-State for its attitudes."

He suggests that Hollywood should attempt to portray America as it really is because too many people base their opinions on unrealistic motion pictures. "Since I have been in the United States, I have found just the opposite true of the wrong opinions I once held," said Arzadon.

Arzadon graduated from the University of the East in Manila in 1950 with a business administration degree. After working for a year as an advertiser for the Philippine Manufacturing company, a subsidiary of Proctor and Gamble, he went to Calcutta.

Before leaving India, Arzadon took a tour of the country. "In the larger Indian cities, you can see Western influences, yet they have retained their own culture. As they are a deeply religious people, Communism will never gain a stronghold in India," believes Arzadon.

Speaking of his own country, Arzadon notes, "The Philippines have the four freedoms as does the United States, and we can be proud of the same democracy as you enjoy. The Philippines can be considered the bulwark of the East."

TALKING THINGS over are Pat Wilkerson, student body president, George Docking, Kansas democrat gubernatorial candidate, and Albert Pugsley, dean of academic administration. Docking and Pugsley discussed K-State needs in a conference yesterday.

KS Needs Highlighted In Docking, Pugsley Talk

Dean A. L. Pugsley stressed the need for additional College facilities to accommodate expected increased enrollment in a discussion session yesterday with Democratic gubernatorial candidate George Docking.

Pugsley pointed out that enrollment has increased 10 per cent during the last three years, and the legislative appropriation was made for a 4 to 5 per cent increase. More faculty members are needed to offset this increase, he said.

The present building program is vital to keep pace with the enrollment increase, according to Pugsley. Plans call for the educational building funds to supply money for a new student health center, remodeling and equipping the veterinary science building, making more classroom space available, and remodeling the animal industry building and Anderson hall.

Also provided in the educational building fund will be a $520,000 addition to Eisenhower hall, a two-story addition to Kedzie hall, and a remodeling of the present building. Supplementary needs of the Home Economics department will be provided for with a $400,000 allocation from the fund.

Pugsley told Docking that more dormitory and apartment housing is needed. Although 196 married housing apartments are scheduled for completion in January, the need for more housing is apparent, he said.

The college has applied to the Federal Housing Administration for money to finance 264 additional apartments on the same lot as the units now under construction.

A new men's dormitory is slated to be in the planning stage sometime this month, and groundbreaking ceremonies will take place in the spring. The dormitory will house 600 men. A wing capable of housing another 600 will probably be added at a later date. Kitchen facilities for 1,200 men will be included in the original construction, Pugsley said.

Staff Cars in Student Space Bring Student Complaints

I HOPE the campus patrol feels a twinge of conscience each time a parking ticket is placed on a student auto parked in the faculty-staff section of the Student Union parking lot.

It is really a shame that tickets cannot be placed on staff cars parked in the student section of the lot.

THE COLLEGIAN has received several complaints from students that faculty-staff cars have so infested the student lot that it is practically impossible for a student to find a place to park unless he goes to the staff section.

When a student tires of playing ring around the rosey in the student section and goes to the staff part, he gets a nice violation message from the campus patrol.

THE STUDENT complaints really didn't impress me until one morning earlier this week when I arrived at the parking lot about 8:15. As any student knows, there wasn't an inch of room in the student section of the lot.

After walking about three blocks to get back to the campus after I parked, I counted the number of staff cars parked in the student section. There were 29. I also counted 42 empty stalls in the faculty-staff section.

I don't mean to say that if those 29 staff cars had been parked where they belong I would have been able to park in the lot, but 29 other students would have.

ACCORDING TO THE constitution of the Student Governing association, there is no regulation against faculty and staff using the lot. I think there should be, and I'm sure those students who are prevented from using the lot because of faculty and staff cars, think there should be.

In the constitution under "Regulations for Motor Vehicle Parking and Operation on the Campus," section 4E, paragraph 1, reads:

● "1. Student parking—The following parking areas are available to students, visitors, faculty, and staff."

In section 4E, paragraph 2, it reads:

● "2. Staff parking areas—The following areas are reserved for parking of faculty and staff."

THIS LITERALLY MEANS that the faculty and staff is welcome to park in student lots but students are prohibited from parking in faculty-staff lots.

This seems a little unjust to the students, especially when only two student lots are within normal campus limits. There is a third student lot located west of the stadium but it is not convenient to the campus. The constitution lists 15 reserved lots for faculty and staff and most of them are located right in the heart of the campus.

SOME WILL SAY that the student lots are much larger than the faculty lots. Sure, but there are more faculty lots and 3,845 student cars registered as compared to 1,519 faculty cars registered.

It seems a shame that the faculty doesn't make a more concentrated effort to park in their own nice, strategically placed, and most of the time unfilled lots instead of crowding students out of what should be their section.

ORIGINALLY the faculty section of the Union lot was at the north end because the old Student Union was at the south end. Just before the new Union opened, the faculty lot was relocated to the south to allow students to park closer to the Union.

I favor reversing them again if the faculty and staff will use their own section. After all, I'd much rather walk a few feet extra than three blocks. And there's probably a daily average of 20 other students who'd be happy to do so too.

OF COURSE, another solution to the problem is a change in the SGA constitution which would delete the "faculty and staff" part of Section 4E, paragraph 1. This would allow the campus patrol to tag the green-sticker cars in the purple-sticker section.—George Vohs.

Survey Shows

K-State Students Are Aware Of Voting Responsibilities

BY BARRY RUPARD

A survey was taken recently of 1300 students in 24 colleges to determine the opinions of students on basic political views. From the results of the poll, Eugene Gilbert, president of the Gilbert Youth Research Organization declared:

"A very large number of college students plainly don't care one way or another about the coming election."

However, on the K-State campus almost 100 per cent of 20 first-time voters surveyed, plan to vote in the coming presidential election.

The survey, taken at random on the campus, disclosed that only 10 per cent hadn't made up their minds toward which party they leaned, while all interviewed indicated some interest in who our next vice-president should be. Those polled indicated a strong preference for Nixon, while Kefauver ran a slow second.

Also noted in the survey was the interest and concern expressed by the students as to who our next president should or would be. Students preferred Eisenhower over Stevenson by almost 2 to 1.

The finding of the survey also indicated: Some of the first-time voters—40 per cent—said their choice of presidential candidate would be "certainly influenced" by the candidate's personality and appearance. Most students judged Eisenhower as being more sincere and colorful over television than his Democratic rival.

The students' views were clearly defined on the influence and effectiveness of radio and television. Sixty per cent were "strongly influenced" and 40 percent said they were "not influenced in any way."

Questioned on their chief complaints about the Democratic and Republican parties, only 10 per cent had no opinion to offer.

The outstanding complaint, according to the survey, was mudslinging and name-calling on the part of both the Democrats and Republicans. Most students said, however, this was to be expected in any presidential campaign.

Ike Tour of Border States May Be Advised by Nixon

By UNITED PRESS

Washington, (U.P.)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today rushed into extensive conferences with GOP leaders less than 12 hours after returning from his 32-state campaign swing.

ONE OF his top recommendations was, expected to be that President Eisenhower visit more key states where GOP senatorial candidates are fighting uphill battles.

The Vice President also planned to spend part of the day working on his notes for an unusual half-hour televised press conference tonight with newsmen in eight cities across the nation.

HE RETURNED to the capital shortly before midnight after ending his 16-day 15,000-mile trip at Philadelphia by tearing into Adlai Stevenson's foreign policy statements.

Nixon called the Democrat presidential nominee's proposal that the United States end nuclear weapon tests "catastrophic nonsense." And referring to his tour he told a wildly-cheering crowd of more than 3,000 persons of Philadelphia's historic academy of music:

"I CAN REPORT to you with confidence that President Eisenhower will be reelected as President of the United States."

Nixon will use part of his half-hour news conference tonight to report on his first campaign trip. Eight newsmen—one from each of the areas Nixon visited during the trip—will cut in from his home city with questions.

More than 150 NBC stations across the nation will carry the program from 10:30 to 11 p.m. CST. The GOP national committee purchased the time.

NIXON WAS greeted by thousands during his six-hour visit to Philadelphia. But he received the biggest ovation at the academy of music.

"Since this campaign has begun to warm up, I'll warm it up a little more," he told the rally.

Nixon said "For us to agree as Mr. Stevenson suggests to discontinue tests before we have a fool-proof inspection system would be just like playing Russian roulette with only the Russians knowing which chamber had the fatal bullet in it."

THE VICE PRESIDENT also said Stevenson's statement that the Eisenhower administration has "not pressed forward" toward disarmament and control of nuclear weapons is "one of the most extraordinary, appalling statements in the history of American political campaigning."

Ike Sees Series

President Eisenhower saw the Brooklyn Dodgers win the series opener, 6-3, in New York yesterday. He said the trip was "not political" but the color, the crowd and the drive to Ebbets Field in his "bubble-dome" limousine were obviously a politicians paradise.

Kefauver Pledges Labor Act Repeal

By UNITED PRESS

Enroute with Kefauver, (U.P.)—Sen. Estes Kefauver today pledged himself and presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson to repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor act.

KEFAUVER, in a speech prepared for delivery in Los Angeles' garment district, recalled that he had voted against it and voted to sustain former president Truman's veto.

His speech also stressed California water problems and included an attack on the administration's "partnership" program for water resources development.

THE GARMENT district speech featured the senator's first foray into Vice President Richard M. Nixon's home territory. He told voters:

"I am willing to let you decide which of us (Nixon or Kefauver) you would choose."

Kefauver also said the 1952 GOP "crusade" has "bogged down in a morass of deals and favoritism."

THE SENATOR predicted that California will return to the Democrat column in the November elections.

He declared that a "natural partnership between the people of the west and the Democrat party" was disrupted by the 1952 election. He said "much of the progress which imagination, initiative and daring had given life to this section has come to a halt under Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Poll Shows Eisenhower Popularity With Farmers Down 21 Per Cent

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

St. Louis, Oct. 4—The Doane Agricultural Service, Inc. reported today, a poll conducted by its countrywide farm panel shows that President Eisenhower's popularity among the nation's farmers has dropped 21.2 per cent since 1952.

It said 56.6 per cent of the farmers polled plan to vote for President Eisenhower, compared to 72.1 per cent in 1952; 34.4 per cent for Stevenson compared to 20.2 per cent in 1952. The undecided or not voting this year is 9.0 compared to 7.7 in 1952.

Israeli Train Riddled

Jerusalem (Israeli sector), Oct. 4—Government officials said today an Israeli passenger train was riddled with machine gun and rifle fire near the Jordan border last night.

The Israeli engineer was wounded in the leg and stomach, but he took the train another 20 miles to Lydda Junction before stopping. None of the passengers was injured.

The train was traveling from the Port of Haifi to Jerusalem when it was raked with bullets along a one-mile stretch of track, Israeli sources said.

Reds Nearer Quemoy

Quemoy, Oct. 4—The Chinese Communists are building a causeway to a small island near Quemoy which would enable them to bombard this Nationalist offshore island outpost incessantly, a military spokesman disclosed today.

The spokesman said the Communists began work last year on a 2,000-yard causeway between the mainland and tiny Tating Tao island only 6,000 yards from Quemoy but that Nationalist artillery has left gaps in the vital link.

He said if the Reds complete the causeway they can bring in an endless supply of ammunition for guns already in place there. But as long as they must depend on waterborne transportation Quemoy will be spared heavy artillery barrages.

Poles in 'Hooliganism'

Poznan, Poland, Oct. 4—Outbreaks of "Hooliganism" were reported today on the outskirts of this Polish industrial town in protest against the trial of three youths charged with murder in the June 28 uprising.

The city was tense in expectation the verdicts would be pronounced today and widespread demonstrations were feared should the three be found guilty. The situation was considered serious, with new riots expected momentarily.

The tension was of the sort that sparked the June workers riots in which 53 persons were killed and more than 300 injured—the riots for which some of the workers are now on trial.

Security authorities reported the increase of "Hooliganism" as the hour of the verdict approached, and many groups were reported ready to express their dissatisfaction with conditions and their unanimity with the accused rioters.

Britain Reducing Ties

London, Oct. 4—The 15-member conservative "expanding commonwealth group" urged Parliament today to tighten British economic ties with Europe and consider the idea of offering "associate membership" in the Commonwealth to friendly nations not in the British sphere of influence.

The special parliamentary committee recommended a shift in the world balance of power which would weaken the century-old Anglo-American alliance.

"Either the Commonwealth will expand and grow or shrink and die," the committee warned in a report on a year's investigation of means of bringing new members into the Commonwealth.

Bruising Bill Busy Boy In Spite of Leg Injury

By JIM BELL

Bill Carrington, bruising Cat fullback, figures to see plenty of football action for K-State this season, despite a pulled leg muscle which will keep him out of the Oklahoma game.

Always a top linebacker, Carrington demonstrated that he could block with the best in the Oklahoma A&M game, and earned the starting fullback slot last weekend against Colorado.

"Big Bill," a PEM Sr, is 23, a 5-11, 210-pounder. In 1954 Carrington averaged 4.3 yards a carry from the fullback position. Last year, operating as a halfback, he gained three yards a try.

Carrington is gunning for his third varsity letter this fall. Asked about a career highlight to date, he said, "When I was a sophomore, we held Oklahoma, the number one team in the nation, to 21 points." Surprisingly, Carrington picked this game over the Cats' 28-6 conquest of arch-rival Kansas that same year, 1954.

In the KU game, Carrington picked up 78 yards rushing on 12 tries and scored twice to lead the way to a K-State win. "I had a pretty good afternoon that day," he said.

"I think we have as good a chance as anybody," Carrington remarked concerning the Big Seven Orange bowl spot. "KU and Missouri will be our toughest competition. Nebraska will also be rough.

"We've had lots of injuries this year, and some sophomores need experience. But I think we'll get rolling soon.

"We have a lot more hustle than last year. That spirit will mean a lot," he said.

A quiet, easy going personality and a big grin make Carrington popular with his teammates. Between Lincoln high school of Kansas City, Mo., and K-State, Bill spent two years in the Army.

In high school, nine letters, three each in football, basketball, and track, marked Carrington's athletic achievements.

Speed and power are two attributes that accent Carrington's offensive play—the speed despite his bulk. This season, he is strictly a fullback, though Mertes, considered shifting him to line play to utilize his size and quickness.

"Bill has always proven a strong defensive player—one of our mainstays as a linebacker. He was an outstanding offensive blocker in the Oklahoma A&M game. We hope Bill will have his finest season this year," Mertes said.

Carrington missed 1956 spring practice because of a bone spur operation on his foot. However, the injury has not hampered him this fall.

Faculty Bowlers Needed

Faculty men's bowling now has 15 of the 16 teams needed to complete the 2 leagues, which are composed of 8 teams each, according to Philip Wright, chairman of the Union games committee.

Teams will alternate their starting time so that one team will begin at 6 p.m. one week, and the following week at 8:30 p.m.

Entry forms can be filled out in the Union activities center immediately. Play will begin next week.

Cats Pass, Punt, Defend In Drill for Sooner Tilt

Heavy contact work was overlooked Wednesday afternoon as the Wildcats tapered off drills before meeting the defending Big Seven champions Oklahoma at Norman this Saturday.

Coach Bus Mertes ran his team through passing and punting exercises and defense plays during the two-hour practice session with the Cats also polishing up on their running plays. The team will leave Friday for the Oklahoma game.

Practice this afternoon will be similar to the Wednesday session with all contact work barred for the workout.

Working without pads at the practice yesterday were guard and captain Ellis Rainsberger, fullback Bill Carrington, and center Jerry Sand. All three are listed on the doubtful list for action Saturday. Rainsberger has a sprained ankle; Carrington a pulled leg muscle; and Sand a hip bruise.

One Cat is definitely out of action Saturday. Chuck Sprinkle, sophomore center, is still in the hospital after suffering a severe shoulder bruise against Colorado last Saturday, and will not make the trip.

With both Sand and Sprinkle on the sidelines with injuries, Mertes moved tackle Jack Keelan into the pivot position. He has been working at the reserve tackle position. Keelan, who played center in high school, will probably see action at center on Saturday.

Along with the usual "running" practice held on Thursday, Mertes said the Cats will also spend part of the practice working on defense against Oklahoma plays.

Yankee Win Could Hinge On Old Debt

Brooklyn—(U.P.)—Don Larsen, a right hander who thinks left handed, gets a chance today to repay Yankee manager Casey Stengel a favor of seven months standing.

Larsen last spring racked up his auto against a Florida pole some few hours after training camp curfew. It could have been that the sun, rearing up out of the Gulf of Mexico, got into his eyes.

Stengel let him off the hook—and this afternoon at Ebbets field he can get old Casey off one in return. Because the Yankees fell behind in the World Series when they lost yesterday's opening game to the crafty curve-balling and ancient Sal Maglie.

The barber was little short of magnificent, despite homerun balls to master Mickey Mantle and scrappy Billy Martin, as he battled to a 6-3 victory while the Dodgers once again buried south-paw Whitey Ford in the limited confines of Ebbets field.

So now the Yankees put it up to Larsen, the modern Rube Waddell who thinks "there's too much emphasis placed on the World Series."

That's typical of the thinking of the 27-year-old fast ball pitcher from Michigan City, Ind., who won 11 and lost 5 for the Yankees this season.

Such an attitude has made the 6-4 220-pound Larsen a long-time denizen of the doghouse on a club where such liquid and lackadaisical nonsense isn't often tolerated. The only thing which has saved him is not always latent talent.

Big Don came up with the Browns back in 1953 and was obtained from Baltimore in the winter of 1954. He had arm trouble in the spring and soon was shipped off to Denver. At the end of July, when the Yankees were in dire straits for added pitching, he was brought back over the protests of pitching coach Jim Turner, a mound martinet who stands for little nonsense.

Larsen got one series chance last fall, against the same Dodgers, but was beaten in the fourth game right here in Ebbets field. This time, the Yanks are hoping, it may be different because the easy-going, often overweight pitcher was hot as he hurled a trio of four-hitters coming down the stretch.

Much of it, the Yankees say, depends on his attitude of the day as he goes to the mound. They're hoping that he feels like repaying Stengel that overdue favor.

The probable starting lineups for today's second game of the World Series (with series batting average in parentheses):

Yankees
Hank Bauer, RF (.400)
Enos Slaughter, LF (.600)
Mickey Mantle, CF (.333)
Yogi Berra, C (.000)
Bill Skowron, 1B (.000)
Gil McDougald, SS (.000)
Billy Martin, 2B (.333)
Andy Carey, 3B (.333)
Don Larsen, P (.000)

Dodgers
Jim Gilliam, 2B (.000)
PeeWee Reese, SS (.500)
Duke Snider, CF (.333)
Jackie Robinson, 3B (.250)
Gil Hodges, 1B (.500)
Sandy Amoros, LF (.333)
Carl Furillo, RF (.250)
Roy Campanella, C (.250)
Don Newcombe, P (.000)

READY, SET—Don Matsuoka of the Hui O Makules gets set to start the medley relay for the Hawaiian team in last night's intramural swimming competition. The Hui O Makules made a clean sweep of the independent division. Dirk McGinnis is the timer.

Makules, Sig Alphs, Win IM Swim Meet

Hui O Makules swimmers swept every first in the independent intramural swimming division finals last night to wrap up the title. Sigma Alpha Epsilon added the swimming trophy to their team's golf trophy as they annexed three firsts in last night's action, to win the fraternity championship.

Each member of the Hui O Makules was awarded an individual medal.

First place winners are:
40-yard free style—Dirk Ellis (Pi Kappa Alpha), 21.2, in the fraternity division; Gordon Harper (Hui O Makules), 21.0, independent.

80-yard breast stroke—Don Unruh (Sigma Alpha Epsilon), 1:03.9, fraternity; Jim Nolan (Hui O Makules), 1:02.5, independent.

80-yard back stroke—Jim Mariner (Delta Tau Delta), 58.3, fraternity; Kenny Tsujiuchi (Hui O Makules), 1:09.0, independent.

100-yard free style—Dick Walsh (Sigma Alpha Epsilon), 1:02.1, fraternity; Don Matsuoka (Hui O Makules), 1:03.0, independent.

120-yard medley relay—Delta Tau Delta, fraternity division, 1:18; Hui O Makules, independent division, 1:30.4.

160-yard free style relay—Pi Kappa Alpha, fraternity division, 1:28.8; Hui O Makules, independent division, 1:30.2.

80-yard individual medley—Dick Walsh (Sigma Alpha Epsilon), 52.2, fraternity; Jim Nolan (Hui O Makules), 56.4, independent.

Faurot Shakes Lineup; Mather Shakes Defense

Faurot said third team guard Ray McMichael probably would see considerable action because of his defensive ability.

The Tigers ran plays against the freshman team in the week's only scrimmage yesterday.

Lawrence—(U.P.)—Coach Chuck Mather planned a heavy workout at Kansas today, unusual for a Thursday, because he said he was not satisfied with the defense.

Mather put the Jayhawks through rugged drills yesterday, but said more improvement, especially against passing, was needed before meeting Colorado Saturday.

'Y' May Change Orpheum Rules

Y-Orpheum changes may go into effect despite their rejection by Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils, according to Vash Rumph, YMCA cabinet member.

The revisions were submitted to the councils in order that YMCA, which sponsors the Y-Orpheum, could find out how the Greek houses felt concerning the changes.

Rumph emphasized that the YMCA respects the opinion of the councils, but does not feel itself compelled to follow their recommendations.

"The YMCA has control of Y-Orpheum, but we do want this to be presented in accordance with the wishes of Panhellenic and IFC," Rumph said.

Panhellenic council passed the Y-Orpheum revisions, but IFC representatives didn't. A three-fourths vote was necessary to pass the revisions.

The first revision, concerning joint presentation of a Y-Orpheum entry by a fraternity and a sorority, was passed by Panhellenic council, 6-2. Although the IFC voted in favor of the change, 15-6, the necessary three-fourths vote wasn't obtained.

Another revision, that each presentation should be in accord with a general Y-Orpheum theme, was approved by sororities, 8-0. A three-fourths vote again was lacking in IFC balloting, as 12 fraternities favored the change and 9 were against it.

The other major revision, stating that finalists should be chosen on the basis of stage presentation, was passed by Panhellenic council unanimously. Fraternity votes of approval outnumbered dissenting votes, 11-9, but again the three-fourths vote was lacking.

Queen Contestant Is 'Trumped' by Rules

By GARY HAYNES

K-State "played" a queen in the American Royal queen contest, but El Dorado, Kan., held the ace. That "ace" will keep Joyce Brower, BA Soph, elected Tuesday as K-State's candidate, from attending the contest.

Carole Holmquist, EEd Jr, selected as alternate, will attend the three-day contest in Kansas City on October 17-19.

In 1954, Joyce was candidate for American Royal queen as a representative of El Dorado. According to contest rules that were overlooked by everyone, this makes her ineligible to participate again.

"I figure the chance of something like this happening must be a million to one," Pat Wilkerson, spokesman for the Student council, said.

"I didn't think a thing about it," Joyce said, "until I read it yesterday afternoon on an entry blank. I was the first one to notice it, I guess."

Carole Holmquist was at an exchange party when notified that she would go to Kansas City for the American Royal contest.

"I just don't know what to say," Carole exclaimed, "I'm just very happy to represent Kansas State!"

NEW QUEEN CONTESTANT—Carole Holmquist, EEd Jr, will represent K-State in the American Royal queen contest.

Chore Day will highlight Ag Week activities tonight as Barnwarmer queen finalists show their ability at farm chores. One of the five girls will be chosen queen tomorrow night.

The finalists will perform such duties as milking cows, building hog troughs, pitching hay, and driving a tractor in the faculty parking lot behind Waters hall at 7 p.m.

Departmental clubs in the Ag School will have booths on the main floor of Waters hall today. Clubs sponsoring booths are Block and Bridle, Agricultural Economics, Dairy, Horticulture, Klod and Kernel, and Poultry.

The Poultry club will have live chick embryos on display that will show day by day development of a chick from the time it was incubated until it is hatched.

Klod and Kernel club will feature soil production and management and effects of pasture conservation.

Horticulture club is promoting better living through better food and greater comfort. Opportunities in the fields of dairy husbandry and manufacturing is the theme of the Dairy club display.

"Surplus is your problem too," is the Ag-Economics slogan for bettering the economic conditions in the United States. "Eat meat for health" and K-State judging teams are the subjects of Block and Bridle club exhibits.

The Ag School queen will be crowned at intermission of the Barnwarmer dance tomorrow night.

The candidates are Connie Morgan, HEc Fr, Southeast hall, Lee Lutz, EEd Fr, and Pat Vopat, HE Fr, Northwest hall, Carol Miller, EEd Sr, Pi Beta Phi, and Karen Hampton, Sp Soph, Waltham hall.

"Dress for the dance is western, and all College students are invited to attend," Ray Zimmerman, Ag Week manager, said.

There will be both round and square dancing with music by Jimmy Pierson's orchestra. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

"IT TAKES A LOT OF PULL to become Ag School queen," agree Lee Lutz, EEd Fr, (left) and Carol Miller, EEd Sr. They and three other finalists—Connie Morgan, HEc Fr; Pat Vopat, HE Fr; and Karen Hampton, Sp Soph—will display their farming talents at a chore session tonight.

Past Five Years Here Were Driest in History

Manhattan is completing its driest five-year period in history, L. Dean Bark, K-State agricultural meteorologist, has announced.

This city has had 115.07 inches of precipitation during the five years 1952 through 1956, inclusive. That compares with 125.32 inches in the second driest five-year period, 1933 through 1937.

KS Coeds Turn to Bowling

Dancing, once the most popular women's physical education course at K-State, has now given way to bowling, Prof. Katherine Geyer, director of women's physical education, says.

Men students still prefer football and basketball, with swimming close behind, according to Prof. T. M. (Mickey) Evans, men's physical education director. Bowling is next on the list of men's favorites, he adds.

This semester, 156 girls are enrolled in bowling, compared to 143 in social and modern dancing, Professor Geyer says.

Approximately 600 boys are in football and basketball, 275 are in swimming and 160 are in bowling, Professor Evans reports.

Polio Victim's Condition Now Reported as 'Fair'

Craig Birtell, ME Sr, who was stricken with polio Monday and was transferred to Stormont-Vail hospital in Topeka Tuesday, is reported in "fair" condition today.

No paralysis is evident, and Birtell is in a respirator to make his breathing easier, the hospital reports.

Birtell's mother, who was at the hospital this morning, said her son was as well as could be expected. It will be several days before anything definite can be determined, she added.

Birtell received his first Salk vaccine shot a month ago, and Student Health hopes that it will prevent any paralysis.

Kenneth Kohfeld, AA Jr, who was stricken with spinal polio in July, still is undergoing treatment at Stormont-Vail. He is in a respirator and there is slight paralysis of the left arm, but his condition is reported as "good." Kohfeld had not received Salk vaccine.

Student Health reports it still has a limited supply of free vaccine for students less than 20 years old.

'Sunset' Still Leads Top Tune Survey

HUGO WINTERHALTER is still on top with his hit record, "Canadian Sunset", and "Love Me Tender" is next greatest in demand according to Manhattan record shops. The latter by Mr. Elvis Presley is sold out and there is a waiting list for the record.

The top 10 tunes this week in Manhattan are:

1. "Canadian Sunset," Hugo Winterhalter and his orchestra
2. "Love Me Tender," Elvis Presley
3. "Chains of Love," Pat Boone
4. "Just Walking in the Rain," Johnnie Ray
5. "Friendly Persuasion," Pat Boone
6. "Earth Bound," Mario Lanza
7. "The Green Door," the Honky Tonks
8. "Miracle of Love," Ellen Rogers
9. "True Love," Jane Powell
10. "My Prayer," the Ka-Ding-Dongs

COLUMBIA RECORDS have a new album featuring the Four Lads on both 45 and 33 1/3 rpm. The 33 1/3 album is selling for $2.98 this month but will go up to $3.98 in November. Such records as "Taking a Chance on Love", "Wrap Your Troubles in Dreams," "On the Sunny Side of the Street," "Sentimental Journey," and "Dancing in the Dark", are included in this Columbia release.

The Brahms Symphonies conducted by Bruno Walter are available on four separate 33 1/3 records at $3.95 each. These include symphonies one through four in C sharp minor.

THE SOUND TRACK from Leo Tolstoy's "War and Peace" is selling well although the movie has not been shown in Manhattan yet.

Minnesota U Students Taste Beer, Defeat; Police Break Up Beer Bust

By Mary Beckmeyer

SPOILSPORT POLICE recently chased 120 Minnesota U. students and their frothing cans of beer (root, of course) from a sandbar in the Mississippi river. Four squads of police were necessary to evacuate the students, beer, blankets, etc. Between 300 and 400 empty beer cans were abandoned in the trail of dust left by 240 stampeding feet.

There was plenty of foam on that range until the "steer clear of beer" officials stepped in.

WE HEAR that the Air Force ROTC at Missouri university may institute flight training for their boys. They say it is a new innovation.

We've seen ROTC men pretty high here before and they didn't even need planes.

A STUDENT employment ad posted on the University of Texas campus brought several laughs.

The ad reads: "Job—Farm work, milk cows. Hours—3 or 4 a day. Pay—room and board plus transportation. Prefer senior law student."

Penciled underneath the notice by some Texas student was this message: "Takes politics for pull."

AGAIN PROVING that dog is man's best friend, a French poodle recently captured 405 votes and ran third in a student council election at the University of British Columbia.

The dog was entered as "Kirki Graham" by a student who wanted to prove that voters do not investigate the background of candidates.

Wonder what party he was in—the dog that is.

A MEMBER of Oklahoma University's football team has been impounded. His name is Buns and he's on an athletic scholarship—which is no mean accomplishment for a part Boston terrier.

Buns is the football team's mascot. It seems the athletic canine was found loitering with several companions around an apartment house. The manager of the apartments noticed Buns and his bunch and reported them to the city pound master.

BUNS WAS BOOKED for vagrancy and thrown in the jug. He remained there one day until he was bailed out.

Jim Harris, O.U.'s first string quarterback, and Buns' owner, found his dog among dogs was missing. To the chagrin of Jim, who had tried to bring the pup up right, he was found in the city dog pound.

NOW BUNS is back home eating nasty old steak and once again leading a dogs' life.

Guess Buns would sooner be a Hound Dog than a Sooner.

Adlai 'Slams' at Ike Before Seeing Series

By UNITED PRESS

New York—Adlai E. Stevenson attended the second game of the world series today at Ebbets field in traditionally Democrat Brooklyn.

STEVENSON'S visit to the ball park was billed as "non-political" as was President Eisenhower's appearance at the first game between the Yankees and the Dodgers Wednesday.

But the Democrat presidential nominee, like Mr. Eisenhower, was seen by thousands at the baseball park and in the festive streets of the heavily populated New York borough.

STEVENSON, a Chicago White Sox fan, indicated no preference in New York's subway series. Mr. Eisenhower openly rooted for the Dodgers and sat in the private box of Brooklyn's president Walter O'Malley.

Stevenson carried his campaign into Harlem where he declared that the achievement of equality of rights and opportunities for all America was "the great unfinished business of the United States."

ENTHUSIASTIC crowds ranging from 5,000 to 10,000 persons stood on the streets under rain threatened skies to cheer and applaud him at outdoor rallies. He made a third handshaking appearance at the Savoy ballroom.

Stevenson said at one rally that former president Truman sounded the "death knell" of segregation in the armed forces in 1948 despite the opposition of President Eisenhower.

HE SAID Mr. Eisenhower, then chief of staff, testified before a congressional committee on April 2, 1948, that complete desegregation in the armed forces would get us "into trouble."

Stevenson said that Mr. Truman issued his executive order providing for integration in all the services despite Mr. Eisenhower's testimony.

beards nowadays. They're bringing $5,000 per ounce on the current market. The offer is part of a publicity campaign by a firm manufacturing electric shavers.

THE FIRM is hunting men with beards three-months-old or more and is willing to pay handsomely to find them. The bearded specimens will be shaved on nation-wide TV commercials.

Assuming that Joe College shaves away $5,000 every three months, he loses $20,000 a year just to keep that grisly old face of his looking halfway presentable.

SOMEBODY GOOFED at the University of Texas. University professors were puzzled when a's were printed for b's on some class registration IBM cards this semester.

In one class, the professor read the names just as they were misspelled on the cards, and no one answered roll call.

THEM THAR Texans will do just about anything to get a little publicity.

Quotable Quotes

By UNITED PRESS

Hollywood—Attorney Saul Ross on Nora Eddington Haymes' claim that former husband singer Dick Haymes was in arrears on alimony payments: "Haymes says it cost him $100,000 to marry Rita Hayworth. We want to get to him before it costs any more."

Brooklyn—President Eisenhower, congratulating Dodger President Walter O'Malley on Brooklyn's world series victory:

"I wish you would tell Sal (Maglie) that I thought he pitched one hell of a ball game."

Brooklyn—Dodger pitcher Don Newcombe complaining the extra day's rest caused by the world series postponement may hamper his style:

"I like to stay in a steady pitching routine and with an extra day's rest I might lose that pinpoint control."

Washington—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles scolding the Communist leaders' denial of God and their preaching of class hatred:

"... We can be confident that in the long run those materialistic Godless concepts will not prevail."

Washington—Emil Jonsson, acting foreign minister of Iceland, on the problem posed by the presence of American troops in his country:

"Let us make clear the difference between being anti-military, or perhaps rather non-military minded, and our having animosity toward any nation. The Icelanders have no such feeling."

'Prof of Year' Titles To Scholer, Cardwell

Charles H. Scholer and A. B. Cardwell have been selected as "professors of the year" by the K-State faculty.

Each of the men will lecture at a faculty dinner in his honor, and will receive a $100 honorarium provided by the Endowment Association, according to President McCain.

This is the second year of a program in which two faculty members are given recognition for their contributions to society. Last year artist John F. Helm Jr. and agronomist H. H. Laude were honored.

Professor Scholer, who will address a December 12 faculty dinner, is a nationally recognized authority on Portland cement, concrete, and concrete aggregates.

He is a past president of the American Concrete Institute, holds the distinguished service award of the highway research board of the National Research Council, and has been cited by the American Society for Testing Materials. He has been a member of the K-State staff since 1919, and since 1923 has been had of the department of applied mechanics.

Professor Cardwell, formerly head of the department of physics and associate dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, will speak at a February 27 faculty dinner.

He has done special research on photoelectric and thermionic properties of transition metals. During World War II, he was at Oak Ridge, Tenn., working on the atom bomb project.

Bavarians Drink Most Beer; Wisconsin Is In Second Place

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Munich, Germany, Oct. 5—The state of Bavaria today claimed the beer-drinking record of the world.

The breweries association said for the year ending September 30 an average 31½ gallons of beer was drunk for each man, woman and child in the state, more than twice the figure for the rest of Germany. Latest figures available here showed that the U.S. state of Wisconsin is runnerup, with 26 gallons per head.

French, Rebels Clash

Algiers, Oct. 5—French fighter planes strafed Algerian rebels today and paratroopers on the ground slashed at them with bayonets and knives in a hand-to-hand battle.

The battle between French troops and rebel mountain guerrillas south of Oran moved into its fourth day with a known toll of at least 63 persons killed and 35 wounded.

Israeli Revenge Feared

Jerusalem (Israeli sector), Oct. 5—The Middle East feared today Israelis will organize a new punitive expedition to avenge the Arab slaying of five Israeli civilians in an ambush near the Jordan border.

An American engineer escaped death in the attacks.

In recent weeks Israel has retaliated against such alleged Arab attacks with savage military sorties that have taken the lives of at least 48 Jordanians.

And just three days ago Israel withdrew from the United Nations mixed armistice commission which investigates such border incidents, charging that the investigators placed too much of the blame on Israel.

New Atomic Weapons

Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., Oct. 5—The army is developing new atomic weapons that are expected to reduce its dependence on air force fighter planes for battlefield support.

Among them is a relatively light weight 175-mm. cannon which apparently can fire atomic shells. The new cannon is a marked contrast to the cumbersome 280-mm. atomic cannon of which the army was so proud only a few years ago.

Development of the lighter weapon indicates that a nuclear warhead now can be compressed into a shell only about seven inches in diameter, compared with the 280-mm. cannon's 11-inch shell.

The weapons can fire atomic explosives from a few miles to almost 200 miles ahead of troops at the battlefield.

Another 'Bad Seed'

Oakland, Calif., Oct. 5—A slender 12-year-old schoolgirl hacked her aunt to death with an axe and two kitchen knives yesterday rather than explain how she lost her $5 weekly allowance—but she couldn't go through with plans to ambush her uncle.

Police said the girl came to live with her relatives several months ago.

Patricia told authorities she attended classes at junior high school yesterday and went to catechism classes. She then went home, took a short-handle axe and sat on it on the living room couch waiting for her aunt to return from work.

Mrs. Bunce, 55, arrived home from her clerk's job at the Oakland naval supply center and exchanged "hi" greetings with Patricia. She then asked the girl what she did with the $5 weekly allowance her uncle gave her.

A few minutes later the aunt walked into the living room and the girl swung the axe, hitting her on the left side of the head.

"Auntie didn't say a word after the first time I hit her," police quoted the girl as saying. She then sobbed the woman with a butcher knife "until it bent," and then again with a bread knife.

K-Stater Finds Americans Are Thick in Europe

BY NANCY MOLTER

"The thing that most amazed me in Europe was that I saw more American than Europeans. I even ran into one of my girl friends from KU," says Janet Nicholson, EEd Sr.

Janet left the United States on June 9 from New York City, landed in Liverpool, England, and began an eight-week tour of eight European countries.

A group of 14 college students sponsored by Black Hill Teachers' college of South Dakota made the trip.

After five days in London, they visited Holland, Belgium, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, France, and Italy.

"We stayed in London, Paris, and Rome more than any other place," Janet says. "However, I enjoyed our stays in Switzerland and Holland the most because both countries were clean and the food was wonderful."

"While in Zurich, Switzerland, we had a chance to go out with foreign men," she went on. "They have very good manners and treat a girl like a lady and still show her a good time."

Other highlights of the trip included seeing Pope Pius XII in Rome, and interviewing men of the Labor party and the Conservative party in London.

"One of the most impressive scenes I saw was the United States Military cemetery in Belgium," Janet said.

"I'd like to go back to Europe as soon as I can, but I wouldn't want to live there," she says. "Conditions aren't very good. There is no middle class—just the rich and poor."

Young Democrats

Bob McDowell, PsP Jr, was elected president of the K-State Young Democrats this week. Other new officers are Frank Branham, AH Sr, vice-president; John Snyder, PrV Jr, vice-president; Judie Ross, HEJ Sr, secretary; Dick Miller, Ar Soph, treasurer; Tom Bowman, ChE Jr, parliamentarian; Ed McCoy, PrL Jr, campaign manager; and Maurice Baker, BA Soph, sergeant-at-arms.

Plans for a door-to-door campaign in Manhattan to encourage registration for the November election were discussed. The Young Democrats plan for a meeting every Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. in J 15.

Orchesis

Orchesis, modern and creative dance group, has selected 13 new members, according to president Joyce Rust, HEc Jr. Eight senior members are Charlotte Strah, HEA Soph; Kirsten Peterson EEd Soph; Billie Scott, BA Jr; Nancy McVay, EEd Fr; Judy Quinlisk, Sp Fr; Sharon Skupa, Soc Fr; Linnea Brown, AR Soph; and Margaret Hill, Sp Jr.

Five junior members are Beverly Bergeson, SED Jr; Elsie Johnston, BA Jr; Kay Chamness, EEd Soph; Peggy Farrar, HE Jr; and Peggy Collins.

College Social Club

An address by President McCain will highlight the first meeting of the College Social club this school year. The meeting will be Monday at 2:15 p.m. in the main ballroom of the Student Union.

Mrs. James McCain, honorary club president, and Mrs. T. M. Evans, club president, will be in the receiving line. All faculty women and faculty wives have been invited.

Cats Have Chance 'Any Time They Put Air in the Football'

BY ROGER MYERS
Collegian Sports Editor

"You have a chance any time they put air in the football."

Although this is a quote from assistant Wildcat coach Sol Kampf, it might well reflect the views of many K-Staters. The Wildcats play the America's number one team, Oklahoma university, tomorrow at Norman.

Oklahoma will be out for a new record in consecutive wins—they now have 31 straight to match a former Sooner win streak set in 1948, 49, and 50. A win over K-State will also launch OU toward its ninth successive clear title to the Big Seven crown.

"Playing Oklahoma is a wonderful opportunity for both the boys and the coaching staff," Bus Mertes said. "Not many football players get a chance like this and we feel fortunate."

The general feeling on the Wildcat squad is summed up in the words of Ellis Rainsberger, 22-year-old team captain and junior guard: "We appreciate the chance to play a team as great at Oklahoma."

The Wildcats take an injury-riddled crew with an 0-2 season record to Norman tomorrow. The Cats lost, 27-7 to Oklahoma A&M in the season opener, and dropped a lopsided 34-0 decision to Colorado at Boulder Saturday. Meantime, Oklahoma, already rated tops in the nation, clipped North Carolina, 35-0.

Chuck Sprinkle, starting center, is still in the hospital recovering from a shoulder injury suffered at Colorado and Ellis Rainsberger is going at half half speed due to an injury suffered in the Oklahoma A&M game.

Stepping up to Sprinkle's post is Kerry Clifford 195-pound senior who played half-time for the Wildcats last season.

K-State's fighting few was even fewer at the end of this week's work. Fullback Bill Carrington, who started against the Buffaloes last Saturday, pulled a leg muscle Wednesday and will not make the trip.

The Truth About BLUE-WHITE DIAMONDS

Don't be fooled by commonly used terms "Blue-White" and "Perfect" when selecting your diamond! What many jewelers consider a "blue-white" diamond may actually be tinged with yellow.

Only a Registered Jeweler can offer you the assurance and protection of scientific diamond grading. Diamonds vary in value according to four factors:

- (1). COLOR.
- (2). CARAT WEIGHT.
- (3). COMPARATIVE ABSENCE OF IMPERFECTIONS.
- (4). CUTTING.

PERFECT

POOR

National diamond grading examinations for the Registered Jeweler assure you of better diamond values. A Registered Jeweler knows the facts about scientific diamond grading and must observe the American Gem Society's standards which protect his customers from purchasing low grade diamonds.

Dummy Drills Help KU Prep for Buffs

Lawrence (U.P.)—University of Kansas Coach Chuck Mather hoped to bolster the Jayhawks with two players who haven't seen action yet this year in tomorrow's game with the invading Colorado Buffaloes.

He said Wally Strauch, number two passer in the Big Seven last fall and Lynn McCarthy, Kansas' best defensive player a year ago, would probably see action Saturday for the first time.

The Jayhawk's went through dummy drills on offense and defense against the Buff's single wing offense yesterday.

Columbia (U.P.)—Missouri's Tigers yesterday worked on passing, a phase of their attack which hasn't shown much improvement, as they finished preparations for the Southern Methodist Mustangs' invasion tomorrow.

Two of the Tigers' main passers, quarterbacks Dave Doane and Jim Hunter, who have accounted for all but 11 of Missouri's 105 yards gained through the air so far this season, practiced long passes.

Methodist Sorority Honored as 'Tops'

A silver candlestick honoring K-State's chapter of Kappa Phi as one of the top two chapters in the country was presented to the group at a recent meeting.

Chapters of the honorary Methodist sorority were judged on maintenance, programs, membership, and financial status.

Main project of the 114 local members was providing money for public address systems in tuberculosis hospitals at Taejon, Korea.

The gift was given through the Union Christian Mission in Taejon, where Mr. and Mrs. Dean Schoewengerdt, former K-Staters, are Methodist missionaries.

Christian, Atheist Conflict Is Westminster Play Theme

Conflict between Christian and atheistic education is the theme of the play "Tomorrow for the Taking," which will be presented Tuesday in the College Auditorium by Westminster Fellowship.

God and science, God alone, and science alone are the outlooks on education presented in the play by three professors. A vocal chorus of 16 students will be included.

Both students and faculty will act in the play, which is being presented in connection with a meeting of the Kansas Synod and Synodical of the Presbyterian church. The cast has been practicing for weeks, according to Howard Rice, publicity chairman.

"Tomorrow for the Taking" is directed by Earl Hoover, professor of speech and director of College plays.

Soph; Barbara McKinnis, BMT Soph.

Lynn Martin, EEd Fr; Jane Seitz, Eng Jr; Anne Pederson, PrM Soph; Howard Rice, PrL Soph; and Bob Thurdin, EE Fr.

Faculty members in the cast are Howard Hill, professor of speech; J. Arthur Hobbs, professor of agronomy; and A. Thornton Edwards, director of housing.

Dance Set for Tonight; Football Party Saturday

Carl Johnson's band from Topeka, plus student talent at intermission, will highlight a dance tonight in the main ballroom of the Student Union.

The 10-piece aggregation will play for couples only from 9 to 12 p.m. Providing entertainment during the intermission will be a pantomimist and two vocalists.

Silhouette and shadow lighting will lend atmosphere for the casual-dress affair. Tickets now are on sale at the Union information desk, according to Mike Dole, publicity chairman of the Union Dance committee.

A football listening party, the second in the series being sponsored by the Union Hospitality committee, will begin tomorrow at 1:45 p.m. in the main lounge of the Union.

Coffee and doughnuts will be sold and the scores of all college football games will be posted, according to Karen Skiver, chairman.

Four of Somerset Maugham's best short stories—"The Colonel's Lady," "The Kite," "The Alien Corn," and "Facts of Life"—composes a quartet of movies to be presented tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday night by the Union Movie committee. Starting time is 7:30 p.m. in the little theater.

'Job-Hunting' Seminar Planned for Next Week

Seniors and graduate students interested in job placement have been invited to a "job-hunting" seminar at 4 p.m. next Wednesday in Willard 115.

Director of Placement Chester Peters will discuss interviewing procedures, letters of application, and development of a job-seeking campaign. Placement files for prospective graduates also will be explained, he says.

New Union Art Exhibit Planned

A one-man art exhibit featuring the work of Oscar Larimer, a new member of the architecture and allied arts staff, will begin in the Student Union art gallery next week.

Coffee and cookies will be served at a tea Sunday from 4 to 5 p.m. in the gallery for persons interested in seeing the exhibit and meeting the artist.

80 Apply for New Sorority

About 80 coeds had registered to participate in a Gamma Phi Beta rush period as of Thursday afternoon, according to Dean of Women Helen Moore.

Applications to participate in the new social sorority's rush program will be accepted in Anderson 111 until tomorrow noon. All independent women are eligible to sign before that time.

The rush program will begin a week from Sunday with a tea for all women who have applied. The applicants will be interviewed during the following week. During those interviews, the coeds will have a chance to learn more about Gamma Phi Beta.

Pledging will take place Sunday, October 21, and the new members will be initiated in February.

Shortly after initiation, the colony will be installed as a chapter by national officers of the sorority. The new chapter will be known as Beta Upsilon of Gamma Phi Beta.

Three Election Positions Still Are Available

Three positions on the Student Governing Association elections committee still are open, according to Neil Scott, Zoo Jr, committee chairman. The deadline for applying is 5 p.m. today.

The School of Veterinary Medicine, the School of Home Economics, and the Graduate School have positions open. Application blanks are available in the dean of students' office.

The election committee's duties include setting campus election dates, validating candidates' petitions, and counting election ballots.

Those already appointed to the committee are Calvin Adams, Psy Jr, School of Arts and Sciences; Robert Lawrence, MT Jr, School of Agriculture; and Gerald Winkelman, CE Jr, School of Engineering.

Check Your Stamina!

Los Angeles—(U.P.)—Sen. Estes Kefauver was asked yesterday what he thought of the idea of inviting Russian observers to see how he conducted his Democrat vice presidential campaign.

"I think it is a good idea," he said. "If they want to have someone with our group we'll be glad to have them—if they can keep up with the schedule."

MARKING ON THE CURVE... AND WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT

Twokey Crimscott was a professor. Choate Sigafos was a sophomore. Twokey Crimscott was keen, cold, brilliant. Choate Sigafos was loose, vague, adenoidal. Twokey Crimscott believed in diligence, discipline, and marking on the curve. Choate Sigafos believed in elves, Jayne Mansfield, and thirteen hours sleep each night.

Yet there came a time when Twokey Crimscott—mentor, sage, and savant—was thoroughly out-thought, out-foxed, out-maneuvered, out-played, and out-witted by Choate Sigafos, sophomore.

It happened one day when Choate was at the library studying for one of Mr. Crimscott's exams in sociology. Mr. Crimscott's exams were murder—plain, flat murder. They consisted of one hundred questions, each question having four possible answers—A, B, C, and D. The trouble was that the four choices were so subtly shaded, so intricately worded, that students more clever by far than Choate Sigafos were often set to gibbering.

So on this day Choate sat in the library poring over his sociology text, his tiny brow furrowed with concentration, while all around him sat the other members of the sociology class, every one studying like crazy. "What a waste!" he thought. "All this youth, this verve, this bounce, chained to musty books in a musty library! We should be out singing and dancing and smooching and cutting didoes on the greensward!"

Then, suddenly, an absolute gasser of an idea hit Choate. "Listen!" he shouted to his classmates. "Tomorrow when we take the exam, let's all—every one of us—check Choice 'A' on every question—every one of them."

"Huh?" said his classmates.

"Mr. Crimscott marks on the curve. If we all check the same answers, then we all get the same score, and everybody in the class gets a 'C'."

"Hmm," said his classmates.

"Let's get out of here and have a ball!" said Choate.

So they all ran out and lit Philip Morris and had a ball, as, indeed, you will too when you light a Philip Morris, for if there ever was a cigarette to lift the spirit and gladden the heart, it is today's new Philip Morris—firm and pure and fragrant and filled with true, natural, golden tobacco, lip end to tip end.

...We should be out singing and dancing and smooching!

Well sir, the next morning the whole class did what Choate said and, sure enough, they all got 'C's,' and they picked Choate up and carried him on their shoulders and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and plied him with sweetmeats and Philip Morris and girls and put on buttons which said "I DOTE ON CHOATE."

But they were celebrating too soon. Because the next time shrewd old Mr. Crimscott gave them a test, he gave them only one question—to wit: write a 30,000 word essay on "Crime Does Not Pay."

"You and your ideas," they said to Choate and tore off his epaulets and broke his sword and drummed him out of the school. Today, a broken man, he earns a meager living as a camshaft in Toledo.

RP Wins 21st All-American

SAM LOGAN, (left) editor, and C. J. Medlin, graduate manager of Student Publications, Inc., looked over the 1956 All-American Royal Purple as students waited to receive their copy last April.

Such Is Life!

Opening for Jardine Terrace Rescheduled to January First

Completion date for the first 96 married student apartments, Jardine Terrace, is now January 1, 1957, according to A. Thornton Edwards, director of housing, and R. F. Gingrich, physical plant director.

Jardine Terrace will include a total of 192 apartments, and the remaining 96 should be completed by next February. There are now 98 names on the list for the first group of apartments, and 108 waiting for the remaining units.

The apartments are being constructed of red brick veneer with white exterior trim. They will be located in eight 2-story buildings with eight 2-bedroom and 16 single bedroom apartments in each unit. Construction site is adjacent to the Linn trailer court, three blocks northwest of the campus. Gingrich estimated the cost of each apartment at $8,400, totaling $1,613,000.

All apartments will be completely furnished, and rental will include utilities. Rooms include an 18' x 22'-2" living room with dining area, a 5½' x 8' kitchen, and the bedrooms are 11' x 12'.

The living rooms will be furnished with a divan, a desk, a student desk, two lounge chairs, and a coffee table.

The kitchens will include an eight cubic foot General Electric refrigerator, a Dixie gas stove, Geneva white enamel steel cabinets, and a stainless steel sink.

Thomas B. Shackelford, K-State landscape architect, is landscaping the Jardine Terrace area.

Larsen Hurls No Hitter As Yanks Top Bums 2-0

New York, (U.P.)—Big Don Larsen pitched the first perfect game. He did not allow a single Brooklyn batter to reach base as he shut out the Dodgers 2-0 to give the New York Yankees a three game to two lead in the 1956 classic.

Larsen threw only 97 pitches as he turned back 27 Dodgers in a row, 7 of them on strikeouts as he made a fourth inning home run by Mickey Mantle and another Yankee run scored in the sixth stand up to put the Yankees ahead in the series for the first time.

So perfect was Larsen's hurling that he threw three balls to only one batter—Pee Wee Reese in the first inning. Then with a three-two count he slipped a third called strike by the Dodger shortstop.

Once again the Royal Purple is at the top keeping unbroken the longest consecutive string of all-American yearbooks in the nation.

Prof. C. J. Medlin, graduate manager of Student Publications, Inc., announced today that the 1956 Royal Purple was named the 21st straight all-American yearbook at K-State.

The yearbook is rated each year by the Associated Collegiate Press. It was one of four that rated all-American out of 17 entries in K-State's enrollment class. The ACP commended the Royal Purple for being "a fine publication—very readable and shows great care in planning and execution."

"I was real glad to see the book get an all-American rating. It gets tougher every year," Sam Logan, '56, editor of the book said when contacted in Dallas, Texas. "The staff did a great job and I especially wish to thank Lee Ruggles, Gaye Fryer, and Peggy Howard who did a tremendous job."

The yearbook received ratings of excellent on its basic plan, organization, division pages, folios, index, cover, end sheets, content, layouts, pictorial coverage, editorial content, typography, and treatment.

"One of the main reasons the book continually wins an all-American rating is C. J. Medlin. He's the guy that gives the editor added incentive when deadlines come around," Logan said.

The Royal Purple began winning all-American awards with Medlin's arrival on the campus in 1934. He has had 36 years of experience in yearbook editing and management and is considered the nation's leading yearbook authority.

KSC to KSU

Council To Discuss K-State University

A proposal to appoint a committee to study the possibility of changing the name Kansas State college to Kansas State university will be put before the Student Council tonight.

The Council will hold its regular weekly session at 7:30 p.m., in the Student Union.

Two amendments to the Student Governing association constitution would place $5 fines on organizations that leave advertising posters on campus more than 48 hours after the advertised event takes place and organizations who violate social regulations.

The second amendment would change number 3c under "Other Rules and Regulations Concerning Student Activities and Organizations," to read:

"The exceptions to the above will be as follows: The Student Activities board will review the Panhellenic approved places and decide which places other than those above will be approved for the coming year."

INTO THE BUCKET GOES THE MILK, as Queen Connie Morgan, milks a cow.

Connie Morgan Is Ag School Queen

Connie Morgan was crowned Ag School queen Saturday night at the Ag Barnwarmer. Connie, HEc Fr, from Goodland, is not the first queen in the family as her mother, Isabel Porter, was the Barnwarmer queen in 1931.

When asked how she felt about being chosen as the Ag School queen, Connie answered, "I don't know, I never thought it would happen. I really thought it was an honor, even though the suspense was killing as they read off those four names."

The attendants were: Lee Lutz, EEd Fr, Northwest; Pat Vopat, HE Fr, Northwest; Carol Miller, EEd Sr, Pi Beta Phi, and Karen Hampton, So Soph, Waltheim hall.

The queen will receive a complimentary ticket to all department or co-educational banquets in the Ag School.

Connie was born and raised on the farm. She was a member of the 4-H Livestock Judging team participating in the state meet two years ago. She was also Homecoming queen of Goodland high school last year.

About 800 K-State students watched the queen finalists do their farm duties Friday evening. The chores were: driving a tractor, unloading hay, milking a cow, catching chickens, riding, and saddling a horse.

When asked what she thought of Ag Week, Connie said, "It gives the aggies a chance to tell who they are and what they stand for. That chore day is quite an experience, especially for a girl when she knows that all the aggies know how it should be done and are there to watch."

QUEEN CONNIE, Connie Morgan wears her crown as Ag Barnwarmer queen.

OU Football Team, RP Stretch Winning Streaks

THE TWO winningest combinations in the Big Seven today seem to be Oklahoma's football team and K-State's Royal Purple.

Oklahoma practiced on the Wildcat's to the tune of 66-0 Saturday to set a new record for consecutive football victories by a college team at 32 and the Royal Purple won it's 21st all-American yearbook award.

THOUGH the Cat's lost by a tremendous score to the Big Red, two things stood out. First, we held OU's fifth team scoreless and second, we never gave up.

Of the two, the latter is of course the most important. If the Cat's can recover from the humiliation and still retain the fight they showed against OU, then other Big Seven teams better watch out.

NO MATTER if we lose all of our games, we still have a distinction not many other teams can claim. Who else can say they play the two top-rated teams in the nation in Oklahoma and Michigan State?

The 21st all-American award to the Royal Purple certainly wipes away some of the taste of the OU defeat for the College. That this fine yearbook has continued its winning ways points up the excellent management and student talent at K-State.

PROF. C. J. MEDLIN has continually guided the yearbook to high honors ever since he came to the College. Indeed, his name has become synonymous with fine yearbook managing and editing throughout the nation.

We look forward to many more all-American ratings for the Royal Purple.

OUR HATS are off to the aggies for following through on their promise to give the traditional horsetank secondary significance during the Ag week festivities.

According to our information only about 20 errant aggies got doused, making this the driest Ag week in years. Even the vet students called off the traditional war in favor of education. And not even a single journalist got dunked.

THE AGGIES did a tremendous job with their educational displays in Waters hall. Especially noteworthy was the poultry club display of live chicks in various stages of development. We thought the agronomy display of grasslands was encouraging during this drouth. We sure were glad to see that somebody can grow grass.

Seriously though, this year was one of the best organized and most educational Ag weeks ever held on campus. With this year as a foundation, the students can look forward to more and better Ag weeks in future years if the aggies stick with the current formula.

CONGRATULATIONS!

The Associated Press carried a story last week from Stillwater, Okla., about a student who is spending a lot of time in the A&M library working out a $160 fine because he failed to return several books on time.

THIS SEEMS an excellent way to get the fine paid but the poor student who had to do that here would have to spend 246 hours or 30 eight-hour days working in the library at the going rate of 65 cents an hour.

We sure hope the campus industry investigating committee set up recently by the Student Council can come up with some hot ideas for starting an industry in Manhattan.—George Vohs.

Chin Says

'Average Citizens Determine Friendship Between Nations'

By BOB PATTERSON

"PERHAPS the outstanding thing in determining friendship between two countries is the citizens themselves," according to Hsiang-Hsin Chin, EE Soph.

Chin has lived in three countries that have had strong friendships, so he speaks from experience. He lived in China before and after the

Hsiang-Hsin Chin

Communists took over the mainland and in 1950 emigrated to Brazil. After spending 5 years in Brazil Chin came to the United States to start his college education.

"THE FRIENDSHIP that existed between America and China before Communism became the controlling force is still thought of by many Chinese as the best in the world," Chin said.

"China and Brazil formed their friendship thru Chinese immigration to Brazil. Most of the immigrants have been workers seeking jobs in expanding Brazilian industry."

Chin pointed out the inter-relationship between China, Brazil, and America when he said, "Trade between Brazil and the U.S. has brought about a fine friendship between the two countries."

ALTHOUGH Brazil has extensive production of coffee and rubber, the Brazilian government is trying to promote more industries so the country can take a larger share of world trade and have more imports to use in continuing industrial expansion.

Chin is originally from Peiking. When the Chinese immigration movement to Brazil began he went there. He was in Brazil from 1950 to 1955 before coming to the U.S. for his education.

The United States, China and Brazil are quite different from each other mostly in area and population he said.

"BRAZIL has most of its population on the east coast, China doesn't have room for all its people, while the U.S. has room for its entire population," he said.

While in Brazil, Chin worked for an electric company and also sold Chinese products. He came to America for his college work because Brazilian universities wouldn't recognize the high school education he had obtained in China. Chin termed K-State a logical choice from which to get his electrical engineering degree.

Ike, HST In Pitt Hotel

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Pittsburgh, Oct. 8—President Eisenhower and former President Truman will stay in the same hotel here tomorrow when their campaign paths cross.

The manager of the hostelry, Charles Carey, admits he gets a medium case of screaming-meemies when he thinks of what might happen should the political opponents have a face-to-face encounter in the multi-level lobby of the Penn-Sheraton.

Mr. Eisenhower was scheduled to arrive at the hotel about 5 p.m., preparatory to making a major speech that night at Hunt armory.

Mr. Truman, who is stumping for Democratic presidential aspirant Adlai Stevenson, will check in tonight. He is due back from a speaking job about the time Mr. Eisenhower, the Republican candidate, will be checking out tomorrow night.

The odds are against the chance of Mr. Ike and Mr. Truman being in the hotel at the same time," Carey said a little wistfully.

Then with knitted brows, he added: "Wouldn't that be something if they met face to face in the hotel?"

Quotes from the News

Washington—Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, on the need for Salk polio vaccinations:

"It's good insurance for anybody of any age. There is no danger involved and shots cost so little they are cheap insurance against this serious disease."

Chicago—Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, saying all-out government farm price-fixing would result in "socialized agriculture:"

"If we choose the price-fixing route to prosperity, we will end up with a socialized agriculture."

New York—Former president Truman applauding Adlai Stevenson's campaign: "The Democrats are winning. We've got those birds (Republicans) scared to death."

Washington—Rep. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) proclaiming the United States still leads in atom race:

"We will continue to maintain that leadership if the atom remains free and is not put in the straight-jacket of government ownership and operation."

JACK KEELAN throws himself at an Oklahoma Sooner ball carrier in an effort to push him out of bounds. It was one of the few successful efforts the Wildcats made because the next step this Sooner takes will be off the playing field.

Thank Goodness It's Over; Look Out Cornhuskers

Its encounter with the nation's number one college football team thankfully a thing of the past, K-State's football varsity today returned to preparation for competition among the rest of the Big Seven.

With Oklahoma in a class by itself—66-0 over the Wildcats at Norman Saturday—for a new modern-day record of 32 consecutive victories—K-State now eyes Nebraska and a possible win to go with this fall's three defeats.

A victory at Lincoln next Saturday not only would rank as a pleasant change but could boost the Cats out of the Big Seven cellar, where they currently are enconced with an 0-2 conference mark, to 0-1 for KU and Iowa State. Colorado leads with two conference wins, while Oklahoma and Nebraska have each won their only Big Seven games to date.

Oklahoma, using all 57 players suited up, indicated Saturday that this fall will be a virtual repeat of last year for the Sooners, heading for their second successive unbeaten season, and their Big Seven opponents, facing the prospect of a ninth consecutive championship for Bud Wilkinson's workmen. With five full elevens on hand, the Sooners scored with the first four.

The first unit, seeing comparatively slight action, scored four touchdowns; the second, third and fourth got two apiece. K-State's first unit once moved 71 yards in the second quarter before the Sooner starters returned to halt the drive after it had reached the Oklahoma 16-yard line.

In order, here is how the Sooners brought the Cats to grief and reverse fame as record victims: Halfback Clendon Thomas bolted off tackle for 16 yards; Thomas reversed right end for 8 yards; Thomas went around left end for 16 yards; halfback Dave Baker ran a punt 57 yards; halfback Bob Derrick banged 3 yards; fullback Billy Pricer bucked for 2 yards; halfback Carl Dodd took a lateral from Baker for 33 yards; halfback John Pellow wriggled off for 6 yards; Jackie Sandefer, carrying the ball for the first time in college, slammed 5 yards, and halfback Ernie Day plunged for 3 yards. All were touchdowns.

Pricer kicked three of the extra points, and Dodd, Bill Brown and Dale Sherrod booted one each.

For the benefit of figure filberts, Oklahoma had 20 first downs, K-State 5; Oklahoma gained 479 yards rushing and 18 passing to K-State's 172 and 19; Oklahoma completed 1 of 6 passes, K-State 2 of 12; Oklahoma intercepted 3 passes, K-State none; Oklahoma punted 4 times for a 36.5-yard average, K-State a dozen times for a 27.6 average; each team lost 2 fumbles, and the Sooners were penalized 83 yards to 85 for K-State.

Scoring Skeins Spread In Friday IM Grid Play

Friday intramural football action produced a wide spread of scores ranging from a 52-0 drubbing by Beta Sigma Psi over Alpha Epsilon Pi, to a 7-6 Pi Kappa Alpha win over Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Delta Tau Delta rallied in an overtime to beat the 1834 Club 24-18 after the game had ended in a 12-12 tie.

Other Friday night fraternity division scores were: Sigma Chi over Aacacia, 46-6; Sigma Alpha Epsilon over Phi Kappa Tau, 41-2; Theta Xi over Lambda Chi Alpha, 25-18, Alpha Gamma Rho over Farm House, 12-6; and Alpha Tau Omega over Alpha Kappa Lambda, 15-0.

The game between Kappa Sigma and Delta Sigma Phi was postponed.

In the only game in the independent division the Brewster Boys beat Signa Phi Nothing, 25-0.

Today at 4:15: House of Williams vs Hui O Makules, NW; Jr. AVMA vs YMCA, NE; Jones Boys vs House of Brec, NE; Hillbillies vs West Stadium, Campus-SE, and Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Phi Kappa, Campus-E.

At 5:15: Exbroncos vs OK House, NW; Aces vs Rho Alpha, NC; Squeeges vs. Wesley Foundation, NE; Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Nu, Campus-SE, and Acacia vs Beta Sigma Psi, Campus-E.

Dean Alexander Wins Pigskin Poll

Dean Alexander, Ag Soph, won the Collegian's third football prediction contest this fall by predicting a 63-0 Oklahoma win over the Wildcats.

Alexander was closer on the score than any other entrant and pegged K-State's first downs exactly right at five. Final score in the game was 66-0, OU.

A record number, 65, entered the contest. All entries favored nationally first ranked Oklahoma to take the game.

Stan Harris, VM Fr, Gary Gruendel, IE Soph, Dick Mondy, BA Soph, and Julius Swearingen, ME Jr, gave Alexander his closest competition.

Alexander missed the Cat passing yardage by one yard. He predicted 18 yards through the air; the Cat team accounted for 19.

Yanks Win; Series Tied

The New York Yankees swarmed all over Brooklyn's Bums Sunday, clubbed them 6-2, and tied up the World Series at two games apiece.

Mickey Mantle hit one out of sight in darkest center field, Hank Bauer smashed one into the left field seats, and for the second straight day Casey Stengel got first rate pitching.

Sturdivant held Brooklyn to six hits, bore down so hard in the clutch that eight Brooks perished on bases, and was troubled only in the ninth when the Bums came alive on Jackie Robinson's double, two walks, and a Texas leaguer that scored one run.

Parents' Day October 20

Marilyn St John's Parents, Honorary K-State Mom, Dad

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. St. John of Wichita, parents of Marilyn St. John, Psy Jr, have been selected by drawing as honorary K-State parents, according to

MRS. ST. JOHN
Honorary K-State mom.

MR. ST. JOHN
Honorary K-State dad.

George Peters, chairman of the student council parent's day committee.

Mr. and Mrs. St. John will sit in President McCain's box during the Missouri-K-State football game October 20, and they will be introduced at half-time.

Marilyn notified her parents after the drawing September 28 while they were vacationing in Minnesota. "They were very pleased, and it came as quite a surprise to them as I hadn't told them they were registered," she said.

Mr. St. John is a mechanical engineer and superintendent of production of the Kansas Gas Electric company in Wichita.

The Parents' day committee is also sponsoring a decoration contest October 20 for displays honoring parents. Trophies will be awarded at half-time to the best decorations displayed by men's and women's organized house. Miss Marjorie Adams, assistant professor of English, and Ralph R. Lashbrook, journalism department head, will be decoration judges.

UGB Will Host Regional Confab

The Union Governing board will host the Region Eight conference of Student Union representatives in the Student Union on December 7 and 8.

Representatives will be on hand from a majority of schools in Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Oklahoma, and Kansas, Gary Rumsey, AEd Jr, chairman of the Union program council, told Union Governing board members last night.

Rumsey also reported that the first night club dance went over very well and the Union programs are progressing rapidly.

The auxiliary enterprises committee of the Board is studying plans to honor the Board of Regents by naming a building or room on the campus after them.

A committee will be established at the next meeting of the Board to study the problems of a book store in the Student Union.

Rhodes Awards Available Now For KS Juniors

Students who wish to apply for Rhodes scholarships for 1957-58 may secure application forms in Dean Harold Howe's office in Fairchild hall.

Scholarships are available only to unmarried male students between the ages of 19 and 25 who have been U. S. citizens for at least five years, dean Howe said. Applicants must have junior-standing.

Mortar Board Plans Beautification Project

Mortar Board, senior girls' honorary, is working with the K-State landscape architect, Thomas B. Shackelford, to encourage students to keep off the campus grass, according to Anita Grimm, Mortar Board chairman of the campus beautification committee. Suggestions for eliminating campus cowpaths have been sent to all organized houses.

Mortar Board's next beautification project is to lay a flagstone walk between the greenhouses and classrooms barracks in November. They will also sponsor the sale of homecoming mums.

Karla Bower, a Mortar Board member who transferred from Iowa State this fall, has been received into the K-State chapter.

SC Rejected KSU Change Last Night

The Student Council last night defeated by a 9-6 vote a motion to appoint a committee to study the possibility of changing K-State's title to KSU.

The action, which came immediately after a talk by President McCain in which he detailed his opposition to the proposed change, removes the issue from the Council's present agenda.

"We are technically a university," McCain said, "but wouldn't we lose our identity as a land-grant college if we became a second state university?"

"I think the most important schools in the U.S. are land-grant colleges," he continued, "and I think that in exchange for the prestige we would acquire by becoming a university, we would lose our identity as a land-grant college, which carries its own prestige."

"Also, I believe we would run into a tremendous amount of opposition from Kansas university; however I think if we decided we were all in favor of it, we could get it done."

"It seems our legislative appropriations from the state are always substantially higher when we are cooperating closely with KU. So it seems to me we stand to gain by working together with KU."

"Therefore it seems to me we would pay a dear price for the title change, and then too, I doubt if our students realize the prestige a land-grant college has here and abroad," McCain said, "and I think the title 'Kansas State college' best conveys the idea that we are a land-grant college."

The Council, meeting at McCain's house, also appointed four committees last night.

Named to the student drives committees were Pat Loyd, BA Soph; Roger Day, PrV Soph; Judy Ebert, EEd Fr; Ann Detert, Eng Fr; Connie Merrit, EEd Fr; Dee Oberg, Eng Soph; and Phyllis Walker, BA Sr.

Appointment to the artist series committee were Pat Craven, MGS Jr, and Jeanine Williamson, MEI Jr.

Assembly and forum committee appointees were Louann Oberhelman, Sp Jr, and Kay Burke, HE Fr.

Appointed to the residence halls committee were Winifred Fields, SED Fr, and Jane Chalmers, EEd Fr.

Student body President Pat Wilkerson announced that the College had informed him that the next shipment of desks the College obtains will include left-handed desks.

The Council and McCain agreed that there are no Saturday classes when KS play both KU and Nebraska away from home, "There will definitely be no classes this Saturday," McCain said.

Jerry Holliday announced that four persons had been chosen to work with the Council's campus industrial investigating committee. The appointees are Sharon Diamond, Soc Sr; Warren Keegan, ME Jr; Dwight Nesmith, assistant professor; and Bruce Brukholder, ArE Jr.

Connie Morgan's Mother Was Aggie Queen in 1931

By ED KOCHER

Connie Morgan, 1956 Ag School queen, was just following in her mother's footsteps when she was crowned queen Saturday night.

Her mother, the former Isabel Porter, was chosen Ag School queen in the fall of 1931.

When asked what she thought of her daughter's being chosen Ag School queen, Mrs. Morgan said, "I am thrilled about it. I didn't think she had a chance since she is just a freshman."

Mrs. Morgan was also an honorary cadet at the military ball, and a sophomore class officer in 1931.

That year the aggies had the horse tank but freshmen who didn't wear the required overalls were victims of most of the dunking. There were also regular wars with the veterinary students who were always trying to capture the queen candidates, Mrs. Morgan said.

In 1931 the engineers were more of a menace. They tried to break into the Barnwarmer which was held only for the aggies that year.

Mrs. Morgan said then only aggies were allowed to vote for the queen.

The Ag Week activities were not as numerous in 1931 as they are now. There wasn't any chore day then or any department displays.

CONNIE MORGAN'S MOTHER, then Isabel Porter, as she reigned at the 1931 Ag Barnwarmer.

E-State Paper Advocates Tax on Gas-Oil Industry

BOTH Republican gubernatorial candidate Warren Shaw and Democrat candidate George Docking have visited the K-State campus. But we're still wondering what each of them stands for.

Up to now we've had a lot of agreement between President McCain and the candidates as to what should be done for the state of Kansas and for Kansas State college. There's been nothing definite stated as to what will be done, but we are surely glad that there is agreement as to what should be done.

ANOTHER state college paper has been wondering the same things we are wondering.

Printed herewith is an editorial from the Emporia State Teachers college Bulletin.

GOVERNORS and prospective governors have talked before about "plugging loopholes" and giving the state more economical administration, but the cost of government has followed the inflationary spiral upward. No financial wizardry is needed for the ordinary citizen to know that Kansas, faced by declining revenue from drought-ridden farms, must turn elsewhere for the funds needed to meet existing obligations.

Both candidates, while acknowledging certain inequities, admit that property is carrying all the burden that it can, and Uncle Sam has pre-empted the income tax to such an extent that it would be political suicide for any administration to try to raise state income taxes.

THERE is still one source virtually untapped. It is the state's gas and oil, the natural wealth which belongs to all of the people.

For millions of years, dead plant and animal life was compressed by the sediments of the centuries into layers of sedimentary rock at the bottom of the vast inland sea that once covered Kansas. Bacterial action on this decayed life aided by heat and pressure, produced tiny bubbles of oil and gas. Pressure forced these through porous sandstone and limestone until they were sealed off in pools by layers of less porous rock.

THERE ARE apologists for the oil industry who would suggest that these bacteria were the paid agents of big oil interests. No industry enjoys as much consideration at tax-paying time. Recognition of the fact that these pools of oil are not endless is written into the tax laws, which permits a depletion allowance of close to 30 per cent. True, the oil companies pay property taxes, but they differ from other taxpayers in that the value of their holdings must decline as the wealth of centuries is depleted in a relatively few years, whereas homeowners, businesses and industries are continually adding to the value of their property.

THE MAJORITY of oil and gas states have found that a severance tax is just, equitable, and non-regressive. It is simple recognition of the fact on which the depletion allowance is based—that our natural resources are not inexhaustible, and that those who exploit them must pay the people for the privilege.

Much was said about a permanent legislative investigating committee during the campaign. College voters and future voters want to know if both candidates still favor such a committee. If so, would they favor an inquiry into conflict of interest among legislators who accept retainers from oil companies, yet continue to sit in judgment on legislation affecting the oil industry? How many of these legislators actually do any work for their fee—outside the legislature?

PERHAPS there is not a single lawmaker in Topeka who has accepted a retainer from a single oil company, but charges were made by what we hope are responsible people, and they deserve responsible answers.

Taxpayers will not hold still for any increase in the unjust, inequitable sales tax—a regressive tax in that it places the burden on those least able to pay, and on the necessities of life, such as food, clothing, medicine—even on school supplies.

SOMEDAY the gas and oil will be gone, and the companies will be gone with them. No longer will they find it helpful to put out a few piddling scholarships to keep the educators happy, and reams of publicity on the wickedness of additional taxes. What will Kansas have then?

The wreckage of its school systems, the ruin of its roadways, the decay of its mental and penal institutions will haunt us forever if we do not take action now to profit from our own natural resources.

If You Want to Play Politics, Be Wise—Propagandize

Wise and Otherwise

By Darrel Miller

WHILE BROWSING innocently through a textbook the other day I inadvertently came across something that made a lot of sense to me. Embarrassing though it is, I must admit that I remembered it.

This particular passage pertained to that vague, evanescent existence that you've heard described as Life. More specifically, this passage dealt with that part of Life called Politics.

THE PASSAGE was entitled "The Common Devices of Propaganda," and was so enlightening that I'm passing it along. I particularly dedicate it to would-be politicians, for whom it will make a fine plan of action.

The devices are:

- 1) Name calling—appeal to hate and fear; call your opponent a Communist or an economic royalist; don't bother about evidence.
- 2) Glittering generalities—identify yourself with virtues such as truth, freedom, motherhood, right to work, and virtue.

3) Transfer—carry over to yourself the prestige of some respected thing or person, such as Al Capp.

4) Testimonial—get someone else to admit how good you are.

5) Plain folks—kiss babies, milk cows and pitch hay.

6) Card stacking—(here you really can go to town) lie, censor, distort; raise new issues to cloud embarrassing truths; omit facts; offer false testimony.

7) Band wagon—convince the voters that everyone is for you, and that they should join the winner.

You, as a candidate, must use these seven handy ways of appealing to voters' emotions. Why appeal to the voters' intelligence, when they have so much more motion?

BUT keep in mind that your opponent also will know these devices. YOU must keep ahead of him.

Promise that you'll cut taxes and build better roads and schools; promise to cut the budget and increase state services.

Denounce kidnapers of babies, the lack of rainfall, and the man-eating shark. Ask the federal government for more funds, and promise to protect states' rights.

Last, but not least, own all of the ballot boxes.

WHILE the Wayward Winds of the political arena froth and foam, my student friend O'Pulaski remains calm. His needs are few and he asks little of his government.

He would be satisfied with a good Right to Shirk Law.

Bavarians Boast Biggest of Binges

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Munich, Germany, Oct. 9—This year's "Oktoberfest," the annual Bavarian beer binge, broke all kinds of records, officials said today.

More than 6 million persons attended the two-week celebration, which ended yesterday, and drank nearly 1 million gallons of beer and ate 230,000 chickens. They stole 20,000 beer mugs and lost 150 children, including one 14 days old. There were 50 major brawls and more than 300 persons were taken into temporary custody for fighting.

U.S. Plans Loan For Burma Soon

Rangoon, Burma, Oct. 9—Negotiations for a $25 million American loan to Burma have reached the final stage and an agreement will soon be signed, it was reported today.

Negotiations for the loan, long advocated by U.S. officials worried over the expansion of Communist economic interest in Burma, began in May. Sources said a new agreement calls for an interest rate of 4.6 per cent, with the $25 million repayable in 40 years.

Spouse Breaks Up Larsen's No-Hitter

New York, (U.P.)—Don Larsen may not be paid for his world series perfect game for some time if his wife is successful in having his series share attached by the courts.

While the 27-year-old star pitcher was achieving baseball immortality at Yankee stadium yesterday, it was disclosed at nearby Bronx supreme court that Vivian Larsen, his estranged wife, had filed a court complaint for non-support of her and their one-year-old daughter.

Justice Sam H. Hofstadter issued a court order requiring the Yankees and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to show in court next Monday why Larsen's series shares—which could run between $6,000 and $10,000—should not be withheld.

Mrs. Larsen claimed in her complaint that the big pitcher deserted her and their daughter, Carolyn Jean Larsen, and that the Bronx supreme court ordered Larsen on July 16 of this year to pay her $60 a week in support money. She said Larsen was $420 behind in his payments.

Intramural Football Scores are Spread

Play in intramural football last night provided a big spread in the scoring. The closest game was an overtime decision of 1-0 with the Hillbillies gaining the victory over the West Stadium. The widest margin was turned by the Jones Boys 31-0 win over the House of Breck.

In the fraternity division Sigma Nu defeated Phi Delta Theta 18-6. Bob Allen and Don Jaaz, scoring touchdowns for the winners. Sigma Phi Epsilon won over Phi Kappa 31-6. Grubb, Sturgeon and Kerbs each made two touchdowns for the Sig Eps. Beta Sigma Psi ran up a score of 32-12 in beating Acacia.

In other independent games Jr. AVMA scored a 20-2 win over the YMCA. Making touchdowns for the winners were Wayne Randall, Ralph Grossdidier, and Harry Hopson. Larry Cave and Fred Topliker each scored a touchdown for the Aces in leading them in a 13-9 victory over the Rho Alphas. Other independent scores were House of Williams over Hui O Makules 20-6.

The EX-Broncos and Squeegs forfeited to the OK House and Wesley Foundation respectively rounding out the schedule.

Only five games are scheduled for today with all games starting at 5:15: Alpha Epsilon Pi vs Sigma Alpha Epsilon, NW; Sigma Chi vs Phi Kappa Tau, NC; Tau Kappa Epsilon vs Delta Tau Delta, NE; 1834-Club vs Lambda Chi Alpha, Campus-SE; Pi Kappa Alpha vs Theta Xi, Campus-E.

Few Injuries at Practice

Its football pride rocked but its physical status intact K-State resumed practice yesterday with only minor injuries.

Tony Addeo, Kerry Clifford and Chuck Norris, were the injured members of the squad at practice, but all three are expected to be ready for action this Saturday when K-State will meet the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Gene Keady moved up to the first string right halfback position in place of Addeo. Addeo is sidelined with an ankle injury. Clifford, Cat center, injured his knee during the Oklahoma game and was missing from practice today. Ellis Rainsberger, Cat captain, alternated with Jerry Sand at center. Sand started the Oklahoma game at the center spot.

Norris, a reserve halfback, twisted an ankle during the game last Saturday and was sidelined from duty Monday afternoon.

During the Monday practice, Coach Bus Mertes ran the Wildcats on offensive patterns against dummy defenses and finished up with running exercises.

Plans For Student Jobs Include College Industry

The campus industry investigating committee met last evening to make tentative plans including a possible K-State industry, in an effort to obtain more part time work for K-State students.

The committee decided to meet with Manfax, a $100,000 Manhattan industrial development corporation, and work in conjunction toward the support of any industries' product that the K-State students might approve. With this support, Manfax would furnish the site for the factory, and help the company in building and setting up the industry. The factory will be owned by the company, and some K-State students can be used as part time labor.

This committee will check inquiries of the interested companies, and try to influence them to move their industries to Manhattan.

In case the industry suggestion is slow in developing, an alternate suggestion was made to form an advisory committee consisting of college staff members in order to turn part time student hobbies into money-making propositions.

The advisory committee will be set up on approval, and would help the students in building and selling their products and in possible cooperation with Manhattan merchants.

The various products will probably carry a brand name such as, "K-State Industries."

The committee members are: Bruce Burkholder, ArE Sr; Warren Keegan, ME Jr; Marilyn Smith, Soc Sr; Sharon Diamond, Soc Sr; and Jerry Holliday ArE Sr.

Oct. 27 Is Final Day For Dropping Classes

October 27 is the last day a student may drop a class without having a withdrawal or failure mark recorded on his transcript. A student who drops a class after this date will receive a "WD" or, if doing failing work, an "F." Withdrawals are processed through the dean's office of the school in which the student is enrolled.

Series Tickets Now on Sale

October is the last month during which season tickets to the 1956-57 Manhattan Artist Series may be purchased. No single-admission tickets are being sold this year.

Season-ticket prices are $3.75, $3, and $1.50. They may be purchased at the music office, M 108, or phone extension 409 for reservations. A good choice of seats is still available.

Presentations will include "The Best from Steinbeck", Michael Rabin, violinist; Norman Scott, Metropolitan Opera star, and the Kansas City Philharmonic orchestra. The first program is scheduled for Nov. 1.

Gilmore Dahl, president

Russell Bradley, president

Sharon Diamond, vice-president

Marilyn Smith, secretary

Sandra Mueller, treasurer

Marilyn McCready, treasurer

Russell Bradley, Chm Sr, and Gilmore Dahl, AH Sr, are the candidates for senior class president. Bradley is a Progressive party candidate. Dahl is an Integrity party candidate.

The other candidates for senior class officers are: Sharon Diamond, Soc Sr, Progressive party, vice-president; Marilyn Smith, Soc Sr, Progressive party, secretary—Sandra Mueller, Clo Sr, Integrity party, and Marilyn McCready, Eng Sr, Progressive party, treasurer.

Petitions of Gaye Fryer, HEJ Sr, and Joan Skupa, Clo Sr, were held pending further investigation. Final decision on their qualification will be made tonight. Gaye was an Integrity party candidate for vice-president, and Joan was an Integrity candidate for secretary.

Senior class elections will be held October 18 and 19. The location of voting polls and rules for voting eligibility will be decided later this week by the Student Governing association election committee, according to Neil Scott, committee chairman.

The duties of the senior class officers include the handling of various announcements and class business, and deciding the gift the senior class will leave to the college.

SGA Committees Still Need Students

Applications for the Student Governing association election committee from Home Economics, Graduate School, and the School of Veterinary Medicine are urgently needed according to Newton Anderson, vice-chairman of the Student Council committee for appointments.

Any student interested in this committee may apply at the Dean of Students office before Friday noon. Those applying should leave their phone number so they can be notified over the weekend what time they will be interviewed.

Other committee openings are: the friends of art, which selects and purchases art objects for use in campus buildings; alumni relations which organizes each county in Kansas so that the alumni and K-State students can promote Kansas State college in each high school; and campus beautification which plans improvements in campus landscaping.

Applications for these committee positions must be in the Dean's office by Friday noon also.

Two Staters In Accident

A minor collision involving two College students occurred last night at 7:15, at 1834 Larame. John Erbgert, 826 Thurston, was backing from a driveway when Richard Haddock, 1919 Platt, pulled to the curb. Erbgert thought the car had passed, so he proceeded to back into Haddock. There were no injuries and the amount of damage to the cars was unknown, according to the Highway Patrol.

Job Listings to be Given In Newsletter Each Week

The placement bureau will print a weekly newsletter for fraternities, sororities, and college departments, to keep them informed of news and developments in job placements, Chester E. Peters, director, has announced.

The newsletter will include listings of company interviews, job opportunities, interviewing tips, news on salaries and business conditions, discussions on vocations, and notes from the director.

"We suggest that all students interested in jobs, whether part-time or permanent, read this newsletter regularly," Peters said.

More than 320 companies have scheduled interviewing dates on the campus to discuss employment opportunities with seniors and graduate students. Interviews will begin October 15.

Students who did not give us their address, telephone number, and class schedule when they filled out application cards are asked to do so now. We cannot refer jobs to students without this information," Peters said.

"The office maintains information on all major companies, such as career brochures, annual reports, and information sheets. Students interested in a particular company, or a certain job area are welcome to stop by and check our files," he added.

Hawaii Is Prejudice-Free, Says a Former Resident

By CAROL SITZ

VERY LITTLE race prejudice exists in the Hawaiian islands, according to Lynne Joines, BMT Jr, from Topeka. Lynne and her family lived in a housing development a few miles outside Honolulu for a year during part of 1953 and 1954.

"During the year I was there, people of many races lived side by side in the housing development. They were always happy and friendly towards one another," Lynne said.

"IN FACT, I've never met such friendly people. Our furniture arrived in the Hawaiian islands several days late, and many of the neighbors insisted that we use their household equipment until ours arrived," she explained.

Dozens of different races are found on the islands according to Lynne. Japanese, Chinese, Caucasian, and Negro are among the most prominent. Mixtures of these races and others make up the majority of the population. There are very few pure-blooded Hawaiians left on the islands.

"DESPITE all these many races, I never once saw a person barred from entering a theater, restaurant, bus, or any place of business because of the color of his skin," she said.

"I think there is a general feeling of equality in the Hawaiian islands. Everyone there seems to accept his fellow man as his equal, no matter what color is skin might be," Lynne continued.

ANOTHER sign of equality on the islands is that all of the beaches are open to everyone. Lynne explained that no one can own a private beach, even though their house may be located right by the ocean.

"Everyone on the islands heads for the beaches on the weekends. The beaches get quite crowded, but everyone has a marvelous time," she said.

Time Capsule Holds Monroe, Presley, and 'War and Peace'

By Mary Beckmeyer

ONLY in a very liberal arts college could Marilyn and Elvis hob nob with "War and Peace." But there is such an institution.

At a dedication of a new library at Evansville college in Indiana, a recording of Elvis Presley's rock 'n' roll singing, an article on actress Marilyn Monroe, and Tolstoy's novel "War and Peace" were sealed in a time capsule in the cornerstone of the library.

ALSO in the time capsule, scheduled to be opened in 2206, are a Bible, a record of Glenn Miller's orchestra and messages from President Eisenhower, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and former president Harry S. Truman.

What happened to Playboy and Pogo?

FAIR systems of selecting candidates for homecoming queens seem to present a problem on numerous campuses. However, Oregon State has found a solution to this problem as evidenced in the following clipping from the "Barometer."

"Good to see some up-to-date organizations on campus. Noticed on the homecoming queen nominations that one group nominated Jan Markstaller. A strong candidate . . . too bad she's going to Brigham Young this year.

JAZZ FANS at Oklahoma university enjoyed an impromptu jam session when the 30 members of "Jazz at the Philharmonic" arrived at the Will Rogers airport.

Gene Krupa, famous for his drumming, started the session off and soon other members took their positions all over the driveway in front of the airport. A terrific traffic jam resulted.

DIZZY GILLESPIE, cool with a trumpet and cooler in a yellow turtle-neck sweater and purple pants ("those were my school colors, man," he explained), quickly came to the aid of his fellow musicians by walking calmly out into the street and started to direct the jammed cars.

Sounds like quite a show. But it would have to go some to compare with the jam session that took place in the O.U. football stadium last Saturday.

Cosmopolitan Club Holds Suez Panel

THE HASSLE over the Suez canal moved from the Security Council of the United Nations to the K-State campus for an hour Monday night as members of the Cosmopolitan club held their own private Suez parley.

Four foreign students representing England, France, Jordan, and Lebanon formed a panel to present their views. Charlie Schriever started the discussion and acted as monitor.

FIRST SPEAKER was Ghalib Shahab-Ed-Din of Jordan. He said the nations arguing over Egypt's decision to run the canal were confused. The 1888 Suez Treaty was not an international treaty, he said. It didn't provide for an international opening of the Canal, he emphasized.

Shahab-Ed-Din said only Egypt has the right to say what goes on in Egypt including the running of the Canal. He went on to say Egypt realizes it has the privilege of supervising the Canal and does not choose to have anyone tell it what to do. He said in case of a dispute Egypt should be the only one to decide whether the Canal should be closed.

HE SAID Egypt's President Nasser wanted Western support to help pay the cost of building the Aswan dam and when the Western powers refused, Nasser had to turn to the canal for the necessary money. Shahab-Ed-Din said Nasser wants to discuss control of the Canal first and then discuss the wording of the treaty that says Suez is supposed to be run on an international basis.

The next speaker was Pierre Caminade of Paris, France. Caminade said the European powers should be able to control the Canal until 1968 which is the date Suez is to be turned over to the country in which the canal is located. He said this was possible through International Law.

HASHIM DABBAS of Lebanon was the next speaker to take the floor. Dabbas said Nasser is a man of peace, not aggression and that he doesn't want war with any nation. Dabbas said Nasser wants control of the Canal to provide funds for the Aswan dam.

Marguerite Scherling of England concluded the discussion. She said the 1888 treaty provided that anyone could pass through the Canal without paying. The treaty stated there was to be no single nation or group of nations controlling the canal, she said. Miss Scherling said nationalization of the Suez Canal will hurt the Western powers economically. England will lose considerable trade in this way, she said.

Alaskan 'Barometer' Election Gives Democrats Early Lead

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Juneau, Alaska, Oct. 10—Alaska's "barometer" general election showed signs of fair weather for Democratic candidates as the choice of voters to bolster the territory's bid for statehood.

Alaskans balloted yesterday for two token U.S. Senators and one Representative under an Alaska-Tennessee plan which would send their choices to Washington to lobby for statehood.

Democrats were leading in all three races with 74 out of the territory's 271 precincts reported. Still uncounted were most of the votes in the populous Anchorage area. There had been no reports from the fourth division which is headquartered at Nome.

Life Terms Begin Today

Boston, Oct. 10—Eight Brink's bandits began serving life sentences today and locked up with them was the secret of what happened to more than a million dollars.

The life terms were imposed yesterday by Superior Judge Felix Forte after the state recommended the maximum penalty for the $1,218,211 robbery at Brink's, Inc., on January 17, 1950.

The stiff sentences ended a long chapter in crime for the halloween masked gang convicted early Saturday by a Suffolk county jury.

Test Ike 'Open Sky' Plan

Rome, Oct. 10—Fifty Italian air force planes criss-crossed over Rome in a huge photographic operation today to test the practicability of President Eisenhower's "open sky" plan for world disarmament.

The F-84 jet planes of Italy's 3rd air brigade are photographing the entire city. The planes expect to conduct similar aerial mapping operations in other regions of Italy from Genoa to Naples and Milan to Palermo.

Camouflaged war-making material and equipment was set out in certain spots around Rome to test whether it could be detected in the photographs, made with special filters to penetrate haze and detect different colors in the ordinary black-and-white photographic image.

DKG Award Is Offered Senior Teaching Students

Senior K-State women who are planning to make teaching their careers may apply for the Delta Kappa Gamma $100 scholarship to Miss Eunice Severns Holton 106, before October 24.

Delta Kappa Gamma, international society of women teachers, will select the recipient of the award. She will be judged on character and personality, professional promise, academic ability, and need. The applicant must be preparing to teach in an elementary or secondary school, preferably in Kansas.

This is the first year that the local chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma is giving a scholarship, but they are planning to make it an annual award. The presentation will be made November 28.

OU Sooners At It Again

Oklahoma's red-shirted juggernaut, seeking to repeat as national football champion, has amassed an awesome total of 927 yards in routing its first two opponents, Big Seven conference football statistics show.

Of the total, the Sooners' blistering ground attack has accounted for 848 yards. In crumpling North Carolina and Kansas State, Oklahoma has scored 102 points, and its goal line remains unsullied.

This week the Sooners carry a 433-yards-a-game offensive average into the Cotton Bowl at Dallas against the Texas Longhorns.

Nebraska follows the Sooners on the total offense list with 907, Missouri with 891, and Kansas with 843. Each team has played three games.

Homer Floyd of Kansas stayed on top as the No. 1 rusher, with 213 yards on 36 carries. Jerry Brown of Nebraska jumped to second, with 20 hauls for 176 yards, dropping his teammate, Bill Hawkins, to third. Hawkins has 22 for 172 yards. Next is Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma with 14 for 139.

Missouri, showing a great versatility against SMU, took over in the aerial department. Jimmy Hunter has completed 12 of 25 passes for 120 yards and first place. Missouri's Charley James retained the top spot in pass receiving, with 10 catches for 122 yards.

Cook of Colorado leads the punters with 2 averaging 65.5 yards each. Al Rickert of Iowa State follows with 2 averaging 49.5. Billy Pricer of Oklahoma has 5 for an average of 46.8.

In punt returning, there was no change. Oklahoma's Tommy McDonald leads with 3 returns averaging 15.3 yards, while Gene Worden of Colorado kept the runner-up spot with 3 averaging 14.3.

Picking up 3 touchdowns Saturday, Thomas of Oklahoma took over as the scoring leader with a total of 24 points. Chuck Lattin of Iowa State fell into a second-place tie with Floyd of Kansas, each with 18 points.

Pi Kappa Alpha Gets Second Group III Win

Pi Kappa Alpha used a mixed ground and air attack to beat Theta Xi, 28-6, and win their second straight Group III game, in intramural touch football action Tuesday night.

Jack Hill was the Pi K A standout as he caught a pass from Jerry Metz for one touchdown and ran for two more. Ron Haney got the other Pike touchdown.

Haney scored one of the extra points and Glen Long caught a pass from Larry Youndoff for the other. A safety gave Pi Kappa Alpha the remaining two points.

Dick Spalding scored Theta Xi's lone touchdown.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon trounced Alpha Epsilon Pi 39-0 to pile up the highest individual team score. Stan Knowles led the Sig Alph scoring parade with two touchdowns. Dan Kershaw, Bob Doeble, and Ralph Ball each scored once.

Delta Tau Delta defeated Tau Kappa Epsilon 26-0. Dave Craig, Richard Jennings, George Rood, and Jay Ryan performed the scoring chores for the Deltas.

Lambda Chi Alpha beat the 1834 Club 24-2. Bob Oolander led the Lambda Chi's with three touchdowns and F. L. Young added the other six points. The 1834 Club got their pair of points by a safety.

Phi Kappa Tau forfeited to Sigma Chi. There were no independent division games scheduled last night.

Tonight's 4:15 schedule: Alpha Gamma Rho vs Kappa Sigma, North-W; Farm House vs Alpha Kappa Lambda, North-C; VETS vs House of Williams, North-E; Ex-Broncos vs Jr AVMA, Campus-SE; and the Aces vs the Jones Boys, Campus-E.

At 5:15: Delta Sigma Phi vs Alpha Tau Omega, North-W; Rebels vs Hul O Makules, North-C; Kasbah vs YMCA, North-E; Newman Club vs House of Brec, Campus-SE, and D.S.F. vs West Stadium, Campus-E.

MU Drills Lightly KU Shifts Lineup

Columbia, (U.P.)—Ken Clemensen, a junior from Nevada, Mo., ran in the number 2 quarterback position for Missouri yesterday as coach Don Faurot put his charges through a light drill on plays and fundamentals.

Clemensen, a transfer from Southwest Missouri State at Springfield, replaced Dave Doane, the Big Seven's leading passer last season.

Lawrence, (U.P.)—Kansas coach Chuck Mather made two changes on his first team yesterday in an effort to find a winning combination for the Iowa State game Saturday.

Jim Letcavits was promoted to number 1 right end and Ernie Russell was moved from second team right halfback to first string left halfback, replacing John Francisco who alternated with Bob Hoelsing on the third unit.

Most of the practice was devoted to controlled defensive drills and dummy offensive practice.

Wildcats Take It Easy; Glaze Returns To Team

Ray Glaze, junior halfback, returned to action on the second string Tuesday afternoon as the Wildcats football squad went through a short and light set of running drills.

Glaze, who reported for practice last Friday, replaced Chuck Norris on the second unit. Norris was moved to the left halfback position in order to give the Cats more strength in the halfback spot. Glaze missed the early part of the season due to a side injury.

Two footballers were listed on the doubtful list for action against Nebraska this Saturday. Tony Addeo, first string halfback, is sidelined with an ankle injury and Chuck Sprinkle, K-State center, is still out with a neck injury he received in the Colorado game September 29.

The workout Tuesday lasted only an hour and a half on the practice field. The rest of the practice was a chaktalk session.

Fryer, Skupa Petitions Valid

Gaye Fryer

Joan Skupa

Two petitions for senior class offices, that had been questioned, have been declared valid by the Student Government Association Elections Committee, according to Neil Scott, chairman.

The action of the committee will enter Gaye Fryer, HEJ Sr, as an Integrity candidate for vice-president, and Joan Skupa, Clo Sr, as an Integrity candidate for secretary.

The validity of both petitions hinged upon the definition of the word senior, Scott said.

Each petition had one signature that was questioned. The committee decided that the persons involved would both participate during the year in senior activities and therefore they should have a say in the senior class elections, Scott said.

The two petitions complete two full slates of candidates for the senior elections. The senior class elections are scheduled for October 18 and 19, Scott said.

Gripe Session Assembly Will Be Held Tuesday

The Student Governing association's annual assembly will feature a mock Student Council meeting and a student "gripe session" next Tuesday at 9:30 a.m., according to Neil Scott, Zoo Jr, SGA assembly committee chairman.

The first half of the assembly will be devoted to the mock meeting. It will include officer's and committee reports with Ron Bryant, MES, chairman of the council, presiding.

During the second half of the program, two roving mikes will be available on the Auditorium floor for use in the "gripe session", an open forum in which students have an opportunity to air problems and ask questions.

"So far as we know, we are the only school in the country that has a program of this type", Scott said.

Included in the mock meeting reports will be an address by Pat Wilkerson, BA Sr, Student Governing association president.

Scott, also Student Council vice-chairman, will speak on student elections. Elin McCandless, HDA So, will give a treasurer's report.

Jerry Holliday, ArE Sr, will give a committee report on Campus Industries, a plan for student jobs on campus. Darold Barb, ChE Sr, will speak about committee appointments and Gary Haynes, TJ Sr, will talk about the National Students association.

Haynes attended an NSA meeting this summer in Chicago. The Student Council is undecided about joining the Association.

Job Interviews for Seniors Scheduled for Next Week

Seniors seeking jobs may schedule interviews with company representatives on the campus next week, Chester E. Peters, placement bureau director announced.

Dates of interviews, companies, and scheduling offices are: October 15—Sohio Pipe Lines, Sinclair Pipe Lines, and Noma Lites, Inc. in E 109; Schid Petroleum in F 6; and Esso Refinery in W 111.

October 15-16—Esso Research Laboratories in X 105. October 16—Carrier Corporation in E 109; Continental Oil company, and Missouri state highway commission in E 142.

October 16-17—Procter & Gamble in A 110; October 17, Chance-Vought Aircraft in E

109; Coast & Geodetic Survey in E 142; and Socony Mobil and Illinois Power company in E 120.

Celanese corporation in W 111; Chicago, Rock Island, and Union Pacific railroads, and Halliburton oil well cementing in E 109; and Phillips Petroleum in F 6.

October 18—American Blower corporation in E 109; Quaker Oats company in A 110; and Commonwealth Edison in E 120. October 18-19—Boeing Airplane company in E 109 and A 110; and Mallinckrodt Chemical works in W 111 and E 109.

October 19—Potomac River Naval Command in E 109; Wagner Electric in E 120; and Socony Mobil Oil in F 6.

Work on Interior Underway In Student Housing Project

Despite delay of materials and shortage of labor, interior finish work on Jardine Terrace, married students housing, is now underway, according to R. F. Gingrich, superintendent of the physical plant.

Plastering is complete on the first four buildings, and painting is progressing rapidly. The second floor of the first building has been painted, and tile has been laid.

Plumbing fixtures are now being shipped, and installation should begin next week. Permanent electric service will be finished this weekend, he said.

Hunter and Lundberg, general contractors, have completed $700,000 work in the last seven months, he said.

The $24,500 appropriated last spring for campus roads has been fully utilized. The union parking lot was blacktopped, and the drives behind Van Zile hall and in front of the extension building were paved. With construction starting in July, these three improvements were completed September 1, Gingrich said.

Charles W. and John A. Shaver, architects from Salina, have been authorized by the state architect to design K-States' new student health center. Preliminary plans have been submitted for approval by the College, he said.

Funds have not yet been appropriated for construction of a student health but are on the educational building fund request for the fiscal year 1957-58 and 1958-59, he said.

The new $1,500,000 Home

Economics building is being designed by Wolfenbarger and Associates. Preliminary work has been completed and working drawings are underway. An additional $400,000 is being requested. Construction is expected to begin next March, Gingrich said.

Plans for the new $550,000 agricultural engineering wing are complete, and specifications are being written. Bids will be let in the near future. The wing will be added to the north side of the portion that was completed in 1952, he said.

High School Writers Here for Workshop

More than 300 Kansas high school journalism students and their instructors are on campus today to attend the annual fall journalism-yearbook conference.

The high school represented are Wamego, Miltonvale, Abilene, Beloit, Alma, Manhattan, Minneapolis, Silver Lake, St. Marys, Blue Rapids, Wakefield, Council Grove, Ellsworth, Concordia, Salina, Highland Park (Topeka), Clay Center, Marysville, and Topeka.

The opening session of the conference was in the little theater of the Union at 9 a.m. There was a two-hour break for lunch and for examination of journalism displays.

Separate workshops will be held throughout the day for newspaper and yearbook sections with outstanding high school newspaper and yearbook advisers and K-State faculty members appearing on the program.

The conference is being sponsored by the Kansas High School Activities association and the K-State department of journalism.

Ralph R. Lashbrook, head of the journalism department, is in charge of the newspaper section. Others helping with the conference include Fred Parris, public relations director of the Kansas Industrial Development commission, Topeka;

Dairy Team Ranked 8th At Chicago

Kansas State Dairy Products Judging team ranked 8th in the judging contest held in Chicago October 8 according to Prof. F. W. Atkeson, head of dairy husbandry.

Team members are John R. Milton, Ag Jr; Richard D. Haddock, DM JR; Robert L. Vernon, AEd SR; and alternate Paul Ridenour, DM SR. The team coach is Dr. G. B. Marion, associate professor of dairy husbandry.

In the single division placings; butter, Haddock placed 2nd, Milton 26th, and Vernon 30th. Cheese, Haddock 7th, Vernon 25th, Milton 26th. Milk, Vernon 9th, Milton 17th, Haddock 33rd. Ice cream, Vernon 16th, Milton 24th, Haddock 28th, according to the report received from Doctor Marion.

In the judging of all products: milk, ice cream, butter, and cheese, Haddock placed 19th, Vernon 21st, and Milton 24th.

Books Missing In SU Library

Thirty-three books valued at over $55 have disappeared from the browsing library of the Student Union, according to Bob Alexander, activities director.

Approximately 90 per cent of the volumes missing have disappeared since September. "We hope that people borrowing the books will return them to the browsing library. We are not interested in penalizing people, just in getting the books returned," Alexander said.

BOOK SHELVES become dust catchers following the "removal" of books from the Union library. Mary Lu Compton, Sp Jr, inspects shelves which previously held books.

An Editorial

KS Student Union Books Are 'Gone With the Wind'

AN INVENTORY of the student union has revealed that 33 books are missing from the browsing library. The cost of the books at wholesale prices amounts to more than $55.

Though $55 seems to be a trifling amount, it is a sum that is needlessly lost. Union finances are on a touchy plateau anyway and losses of books, magazines, signs, etc., while seemingly small add up to quite a large figure in a short time.

AT ANY RATE, the missing volumes are causing concern on the part of Union managers and justifiably so. They are certain the books were only borrowed and will be returned immediately. So are we.

The books in the browsing library are for all students. When a student accidentally (or on purpose) takes a book from the room, about 6,500 other students are prevented from having access to the book.

COLLEGE STUDENTS should be man or woman enough to respect the feelings, rights, and properties of their fellow students. All we ask is that students remember that the room is for browsing only. The College library is well stocked with up-to-date books for loaning purposes.

We must remember that the Union is the "living room" of the campus and no one likes to have property taken from his own living room. So please be courteous and give fellow students a chance to read the books too.—George Vohs

Union Furnishings

Quality Instead of Quantity Stressed for Union—Kottner

By JANE TAYLOR

FURNITURE, draperies, and carpets costing $20,000 has been purchased for the improvement of the main floor of the Student Union, according to Loren V. Kottner, director of the Union.

The art lounge will be furnished with new carpeting and more furniture; the browsing library, main floor corridor area, and the main lounge will be carpeted; and new drapes will be added throughout. Mid-November is the tentative date for the furnishings to arrive.

ONE HUNDRED lockers costing $900 were recently installed in the games area for the use of bowling leagues and classes. A ceiling in the bowling alley, is scheduled for completion in the near future.

The red chairs now being used on the open deck just off the State Room will be covered soon, Kottner said. Air-conditioning costing an estimated $110,000 has been completed throughout the building.

MOVABLE PARTITIONS and meeting rooms large enough to accommodate groups of 75 to 150 are in the finished plan for the third floor. The financial situation at the end of the year will determine the starting date for this work.

Equipment, such as more books to replace those lost from the browsing library and the identification letters missing from the second floor doors are other necessary items, he said.

"ITEMS SUCH AS the furniture, drapes, and carpets were a part of the original interior design, and were deleted from the original plan with the expectation that these things could be acquired at a later time," he explained. "We put the importance on quality rather than quantity."

"This additional equipment and furniture will enhance the beauty and the usability of the Union for students," Kottner said.

Adlai, Ike Fight for Votes

'Good Intentions, But . . .' Stevenson Says of Ike

By UNITED PRESS

Berkeley, Calif.—Adlai E. Stevenson brought a hard-hitting campaign to California today in a determined attempt to overcome President Eisenhower's popularity and capture the state's 32 electoral votes for the Democrats.

THE DEMOCRAT presidential candidate arrived at Oakland airport after midnight and promptly went to Berkeley's Claremont hotel to spend the night.

Stevenson came to California from Portland, Ore., where in a speech last night he pictured President Eisenhower as a man of good intentions, but one whose campaign statements reflected the voice of 'Madison Avenue.'

FROM HERE to San Diego tomorrow night, Stevenson is expected to hammer at the same idea—that the chief executive means well but is surrounded by men who represent "a single set of interests—they know what they want—and they get it."

Stevenson's schedule called for him today to address a noon rally in the neighboring city of Richmond, where he speaks for 10 or 15 minutes.

TOMORROW, he speaks in Fresno, Long Beach and San Diego. His San Diego speech from Ford bowl in Balboa park at 11 p.m. CST, will be his big effort of tomorrow.

The Democrat candidate originally had planned to spend Friday night in San Diego and fly back to Chicago Saturday. His staff announced last night, however, that he would fly back to Chicago immediately after the San Diego speech.

Ike To Plan Additional Speech-Making Tours

By UNITED PRESS

Washington—President Eisenhower had plans for more campaign trips in the weeks today in the face of new Democrat personal attacks.

DEMOCRAT presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson last night said the President in his campaigning sounds like Herbert Hoover or 'Madison Avenue.'

Mr. Eisenhower was certain to face questions at his news conference this morning on the latest Stevenson attack.

THE PRESIDENT sandwiched the news conference into a crowded day including separate conferences with Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The secretary of state flew down from New York last night to report on the latest developments in the Suez canal debate at the United Nations.

THE PRESIDENT also planned to talk this afternoon with Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.). The Negro congressman, who has said he will not campaign for either major party this year because of their segregation stands, requested the meeting.

Earlier, Prince Ranier of Monaco and his princess, movie star Grace Kelly, were scheduled to call at the White House.

WHITE HOUSE press secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday the President is thinking about a campaign trip to California and other areas that he has not been scheduled to visit so far. But Hagerty said no final plans have been made other than those already announced.

The President leaves the capital Tuesday to campaign in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area and in Washington and Oregon. He also is planning a trip to New York.

Italy's Top Socialist Leader May Break with Communists

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Pietro Nenni, Italy's left wing Socialist leader, seems ready at last to break his 10-year alliance with the Communists.

Nenni has called upon his party to end its ties with the Communists and reunite with the anti-Communist right wing Socialists.

If he really makes the break, it will be a punishing blow to the Italian Communist party—the strongest in Europe outside the Iron Curtain.

It might mean the ousting of Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti in favor of Luigi Longo, his younger, more vigorous deputy.

It might mean also an important realignment in Italian politics by bringing in a strong Socialist party which would pursue its own policies, foreign and domestic.

For 10 years Nenni, as the ally of the Communists, has been European fellow traveler No. 1. He has followed Kremlin policy faithfully.

No Agreement on Suez

United Nations, N.Y., Oct. 11—Private talks between the foreign ministers of Britain, France, and Egypt have failed to break the deadlock in their dispute over the Suez Canal, authoritative sources said today.

The ministers again laid their arguments before United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld in a secret meeting in Hammarskjöld's offices atop the U.N. headquarters building.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said it was too early to say whether there was hope for agreement. So far, he said, none of the three ministers had either progress or disagreement to report to today's third secret session in the Security Council scheduled for this afternoon.

U.S. Plane Vanishes

London, Oct. 11—A U.S. air force transport with 59 homeward-bound American servicemen aboard vanished early today over the Atlantic ocean between England and the Azores.

Air force officials announced several hours after the search began that the plane was presumed down at sea. Although it was a military air transport plane, its nine crew members were navy fliers.

Within hours the air force threw its 9th air rescue squadron into operation and "more than a dozen" airplanes began a systematic search for the missing plane, criss-crossing the east Atlantic from southern England to the Azores.

May Get Drouth Relief

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 11—Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson has promised that his department will "waste no time" in making a decision on a five-point drouth relief plan submitted to the President by a special emergency committee.

The plan was submitted to Benson during a 45-minute meeting here yesterday. Benson said at the time he would make no commitment for the government, but promised the speedy study.

Dean John H. Longwell of the Missouri university College of Agriculture told Benson that the water shortage in the state was "critical." He said on the state experimental farm there is no moisture in the top two feet of soil and only 1½ inches of moisture in the top six feet.

Riot Against Europeans

Hong Kong, Oct. 11—The Hong Kong government rushed British armed troops and tanks tonight into areas of the colony near the Red China border to halt two days of rioting that turned finally against Europeans.

Mobs swarming through the streets of Kowloon on the mainland across from Hong Kong proper attacked all Europeans they could find. They tried to burn to death the Chancellor of the Swiss consulate and his wife by drenching their car with gasoline and setting it afire.

British troops and Pakistani police from the British-controlled hinterland behind Kowloon patrolled the streets while Royal Air Force jets flew overhead. It was the first time Britain had taken such a step for fear of offending the Chinese Reds whose frontier is only a few miles away.

There was strong speculation in some Asian capitals that the riots might mark the start of a Chinese effort or a propaganda campaign to take over the British crown colony. But Britain is making no assessment for the time being.

'Chef's Paradise' Describes Stainless Steel SU Kitchen

By CAROL SITZ

"A chef's paradise" is the phrase that best describes the gleaming stainless steel kitchen that serves the Student Union cafeteria.

The kitchen has some of the newest equipment available on the market today. An example is a series of special spotlights built into the ceiling which shine on the food below and keep it hot until it is ready for serving.

Another is an open refrigerated shelf for salads. This shelf has a built-in mechanism which condenses moisture from the air and keeps salads at the proper temperature until they are served.

The kitchen also utilizes a great deal of giant sized equipment, which accommodates feeding the 1,300 people who eat in the cafeteria every day. Three coffee urns located in the kitchen can make 40 gallons of coffee at one time.

Large electric mixers can mix 60 quarts of liquids at one time.

Stack ovens where rolls are baked can hold 24 dozen rolls at one baking.

All of the food served in the cafeteria is prepared in the kitchen, with the exception of loaf bread and dairy products.

The equipment in the union kitchen cost approximately $100,000. A staff of 40 full-time employees and 50 part-time employees is maintained in the kitchen during a school year.

GLEAMING STEEL meets the eye from all sides in the Union cafeteria kitchen. Stainless steel, used in reel ovens (left), kettles, tables, and implements make up this chow-producing factory. At the rear of the kitchen stand new-looking stoves and a wooden chopping table.

Confabs To Mark Busy Weekend

A conference, a convention, and a workshop will highlight activities on campus this weekend.

The Kansas Library association will hold its annual convention in the Union today through Saturday. Home Ec clubs from 17 Kansas colleges are expected to attend the state Home Ec workshop here Saturday, and "Science, Opportunity, and You," will be the theme of a high school science conference Saturday.

Theme of the library convention this fall is "The Role of the Library in the Community," and much of the discussion will center on extending library service in Kansas.

Mrs. Grace Stevenson, associate executive secretary of the American Library association, will deliver the keynote address at the first general session at 2 p.m. today.

President McCain will speak at a banquet tomorrow.

Gordon Dupee, president of the Great Books Foundation, Chicago, will close the conference with an address Saturday morning. His topic is "House of Many Mansions."

In addition to the main speakers, there will be a panel discussion on "Library-Community Planning in Action," clinics on sales techniques for the library, a discussion on remodeling for better service, and a report from the state planning committee on "More Library Service for More Kansans."

"Dynamic Doings" is the theme for the Home Ec fall workshop, said state president Shirley Sarvis, HT Sr.

"All Home Ec majors are welcome at any one of the meetings," she said. "Registration is at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Union."

"What Makes Your Group Tick?" will be the question asked by Dr. John Keltner, head of the speech department, at a 9:30 a.m. general meeting.

Girls may attend "interest-group workshops" at 11 a.m., Miss Sarvis said. Speaker at the luncheon in the Union at 12:15 p.m., will be Dean Doretta Hoffman of the School of Home Economics.

Following departmental tours at 1:30 p.m., and a general meeting at 2:30 p.m., the workshop will end with a tea in Southwest hall at 3:30 p.m.

Marge Hamon, HT Sr., is general chairman of the workshop. Committee chairmen are: Marjory Bearg, Clo Sr, registrations; Melva Huseman, DIM Sr, coffee hour; Janice Albers, HE Soph, newsletter; Carol Ward, HEJ Jr, communications; and Carolee Fox, HEA Jr, luncheon.

Arvilla Kruger, HE Sr, tea; Carol Kellogg, HT Soph, tours; Jan Kraft, HEJ Jr, hostesses; and Margaret Edwards, HDA Soph, business manager.

Dr. W. S. Ruliffson of the department of chemistry, is chairman of K-State's fifth annual high school science conference. According to Dr. Ruliffson, the purpose of the event is to interest high school students in careers in science.

About 500 high school students and their teachers are expected to attend.

During the morning, the students will have an assembly and take tours of the campus. In the afternoon, the students will see demonstrations by high school science club members and by the K-State chemistry and physics departments.

Two special panels are planned for teachers in the afternoon to assist them with their instructional problems.

Cooperating in the high school science conference this fall are the departments of chemistry, geology, geography, mathematics, chemical engineering, physics, and flour and feed milling industries.

Dance at Lincoln After Game

"The Tony Martin Show" starring Tony Martin and Tex Beneke and his orchestra will appear Saturday at 8 p.m. at the University of Nebraska Coliseum in Lincoln.

Appearing in the company of 32 will be Johnny O'Brien, comedian; the Jodimars, a rock and roll team; the Petticoats, a vocal ensemble; and Conn and Mann, dance team.

Saturday classes here will be cancelled because of the K-State-Nebraska football game. A special student section price is available at $1 for the game at Lincoln. All K-Staters are invited to both events.

Hard-Running Ken Nesmith Shows Speed, Dependability

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN
Thursday, October 11, 1956-4

BY BOB PATTERSON

Kenny Nesmith, starting Wildcat left half is one of the hardest runners on the ball club, said Bus Mertes, and although he isn't an extremely shifty runner, he seems to get a good, quick start and can power his way through.

"Nesmith comes up fast from the secondary," the Cat coach said. "He does extremely well in pass defense and his tackling is above average for the team. Kenny is very dependable and an extremely good man for team morale.

"In the Colorado game he was our most consistent back." Kenny made 50 yards in five carries in the Colorado game, one run covering 37 yards.

Looking back at the Colorado game, Nesmith said, "The Buffs were a tough ball club. They were ready for the game and were up for it."

"What really hurt us was we just couldn't get going after we lost the ball near their 20 yard line on our first series of plays. Colorado's quick kicks were a definite setback for us. We couldn't find the right formula for getting a drive underway."

This week's game with Nebraska will be a real test, the fleet halfback said. The Huskers out-hustle everyone they come up against and practically the only way to beat them is to out-do their hustle. The break-away halfback said he would like to pull the upset of the year, "but the Huskers have such a powerful team it seems impossible."

"In our last three games, we just haven't been getting the kind of breaks we need to get started." He said the main objective was to find a way to manufacture those breaks.

"The team has good hustle and effort. They never seem to give up," Kenny said. "Trying to find some replacements for the team would be ridiculous. Nobody could accomplish any more than the present team."

Although Nesmith makes his home in Manhattan, he attended high school at Osborne, where he lettered in football, basketball and track.

Independent Division IM Games Are Close

Independent division intramural football games were close yesterday as eight of ten scheduled independent and fraternity games were played.

House of Breck eeked out a one point victory over the Newman club, scoring a safety in the final quarter of the game to end the scoring at 14-13. Larry Geske scored both House of Breck touchdowns.

Other independent games went like this:

The Hui O Makules scored a 25-20 victory over the Rebels and West Stadium beat the Disciples Student Fellowship club, 12-0, on two last quarter touchdowns.

The Jones Boys scored a 19-8 victory over the Aces. Scoring for the Aces was Marion Towns. YMCA doubled the score in beating Kasbah by a 24-12 count. Bennie Osborn, Leon Durnil, LeRoy Covert and Harold Riechers scored for the YMCA. Rounding out the independent schedule, the Ex-Broncos and Brewster Boys forfeited to the Jr. AVMA and the House of Williams, respectively.

In the fraternity division, the Kappa Sigmas held the Alpha Gamma Rhos scoreless while grabbing off 21 points to ring up a 21-0 victory. Dick Kaaz threw two touchdown passes, one to John Snyder and the other to Dwayne Osborne. Bud Roberts passed to Larry Fisher for the third touchdown, to spark the victory.

Alpha Tau Omega defeated Delta Sigma Phi, 18-12. Alpha Kappa Lambda beat the Farm House, 12-7.

Young Yank Pitchers Bring Glorious Era

New York, (U.P.)—Casey Stengel ushered in a new era for the New York Yankees today and it promises to be as glorious as the old.

Monarchs of the baseball world again after a two-year interlude, the Yankees owed their believe-it-or-not World Series victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers to the young pitchers who caused Stengel so many sleepless nights during the American League season.

It was Casey's sixth world championship in eight years but the first he achieved with his new "young guard" of pitchers.

Happy as they were over the baseball title being returned to their league, their American League rivals were stunned by the brilliant pitching which wrapped up the series for the Yankees.

It forecasts only another long, continuous string of Yankee successes in the league—and probably in the World Series as well.

Yankee pitching looked like the weak spot that would turn the series in favor of the Dodgers when they scored 6-3 and 13-8 victories in the first two games.

But then 26-year old Tom Sturdivant came through with the chips down, 27-year old Don Larsen turned in his epic perfect game, 25-year old Bob Turley pitched a brilliant four-hitter in a 1-0, 10-inning loss and 23-year old Johnny Kucks climaxed it all with yesterday's series-clinching, 9-0 three-hitter.

Small wonder that the glizzled old Stengel gave the credit to "my young pitchers who did it for me when the experts were saying they couldn't."

Injury Leads To Switch In Wildcat Front Wall

Coach Bus Mertes continued to make injury-caused lineup changes in the Wildcat forward wall Wednesday afternoon. The latest switch upped Jaydee Stinson to a No. 1 guard position.

Stinson, a 191-pound sophomore, replaced Rudy Bletscher, who is sidelined because of an operation for an ingrown toe nail.

Stinson may start at the right guard position for the Cats Saturday at Lincoln against the University of Nebraska. Mertes had high praise for the performance turned in by Stinson in the Oklahoma game last Saturday.

Two other Cat regulars watched the Wednesday afternoon practice from the sidelines. Tony Addeo, senior halfback, and Kerry Clifford, senior center, reported for their first workout of the week without pads. The two are listed on the doubtful list for action this Saturday.

Jerry Hayes and Gene Keady alternated at the right halfback position usually claimed by Addeo. Both men have seen considerable action this season. Jerry Sand ran at center in place of Clifford.

Once again Wednesday the drills were light and fast. The shortened practice saw the Cats work on both offensive and defensive patterns with no heavy work involved. The first and second teams alternated running the plays against the third unit in dummy drills.

"I WON'T WEAR A THING BUT TOWNE AND KING!"

says FRANK AUGUST, high hurdler

MOSCOW, IDA., August 28 — The Soviet track coach choked on his caviar when told of Frank August's sensational form in tryouts for Olympic high hurdles. In the 2-mile event, over 6-ft. hurdles, Frank finished the race without ever leaving the ground. Long-legged Frank has a "king size" stride. "Ever since I was 6 ft. high," he says, "I've had trouble getting sweaters long enough. Now I'm all set! T&K's KING Size fit like they're made to order."

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young mathematician helps pace engineering advances

Recently General Electric developed a compact, new motor for industrial use. But before the motor could be put into automatic production, one difficulty remained: to design a protective end shield that would confine any possible explosion to the motor itself.

The man who solved the tough mathematical problems involved is R. A. "Pete" Powell — a mathematical analyst whose job is to assist other engineers in math problems which arise in any number of different projects.

Powell's Work Is Varied and Important

Because he is not tied down to any one project, Powell seldom has two similar assignments. Taking established engineering and mathematical principles, some of them extremely complicated, Powell applies them to advanced engineering problems. In doing this, Pete is able to make such calculations as the distortion of a small part of a jet engine caused by vibrations, the deflection occurring in a turbine part when it runs at operational speeds, or the forces exerted upon a rotating shaft by lubricants.

27,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When "Pete" Powell came to General Electric in 1953, he already knew the kind of work he wanted to do. Like each of our 27,000 college-graduate employees, he is being given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: Whenever fresh young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits — the individual, the Company, and the country.

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

GENERAL ELECTRIC

R. A. "PETE" POWELL joined General Electric in 1953 after receiving his B.S. in Physics in '47 and his M.S. in Mathematics in '49, both from Purdue. From 1949-52 he completed further study in Physics again at Purdue.

WHEN IT RAINS . . . John Theroff, FT Soph, who just recently recovered from an enrollment session, stands in a "snowstorm" of IBM cards symbolic of the coming pre-enrollment period. "They'll get my tuition just in time to make me postpone Christmas," he said.

Pre-Enrollment Is Set for December

Pre-enrollment for all students for the spring semester of the present school year is planned for December 3 through December 21, Director of Admissions and Registrar E. M. Gerritz, said today.

Any student who is enrolled for the first semester of the 1956-57 school year, and who has no failing grades at the nine weeks, is encouraged to pre-enroll, he said.

Seniors will enroll and pull class cards December 3, 4 and 5; juniors will pre-enroll and pull cards December 6, 7 and 10. Any student, regardless of classification, may pre-enroll from December 11 through 21. Classification will be as of August of the year.

Dean's cards for all students will be sent to the appropriate dean's offices from the registrar's office by November 26 so that students can receive advisement for their second-semester schedule.

Enrollment fees will be accepted from pre-enrollees from December 3 until January 25, 1957. Fees must be paid within this period to complete pre-enrollment.

If the student doesn't pay the fees by January 25, he forfeits his pre-enrollment and must re-register during the regular enrollment period, January 28-30.

1956 Homecoming Queen To Be Disclosed at Game

This year's Homecoming queen, to be selected by all-College voting, will be announced at-halftime of the Homecoming football game with Iowa State on November 17.

The queen will be selected from five finalists who will be presented the Wednesday forenoon preceding Homecoming.

Dairy Judgers 4th at Chicago

K-State's dairy judging team placed fourth among 16 colleges in dairy judging competition at Chicago the first of this week.

Team members Jack Van Horn, DH Jr.; L. C. Garrison Jr., DH Sr.; and Charles Michaels, AgE Jr., made the trip.

Van Horn was tenth in overall individual standings, and was sixth in the Holstein division. Garrison was first in the Jersey division, first in Milking Shorthorns and tenth in Brown Swiss. Michaels was third in the Brown Swiss division and fourth in the Holstein.

As a team, K-State placed second in Brown Swiss, fourth in Holstein, fifth in Jersey and in Guernsey, and sixth in Milking Shorthorn.

KS Polio Victim Listed as 'Critical'

Craig Birtell, ME Sr, who was stricken with polio October 1, is in "critical" condition at Stormont-Vail hospital in Topeka.

Birtell still is in a respirator and is under careful observation. Paralysis has extended to the legs, arms and spine, but the effects will not be known for some time, the hospital reported. He had received one Salk vaccine shot.

Announcement of the finalists will be made from the balcony of the Student Union following a short campus parade, according to Blue Key, senior men's honorary that sponsors the queen selection.

Each of the finalists will be given a cape of blue and gold, designating her as a queen candidate, to wear until the game Saturday.

The Friday before the game will be Tramp Day, according to Marylyn McCready, publicity chairman of the homecoming committee.

On Tramp Day, the appropriate dress will be whatever was worn the night before while working on floats and house decorations.

Other Homecoming Day activities, besides presentation of the queen at halftime, include a parade in the forenoon and a Homecoming Ball in the evening with music by Matt Betton's orchestra.

The Wampus Cats, Purple Pepsters and Whi-Purs are in charge of the parade, and Blue Key is in charge of the dance.

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, again will sell mums. They will be sold from booths in Anderson hall and in the Union.

Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council are in charge of house decorations, and houses have been asked to send their decoration themes to Miss McCready by November 7.

A Favorite Man on the Campus will be chosen by K-State coeds during voting October 25 and 26 in Anderson hall.

The K-State "man of men" will be selected prior to the Snowball, annual Home Economics dance.

All girls with activity tickets will be entitled to vote for their favorite male among the 26 candidates from campus fraternities and organized houses.

The FMOC will be announced by Doretta S. Hoffman, dean of the School of Home Economics, after an intermission skit at the Snowball in which all the candidates will be introduced.

The Snowball, a turnabout girl-ask-boy dance, will be in the Union grand ballroom October 28 at 9 a.m. Cocktail dresses and suits will be dress for the evening, with music by Matt Betton's band.

Herb Hischke, MAD Soph, 1834 Club; Phillip Warnken, Ag Soph, Farm House; Don Zadnik, BA Jr, Kappa Sigma; Dave Epp, Eng Soph, Lambda Chi Alpha; Duncan Ericson, Ar 03, Phi Delta Theta; Peter

M. Winsatt, EE Sr, Phi Kappa; Joseph P. Johnson, BA Jr, Phi Kappa Tau.

Larry Youngdoff, BA Jr, Pi Kappa Alpha; Gary Haynes, TJ Sr, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Ronald Bryant, ME Sr, Sigma Chi; Darold Barb, ChE Sr, Sigma Nu; Daryl Becker, Ag Jr, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

John Dorst, BA Sr, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Dennis Sampson, Ar 02, Theta Xi; Lee Miller, Ar 01 Fr, House of Breck; Bill Myer, AgE Soph, House of Williams; Syd Rinard, ArE Jr, Kasbah; Tony Addeo, Art Sr, K-Club; and Bill Lindsey, Gop Sr, West Stadium.

FMOC candidates are pictured on pages 8 and 9.

Trot Out Your Tarantulae; Pet Spiders Are Real Riots

By MARCIA BOYD

Campus pets are not unusual, but Dr. Fred Lawson's tarantula is not the sort of pet one thinks of as man's best friend.

"Contrary to popular belief, tarantulas are not the poisonous spiders superstition holds them to be," explained Dr. Lawson, assistant professor of entomology. "They can be tamed, and they will not harm you unless you grab them."

"Bessie, as I sometimes call her, was brought to me by a student from Texas," said Dr. Lawson as he stroked Bessie's tummy as she rested comfortably in his hand.

"Tarantulas make the ideal pets because they require only one or two grasshoppers a month to live on," said Dr. Lawson. "Here in the laboratory we feed them on live cockroaches and grasshoppers. The only other thing they require is water."

Bessie is quite tame and, although cautious, isn't afraid to sit in a stranger's hand.

"Bessie gets frightened only when a current of air blows across her or when someone grabs her. Those are the only times that she might bite you," Dr. Lawson said.

Bessie is almost blind, but does have six simple eyes on top of her head. These don't enable her to see much, but she has a good sense of feeling.

"It's Bessie's own fault that she doesn't have a family," said Dr. Lawson. "We put a male tarantula in the cage with her one time, and she ate him up."

Can-Throwing Grid Guards Spend Night in Ohio Pokey

By Mary Beckmeyer

By MARY BECKMEYER

STANFORD UNIVERSITY'S football team did not quit throwing when they left Ohio State's stadium last Saturday after losing 32-20 to the Buckeyes.

But instead of footballs it was 30-gallon garbage cans that Stanford players threw from the windows of their hotel room.

STANFORD guards Don Carswell and Donald Manoukian started heaving cans, which were located near service elevators, from the nineteenth floor of the Deshler-Hilton hotel onto the roof of the Palace theater.

By the time police caught up with them, the husky pair had tossed out a half dozen cans. (That's a lot of garbage).

THE TWO PLAYERS were held in city jail overnight and then turned over to Stanford coach, Chuck Taylor.

Even if Taylor canned them, with all that bucket experience they would make good water boys.

THIS WEEK'S Pogo button should be awarded to a politico who has served his party (whatever it is) above and beyond the call of duty.

Bernard Ritzinger, 25-year-old Michigan State university student, is the valiant citizen, who advertised for a wife so he could legally register to vote in Michigan.

RITZINGER is making his permanent home at East Lansing now but has been refused the right to register because he is a bachelor.

He could not get an absentee voter ballot from New Jersey because he never registered to vote there.

RITZINGER noted that Michigan elections officials agree that if he were married, he would be able to register. Under a state ruling, the city clerk may register married students making their permanent home in East Lansing.

"The girl," he wrote in a signed column, "need not know how to cook, but must be willing to be married before 8 p.m., October 8—the voter registration deadline for the November election.

"I'LL PROMISE a quick divorce one minute after 8 p.m. October 8," he added. "Sorry, no alimony seekers."

Ritzinger said he really wasn't looking for a bride, but placed his ad because he wanted to point up his strong desire to vote in the November elections.

HOWEVER, 37 girls did take the ad seriously, with 34 of the prospective wives coming from Michigan State university.

Most of the girls were willing to marry Ritzinger sight unseen but some attached conditions to their proposals. One wanted Ritzinger to learn how to ski, another wanted him to switch to the Republican party and another said she'd marry him if he gave her a diamond "bigger than the one my boyfriend gave me."

'Green Door' Now Tops Local Hit Parade List

By NANCY MOLTER

"GREEN DOOR" by the Honky Tonks has moved up from No. 7 position last week to the top spot this week in Manhattan. "Canadian Sunset," however, came in for a close second.

The 10 hit records in Manhattan for the week are:

1. "Green Door," Honky Tonks
2. "Canadian Sunset," Hugo Winterhalter with Eddie Haywood at the piano
3. "Just Walking in the Rain," Johnnie Ray
4. "Honky Tonk," Bill Doggett
5. "Chains of Love," Pat Boone
6. "Don't Be Cruel," Elvis Presley
7. "Tonight You Belong to Me," Patience and Prudence
8. "You Don't Know Me," Jerry Vale
9. "Love Me Tender," Elvis Presley
10. "Blueberry Hill," Fats Domino.

HARRY BELAFONTE is selling more albums than any other recording artist. The album "Belafonte" includes such favorites as "Matilda," "Scarlet Ribbons," "Unchained Melody," "Noah," and "Sylvie."

Another hit album is "Dance to the Bands," a 2-record album on 33 1/2 rpm selling for $7.95, which features about 10 dance bands including Stan Kenton, Les Brown, Harry James, and Ray Anthony.

Dave Brubeck is especially popular with college students. His two best selling albums are "Brubeck Plays Brubeck" and "Brubeck Plays Hot and Cool."

ROBERTA SHERWOOD has come out of retirement and since her appearance on the Vic Damone television show, has gained in popularity. Decca records have a new 33 1/2 rpm featuring the jazz and blues vocalist. Her style is similar to Ethel Merman, critics say.

"Lawrence Welk at Madison Square Garden" and the Roger Wagner Chorale singing "Folk Songs of the Old World" are new releases predicted for fast selling albums.

CLASSIC ALBUMS have been selling just as good as the popular releases. A new one that is selling good is "Favorite Classics for Piano" by Leonard Pennario. "Hungarian Rhapsody," "Clair de Lune," and other favorites are included.

Readers Say

Collegian Erred, Twisted Words

To whom it may concern:

WILL YOU PEOPLE ever learn NOT to twist people's words so that they seem to say something other than what they mean? An article does not have to be dynamic or sensational in order to be read.

When I was being interviewed for the article on my stay in Hawaii, I specifically asked that I not be made to sound like an authority. One year's residence does not enable anyone to learn all the facts and figures or entitle him to think of himself as an authority.

I ALSO ASKED that the problem of segregation not be emphasized very much because of the above statement. This request was obviously overlooked as can be seen by the headline. What I ACTUALLY said was that Hawaii is RELATIVELY free of prejudice, not ENTIRELY. This statement is purely from my observation over a year's period.

Since I did not mean to sound as a 'know-it-all,' I will not excuse myself, but ask those who know more about Hawaii to excuse the COLLEGIAN for twisting my words.

Disgruntled student,
Lynne Joines.

Prexy Hopefuls Take To TV

Ike on TV Tonight For News Confab

By UNITED PRESS

Washington—President Eisenhower tonight will try out a new campaigning technique—a televised news conference with about 100 "citizens for Eisenhower" asking the questions.

THE UNREHEARSED nationally televised news conference will follow a $56-a-plate dinner of the citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon of the District of Columbia at the Sheraton-Ark hotel.

ACTRESS HELEN HAYES, one of the dinner speakers, planned to call at the White House earlier today for a chat with the President. Miss Hayes is women's finance chairman of the national citizens for Eisenhower and Nixon.

The first lady of the American theater confessed yesterday to stage fright in her political role as a speech maker. She told reporters she always is afraid that she will "muff" a line or say something that will make the citizens for Eisenhower sound like "idiots for Eisenhower."

OTHER DINNER SPEAKERS will include undersecretary of labor Arthur Larson and co-chairman Dorothy D. Houghton of the national citizens for Eisenhower and Nixon.

The 30-minute question and answer period with the President will be carried nationally by the NBC television and radio networks. The program is being sponsored by the citizens for Eisenhower and Nixon.

QUESTIONERS taking part in the program were picked by state "citizens for Eisenhower" organizations throughout the nation. The White House said the program would be impromptu with no questions submitted in advance.

Adlai Will Press Issue of H-Bomb

By UNITED PRESS

Oakland, Calif.—Adlai E. Stevenson made it clear today that he intends to keep fighting President Eisenhower on the question of halting H-bomb tests.

EVEN THOUGH the chief executive has announced he will not discuss the subject further, Mr. Stevenson has found the issue to be of great interest to voters listening to his campaign speeches.

As a result, he was more determined than ever today to press the matter in his criticism of administration conduct of foreign and domestic affairs.

STEVENSON will carry his fight to the nation Monday night in a television and radio coast-to-coast address from Chicago. He will continue his discussion of H-bomb policy.

As he told his Oakland audience, he is willing to let the American people "judge whether it is a 'theatrical gesture' to quote President Eisenhower's phrase, to suggest a safe way to end the deadly competition to build and explode giant H-bombs which contaminate the very air we breathe and threaten no one knows what damage to generations yet unborn."

"I UNDERSTAND the President said today that he had said his last word on testing H-bombs and military manpower requirements," Stevenson said somewhat icily.

"Well, I haven't said mine and neither, my friends, have the people of this country—who have the only last word."

Quotes from the News

By UNITED PRESS

Washington—Prince Ranier of Monaco on whether he has invited President Eisenhower to visit Monaco:

"The palace is open. I hope the President knows he's always welcome."

Baumont, Texas — Eight-year-old Edith Diane Brown, receiving news that she had become a millionaire:

"How much is a million dollars?"

Washington — President Eisenhower, asked if he would go to the U.N. to discuss the Suez crisis:

"As long as you can get a peace based on justice, I would go anywhere, do anything in the effort to do so."

Chicago—Former Gov. Dwight H. Green, telling a senate committee that he and other Illinois bankers trade political contributions for deposits of county and state funds:

"It seems perfectly obvious that if someone does a favor for you, you are going to reciprocate if you can."

United Nations, N.Y.—British foreign secretary Selwyn Lloyd observing the Suez discussion before the United Nations:

We are still in exploratory discussions. They have not yet finished. I cannot yet say whether they are likely to succeed."

THE HILLKANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN
3—Friday, October 12, 1956

1955 HOMECOMING QUEEN Jean Cooper (right) liked sports cars. When the Collegian ran a picture feature before Homecoming last year, she wanted to be photographed in her favorite sports car. Maybe this started the trend at K-State.

... Or possibly, it was the parking-lot situation. A small, compact sports model will fit more readily into the niches of a jammed parking lot (below), owners say.

THERE'S AN OLD GAG about the three passing areas of trucks—left, the passing side right, the “suicide,” and underneath, for sports cars.

But, joking or not, sports cars have become the fad across the country, and K-State is not excluded. Just last year, the Collegian printed a special Homecoming queen feature showing queen Jean Cooper in a sleek new sports car.

Possibly this influenced the number of cars owned by campus males? We don't claim that, but just why do some K-Staters pick a sports rather than a standard model?

Don Westerwright decided on an English-made Austin Healy.

“I LIKE IT because there isn't an automobile feeling you get from standard American cars. Then, too, there's less of a parking problem,” he says. He purchased the car in Tokyo when stationed there with the armed forces.

Larry Youngdoff has a Taunus 15m German car. “I picked it because I like things that are different, and you'll have to agree that this Taunus is different,” Youngdoff said.

“I think they may be built better than American cars. The only trouble I've had with it is once when I drove into a ditch full of water, and that isn't the car's fault,” he said.

Youngdoff likes the mileage bit, too. His car, on a recent trip, averaged about 40 miles per gallon of gas.

Daryl Becker, owner of a Corvette, said that Police don't trust sports car drivers. “One day I was showing a policeman the engine of my car, and he said he was going to give me a ticket for ‘intent to speed’.”

“PEOPLE ARE ALWAYS pushing my MG into the middle of the lawn,” Midge Mulkey said. Her car is extremely light, and can be lifted without too much trouble.

Mary Lee Durland also owns an MG. She got her car after her sister drove one and found it to be so economical.

“I bought it in California and drove it to Manhattan,” she said. “The mileage on that trip convinced me that I had the right car, especially with the gasoline prices in Manhattan!”

But the consensus of the owners across the campus regarding underneath passing of large trucks was started by another owner who said, “Well, it would save time and lives, probably, but the cars aren't low enough . . . yet.”

A CLOSE FIT—Larry Youngdoff, BA Jr, likes the way his car fits closely between two cars (above) but wonders how to get Carol Bliss, MAV Soph, home since neither can get into the car. Youngdoff finally climbed through the window, but it was too late because Carol had another offer, from Midge Mulkey, BA Soph (right). Riding home are Joyce Graham, BA Jr; Peggy Daniels, Eng Soph; Midge; Kay Eplee, BA Soph; Carol; and Lorelee Terbovich, ArG Fr.

British Fire on Chinese Mob in Kowloon Riots

Compiled From United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Hong Kong, Oct. 12—British security forces opened fire today on a mob gathering in downtown Kowloon and first reports said two Chinese were injured.

The clash was the most serious in a day marked by scattered rioting in the Kowloon area across the harbor from Hong Kong. The Chinese crowd dispersed when police fired and a Portuguese family took one of the wounded Chinese into its home for treatment.

It was the third day of rioting in this British crown colony.

Several fires also were started in Kowloon.

Peiping radio, the voice of Communist China, was making propaganda hay out of the rioting and one broadcast said the British had been lax in dealing with "Kuomintang" or nationalist elements and "failed to take prompt measures to stop the rioting."

"We will watch carefully whether the British can be responsible for the maintenance of peace and order in Hong Kong and Kowloon," one broadcast said.

(In Manila the influential Bulletin saw disturbing implications in the riot and said the Communists, if they wanted to, could step in and take over Kowloon and even Hong Kong proper under the "real or imagined" need for protecting their own people.)

Church Seeks Negroes

Washington, Oct. 12—White members of a Washington Lutheran church set out on a unique doorbell-ringing campaign this week. Their object: to bring Negro families into the congregation.

Many white protestant churches in the nation's capital have proclaimed "open door" racial policies within the last few years. But the Augustant Lutheran church is the first to undertake a formal solicitation of Negro members.

The church is located in the midst of one of Washington's "changing neighborhoods."

'Cleaner' H-bomb Made

Washington, Oct. 12—Atomic commissioner Willard F. Libby revealed today that the United States actually has produced a "cleaner H-bomb."

It was the first disclosure that the so-called "reduced fallout" bomb really exists. Such a weapon would spread less deadly radioactivity throughout the planet than "dirtier" H-bombs of the same power.

In an address at a radiation meeting sponsored by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Libby reported "new information" on radioactive fallout. Much of it dealt with "operation Redwing," the U.S. nuclear test program stated at the Pacific proving ground between May 5 and Mid-July this year.

Cocktail Dress Popular With K-State, KU Coeds

K-State and KU agree on one thing—fashions. Girls at both colleges agreed that cocktail dresses are the most popular and practical for formal dances this fall.

However, fashion designers are attempting to switch back to the full-length formal, almost a thing of the past. They say that regular dress hemlines are coming up, but formal hems are going down.

Manhattan stores are showing both the ballerina and cocktail dresses this fall. The ballerina dress, usually made of net over taffeta, is full-skirted, while the popular cocktail dress is of the sheath type.

Margaret Slaughter, EEd Jr, favors the cocktail dress because it can be worn on so many occasions. She believes girls need practical clothes because they are planning their wardrobe with "an eye to the future."

Dixie Brown, HDA Jr, agrees with Margaret, but would like to see formal dances made more formal by the girls wearing the long dresses.

Sharon Nuttle, PrL Fr, prefers cocktail dresses because they are easy to care for and don't require as much storage space as formals. She feels she can have a wider variety of dresses than formals.

Monne Wills, EEd Fr, believes full-length formals are prettier and more feminine for formal dances, especially when men dress formally.

Cocktail dresses are the "easy way out," according to Sally DeForest, DIM Sr. She believes they are appropriate for many occasions, but formals are more feminine.

Leann Riggs, Hst Jr, and Martha Stark, HE Jr, both prefer ballerina length formals because they are dressier than cocktail dresses but easier to care for than long formals.

Cooking Text's Royalties Pay Three Scholarships

A BALANCED BUDGET—That's what the above book helps provide for Marilyn McNelis, FN Sr. Royalties from the book, "Practical Cookery," are used to provide three scholarships. Others holding the scholarships are Judy O'Neal May, FN Sr, and Virginia Adamson, DIM Sr.

Three home economics seniors are indebted to a well-known cook book "Practical Cookery," for the scholarships they have this year.

Royalties from sales of the book have been used to provide scholarships for Marilyn McNelis, FdN; Judy O'Neal May, FdN and Virginia Adamson, DIM.

Of the royalties from the book, $2.44 have been used for scholarships and for improvements in the K-State foods and nutrition department.

A new edition of "Practical Cookery" is being used by Foods I classes this fall.

The first edition of the book was printed in 1908 by the "domestic science department" of K-State.

Chancery Club To Hear Of Labor Investigations

L. M. Weltmer, a Mankato, Kan., attorney, will speak to the Chancery club about investigations on labor he conducted for the House of Representatives Committee on Education and Labor.

His talk, "Labor Racketeering," is scheduled for Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. in room 205 of the Union.

He will tell of the hearings he conducted in response to complaints from union members about the way their employee health, welfare, and pension programs were handled.

Wildcats Hit the Road For 3d Straight Week

Showing no more than an assortment of bruises from their 0-66 loss to Oklahoma last Saturday, K-State's football team heads into its third successive Big Seven road game tomorrow when it meets Nebraska at Lincoln.

Kickoff time is 2 p.m.

The Wildcats will face the Big Seven's second-best offense in the Cornhuskers split-T. While Oklahoma has averaged 433 yards on offense through two games, Nebraska under new headmaster Pete Elliott (himself a transfer from the Sooner camp) has been galloping along at a 302-yard average.

The Cornhuskers have netted the bulk of their total on the ground, but have completed 11 of 21 pass attempts to gain 161 yards through the air.

The Huskers sport a 2-1 record in three games, owning wins over South Dakota (34-6) and Iowa State (9-7) against their one loss to Ohio State (34-7).

Opening conference play with a last-minute win over Iowa State last week, the Nebraskans can move into a tie for first in the Big Seven with a win over K-State, Colorado, which roasts atop the heap with a 2-0 mark, has a non-loop scrap with Colorado A&M.

For the Wildcats this one represents the chance to reverse the slide which has seen the Cats drop three in a row—two of them Big Seven tilts against Colorado (34-0) and Oklahoma (66-0).

With its split-T offense sputtering, K-State has accumulated only 502 yards in three games—getting a surprising 191 yards of it against the Big Red.

The Wildcat lineup should remain unchanged for the Husker tilt. That would mean an opening unit of 10 lettermen and one sophomore, with a mostly-sophomore second unit ready for alternate duty.

Bill Carrington, 214-pound senior fullback who missed the Oklahoma game with a leg bruise, is expected to be ready for this one as is Ray Glaze, junior fullback, who has been out of all action with a bruised side.

Also returning may be Bill

Lindsey, junior tackle, who missed action against the Sooners with an arm bruise, and Ron Bashk, sophomore halfback, who has seen no duty this season because of a knee injury ahead of the opener. That four-some could offer aid to K-State's thin ranks, particularly at fullback where the Wildcats had only two men running in the OU game.

Coach Bus Mertes has indicated he will open against Nebraska with the backfield quartet he used against the Sooners—Keith Wilson, peppery little 165-pound junior at quarterback; Kenny Nesmith and Tony Addeo, both seniors, at halfbacks; and Ralph Pfeifer, junior, at fullback.

Nesmith is leading Wildcat ground gainer with a 6.7 yard-per-carry average on 14 rushes and Wilson has accumulated 121 yards on 30 carries.

Leading Nebraska's impressive ground game have been a pair of junior backs—Jerry Brown, fullback, has 176 yards on 20 carries; while halfback Bill Hawkins has totaled 172 yards on 22 tries.

But perhaps causing the Wildcats even more concern will be the pitching arm of quarterback Roy (Rebel) Stinnett, sophomore, who has connected on 7 of 12 throws to gain the Big Seven's second-place berth as a passer.

In the 40-game series between K-State and Nebraska, which began in 1911, the Wildcats have won only 6 times. Two games have ended in ties. Last Wildcat win was the 7-3 decision at Lincoln in 1954. Nebraska won last year, 16-0.

Probable starters:

Zadnik (190) LE (190) Hilding Keelan (228) LT (195) Kampe Carlson (220) LG (185) Torczon Sand (195) C (195) Berguin Bletch'r (198) RG (189) Murphy Meier (210) RT (240) Wheeler Laddish (192) RE (185) Lee Wilson (165) QB (175) Stinnett Nesmith (185) LH (195) Hawkins Hayes (177) RH (180) Naviaux Pfeifer (197) FB (196) Brown

Two Big Seven Feuds On Tap for Saturday

Big Seven conference football activity Saturday features two league feuds, the traditional Oklahoma-Texas classic in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, and a pair of other important non-conference engagements.

Nebraska plays K-State at Lincoln and KU plays Iowa State at Ames.

Colorado and Missouri take on outsiders. Colorado meets an old enemy, Colorado A&M, at Boulder. Missouri, edged by three powerful non-league enemies, will play North Dakota State at Columbia.

Competition in the conference games should be especially keen. Nebraska can vault into a tie with Colorado for the Big Seven lead by beating K-State, and the Cats can remain in the Orange Bowl picture by upsetting the Cornhuskers.

Both Kansas and Iowa State have their strongest squads in many years, yet each lost its Big Seven opener.

Nebraska - Kansas State — Coach Pete Elliott's Cornhuskers pulled one out of the fire in edging Iowa State 9-7 on George Harshman's field goal after a fumble recovery in the last minute of play. The Huskers are getting tougher by the week.

Kansas-Iowa State—It could be one of the more interesting Big Seven games of the season. It was a 7-7 tie at Lawrence last year. This season Kansas has lost to powerful TCU, tied College of Pacific, and lost by one point to Colorado last week.

Kansas has shown two good lines thus far and potentially great backs in Homer Floyd, Bob Marshall, and Charles McCue. Iowa State has more depth than it's shown in years, plus a sharp backfield operator in Chuck Latting.

Coolrado - Colorado A&M — Colorado is the favorite over Colorado A&M, but Buffalo followers still remember the 10-0 defeat handed them by A&M last season. Colorado has one of the Big Seven's better backs in sophomore Howard Cook, who runs Coach Dal Ward's single wing off-tackle sweeps. Fullback John Bayuk makes things tough up the middle for Colorado foes.

Oklahoma-Texas—Many observers regard this one as Bud Wilkinson's greatest Oklahoma team. All of which would mean it's the greatest of many great Oklahoma teams. Texas should prove a good foe in view of the fact Texans like to display their talents at the big attraction of their state fair. Everybody keeps saying some day now somebody will surprise Oklahoma notwithstanding the fact the Sooners boast such individual greats as halfbacks Tommy McDonald and Clendon Thomas. Missouri-North Dakota State—Coach Don Faurot's Missouri Tigers are favored to get back on the winning track in this one, although they'll be hosting a scrappy invader. The Tigers showed a fancy attack in losing 27-33 to Southern Methodist last week, but the fact remains they've lost their last three games. This one leads up to the Tigers' Big Seven game with Kansas State at Manhattan October 20.

Chicago Cubs Affairs Under New Direction

Chicago, (U.P.)—Bob Sheffing, a former Chicago Cubs coach and catcher, was named today to succeed Stan Hack as manager of the team.

He was given a one-year contract.

Sheffing, 43, this season managed the Cubs' farm team in Los Angeles to the Pacific Coast league pennant.

He was named to the Cubs' job by John Holland, former Los Angeles president and general manager who yesterday was appointed by owner Phil Wrigley as the man in control of the Cubs.

His appointment had been regarded as virtually certain after Hack resigned yesterday in part of a wholesale upheaval of the top management of the organization.

The team was in new hands today, those of Charlie Grimm and Holland with the latter granted full authority by owner Phil Wrigley to handle the club's affairs.

Holland said that Scheffing had full authority to hire coaches for the Cubs and that any he wished would be taken on.

Zadnik All Football Player Despite Small Size—Mertes

Don Zadnik

By JIM BELL

Don Zadnik, junior end, may be small, but he's all football player. "Don weighs only 177 pounds this year," Coach Bus Mertes commented, "but for every pound he has, he's all football player. He gives you everything he has while he's in there."

If proof be needed, Zadnik started while only a sophomore last season. He has been a defensive ace for the Wildcats—in one game last season, he broke through the opponents line and threw ballcarriers for 20 yards in losses.

During that same game, Zadnik dumped an enemy halfback for a 15-yard loss, only to have a penalty nullify the play.

Thus far this year, Zadnik has caught two passes, both against Colorado. But he has capitalized on both aials for 36 yards gained.

Zadnik hails from Cleveland, Ohio. He lettered three years in football at East Tech high school, and captained his high school decathalon team.

After he completed high school, Zadnik was activated from the naval reserves into the navy. He spent two years in the service, most of that period at Bainbridge Naval Training center in Maryland. He played two seasons of navy football before being sent overseas.

Zadnik decided to attend K-State after his discharge. He is a business administration student. "After I graduate," Don said, "I hope to enter the business field and work for some large concern. I plan to get married, raise a family, and send my children to K-State."

Asked about the K-State-Nebraska tilt, Zadnik said, "Team spirit has improved tremendously this week. I hope this Saturday, we can prove to the students that our team is better than we have shown in the past."

Called "a bundle of energy operating on hustle," by Paul DeWeese, K-State Sports Publicity director, Zadnik was the leading Cat pass receiver last season. He caught passes good for 110 yards.

Zadnik weighs 177, stands 5-11, and is 23 years old. Last season he booted two extra points in seven attempts. This year he is gunning for his second varsity letter.

Delts Beat Lambda Chi's In Intramural Football

In intramural football yesterday Delta Tau Delta downed Lambda Chi Alpha 26-6. Touchdowns for the Delts were scored by George Rood, Bill Patton, Jay Eyan, and Dub Gunter. The Delts' extra points were scored by Ryan and Patton. Lambda Chi's touchdown was scored by Bob Olander.

In other games Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated Beta Sigma Psi 19-6. Bob Doebele scored two of the Sig Ep's touchdown and an extra point. The other touchdown was scored by Bill Sinderson. Bob Schuman made the only Beta Sig tally.

Pi Kappa Alpha shut out 1834 Club 8-0 to remain undefeated. The PIKA's scored on a touchdown pass from Frank Meegan to Jerry Metz. A safety was smothered by Gerald Faust.

Tau Kappa Epsilon downed Theta Xi 18-12.

World Series Is Finished; Football Grabs Spotlight

Now that the Yankees and Dodgers have followed the Milwaukee Braves off the sports pages and into the record books, college football takes over the center ring of the sports circus this weekend with a top-notch program that starts under the lights tonight.

On intersectional game at Miami, Fla., tonight between unbeaten Miami and once-mighty Maryland gets things rolling, and Saturday eight of the nation's top 10 teams will feature a gridiron show designed to make even the Dodgers forget Don Larsen.

In recent seasons, Maryland would have been a solid pick in tonight's "big one," but this year the Terrapins lost star quarterback Frank Tamburello to the draft and have dropped two of their first three games including, last week, the first shutout they've suffered in 70 games. So Miami, victor over South Carolina (hard) and Boston college (easy) rates as a slight favorite.

The Southern conference clash of Richmond and the Citadel is the best of the few other games carded tonight.

Southern California, no. 7, is the only team ranked in the top 10 which will be idle on Saturday, and all of the other nine are favored to win. The top clash of the day looms at Ann Arbor, Mich., where 10th-ranked Michigan hopes to rebound from its loss to Michigan State by beating 11th-ranked Army for the second straight year.

Top-ranked Oklahoma is a 21-point favorite to make Texas its 33rd straight victim, and second-ranked Michigan State is a 25-point pick to romp over Indiana. Third-ranked Texas Christian also is seen an easy winner by 21 points over Alabama, but Ohio State, which shares the no. 3 rung, is favored by only 7 as it sends its ground power against speedy Illinois.

Blitz Babes Beat Waltheim Hall

The Blitz Babes, an unaffiliated independent team, won over the Waltheim hall team, 27-6, in the fourth day of women's intramural volleyball play yesterday afternoon. Southeast hall defeated Alpha Delta Pi.

In first round play Monday, Kappa Kappa Gamma scored a 26-13 victory over Waltheim hall, and Alpha Xi Delta lost to Southeast, 36-5.

In second round play Tuesday, the Blitz Babes defeated Kappa Delta, 21-14, and Pi Beta Phi won over Chi Omega, 40-10. In Wednesday's third day of play, Kappa Delta beat Kappa Kappa Gamma, 35-11, and Delta Delta Delta lost to Van Zile hall, 48-9.

Republicans Take Demo Debate Duel

The Young Republicans have accepted the challenge of the Young Democrats to debate on the subject, "The Eisenhower Administration Is Deplorable," on Thursday, October 18, at 7:30 p.m. in Engineering lecture hall.

Ray North, PrL Jr., and Pat Loyd, BA Soph, will debate for the Young Republicans, and Tom Bowman, ChE Jr., and Ed McCoy, PrL Jr., will represent the Young Democrats.

The debate will take the place of the regular business meeting according to Nancy Hayes, president of Young Republicans. She stated, however, that all Young Republicans should attend the debate if possible.

Klod, Kernel's Will Be Feted At NU Game

K-State Klod and Kernel Klub members will be guests of the University of Nebraska Agronomy club at the football game in Lincoln, Saturday afternoon.

Club members will visit the University's agronomy departments, teaching facilities, and experimental farm Saturday morning. Nebraska club members will serve a picnic lunch to the visitors at noon.

K-State was host to the Nebraska group last year, which was the first time the clubs had exchanged visits. Prof. Ernst L. Mader, faculty adviser of the K-State club, believes this will become an annual affair of the two clubs.

Gamma Phi Beta rushing will begin this weekend with two teas for rushees Sunday in banquet room B of the Student Union.

The rushees have been sent invitations that alphabetically divided them into two groups, Karla Baur, HE Sr., one of the sorority's student counselors, said.

The first group of women will attend a tea at 2:45 p.m. The second group of rushees will attend the second tea at 4:15 p.m.

Several members from the Gamma Phi Beta chapter at KU will assist with the teas. Mrs. George Clarke Davis, Jr., the sorority's international director of expansion, arrived at K-State recently from Berkeley, Calif., to assist with the rush program.

Interviews with the rushees will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Union. Rushees will receive invitations telling them when and where they will be interviewed.

'Christmas' in July Part Of Youth Counseling Job

Christmas on July 31 came as something of a surprise to Eveanna Clutter, EEd Jr, during a 10-week job as counselor at a youth camp near Denver the past summer.

But this was only one of the unusual things about the camp. Four weeks of activity were developed around the theme of "Knights and Ladies of the Glen," during which the boys made shields and had jousting tournaments.

Indian Week and International Week also were observed, and a carnival was held July 4. But these were common place compared to Christmas in July.

"I thought it was strange at first, but everyone enjoyed it," Eveanna said. "We made popcorn balls, had a big Christmas dinner, and decorated trees.

We also had a regular Christmas pageant and sang carols."

Other more-normal activities of the camp, for boys and girls from 7 to 17 years old, included horseback riding, swimming, archery, rifle practice, hiking, cooking out-of-doors, overnight camping, and craftmaking.

"We had stunt night, talent shows, and variations of 'Truth or Consequences' every week."

As one of 65 counselors at the camp, it was her job to be with the youngsters from early morning until bedtime at 9 in the evening. She served both as a counselor and as a crafts instructor.

Eveanna believes the job, which she got through the K-State Placement Bureau, was "a wonderful experience for going into elementary education."

Enlarged Living Room Aids Canterbury Group Activities

With an enlarged and remodeled living room providing more space, Canterbury house at 1729 Fairchild is the scene of many more Episcopal church activities this year.

Evening prayer at 5:15 p.m. Monday through Friday is one new service, the Rev. Roy A. Turner said. The students themselves read the services.

Holy communion services, which formerly were held at Danforth chapel twice a week, now are at Canterbury house at 7 a.m. Thursdays.

"We feel that more students can attend the services at Canterbury house, since it is closer to where many of them live," the Rev. Mr. Turner said.

"We serve a light breakfast after holy communion, so there is plenty of time for students to get to classes." Communion still is at Danforth chapel at 6:50 a.m. each Wednesday.

Another new activity at Canterbury house will be an informal Bible study at 4 p.m. each Wednesday. A coffee hour will be at 4 p.m. each Thursday to discuss "The Influence of Christianity in Relation to Art, Poetry, and General Literature."

"The larger room makes fellowship much easier at our Sunday evening supper meetings," the Rev. Mr. Turner said. At these meetings, the students prepare the meals and take part in group discussions.

"Television and card games are always in progress," the Rev. Mr. Turner said. "Members are welcome to drop over any time, and many do."

Canterbury club members are planning a retreat to Camp Wood near Emporia October 26 and 27, according to President John Painter, Hst Jr.

Instruction and confirmation classes are Monday and Thursday evenings for students who are interested in learning about the Episcopal church, the Rev. Mr. Turner said.

career is concerned...

one wise move
deserves another

Your decision to work for an engineering degree was a wise one. You are about to graduate to a professional level which itself is an exclusive prize that few are qualified to achieve. You have chosen a profession which is providing leadership for the most dramatic advancements of our age. Time now for another decision. Where can you invest your education so it will bring you maximum returns in satisfaction and success? Where can you serve with credit to your profession and society? If these are your goals, we'd like to suggest your next move. Associate yourself with other engineers whose aims are the same as yours. Choose an organization with a reputation for engineering excellence and an abundance of modern equipment and advanced projects. You can find these surroundings at Chance Vought, and you may obtain firsthand advance information about any feature of Chance Vought engineering from our campus representative. Ask your placement office to arrange an appointment for you. Meanwhile, for interesting facts about Chance Vought opportunities, check your library's engineering job directories, or write directly to: Engineering Personnel, Chance Vought Aircraft, Inc., P. O. Box 5907, Dallas, Texas. Note especially our history of fighter aircraft development; our most recent additions to this history, the F8U-1 CRUSADER Navy fighter and REGULUS guided missile, and our current projects in jet fighter aircraft and surface-to-surface missile development. Find out how Chance Vought can help you make your next career move as wise as your first.

Corn Is Husked; Now for Tigers

By ROGER MYERS

It's Tiger meat next on the K-State football menu after the Wildcats built new muscle on a Cornhusker diet at Lincoln by stunning three touchdown favorite Nebraska 10-7.

Whether the boost will carry the Cats past their present 1-3 record will be tested this coming Saturday here by Missouri in a Parents' Day game.

The win over Nebraska is going to help us a lot against Missouri next Saturday, Bus Mertes said. "Many people consider the Tigers the toughest team in the conference and I feel that if we can beat them we can beat anyone. All we have to do is forget about this one and start thinking about Mizzou."

Mertes had nothing but praise for his ball club.

"We felt the boys played hard as they could have and that's all we can ask. They've had this win coming for a long time because of the hard work they've turned in."

The Cat coach was especially happy with the first unit's performance in the final quarter.

"It took a lot of heart after playing the whole quarter to run those ground plays and keep possession of the ball for six minutes," he said.

We had a lot of good breaks, Mertes said. The big break was the clipping penalty against Nebraska in the fourth quarter.

With a third down and four situation, Cornhusker quarterback George Harshman completed a nine yard pass to end Marlin Hilding on the K-State 32-yard line which would have given Nebraska a first down and kept their drive going.

On the next two plays the Huskers were held for a 4-yard loss and an incomplete pass and the Wildcats took over for the next six minutes to ice their first win of the season.

Breaks or no, sophomore halfback Ben Grosse didn't need any kind of luck when he kicked his 35-yard game-winning field goal. With the ball a few yards to the left of the goal posts, Grosse split the big iron H with a perfect kick for the winning three points.

Showing more spirit than in any of the previous three games, K-State rolled up a net total of 206 yards rushing. Mixing the offense well, the Cats completed three of eight pass attempts for 57 yards through the air.

Early in the game it looked as though the contest might be a repeat performance of the season's first three games as Nebraska took the ball on their 28-yard line and marched 72 yards in 12 plays for the touchdown. George Harshman's extra point attempt was good and the Huskers took a 7-0 lead.

But the Wildcats bounced right back and rolled down to the Nebraska 11-yard line in only six plays.

Then, with Don Zadnik and Jack Keelan throwing key blocks, Cat quarterback Keith Wilson kept the ball and went around the left side for 11 yards and the touchdown. Kenny Nesmith kicked the tying point after touchdown and the score remained 7-7 until four minutes left in the third quarter when Grosse stepped in.

Nebraska's Willie Greenlaw brought the crowd of 24,000 to their feet, when, with 21 seconds left in the game, he broke loose around left end for 21 yards. Kenny Nesmith's block stopped the fleet Cornhusker halfback from going all the way and preserved the win for K-State.

Nesmith was the star for the Cats Saturday. He made 47 yards in 10 carries and caught one pass for 10 yards when K-State needed yards to keep from losing the ball in that hectic fourth quarter.

He also kicked 4 punts good for 168 yards and a 42-yard average. "Kenny played a great game," Bus Mertes said.

Quarterback Keith Wilson was shaken up in the third quarter and was carried from the field, but was not injured seriously and will be able to practice today.

Council May Consider International Committee

A motion to establish a committee of international relations to assist in furthering international-American student relations will be placed before the Student Council tonight.

If the committee proved successful it would become a permanent committee of the Student Council and members would be appointed each spring, according to the motion proposed by Marilyn Smith.

Another proposal by Miss Smith would extend an invitation to the Cosmopolitan club and other interested international students to attend Council meetings in order to gain an insight of student government work.

The Council will also consider acceptance of the revised purpose of the newly established campus industry investigating committee which would be to promote student jobs through work with Manfax, by encouraging student home handicraft industry, and by encouraging an industry to come to the College community.

The Artist Series committee will report on the progress of the Artist Series ticket sales and will outline a promotion schedule for the remainder of October.

Reports will also be heard from the Campus industries investigating committee and the SGA elections committee.

A final motion that the Council appoint one member to study and keep abreast of the happenings of the National Student association will be proposed by Neil Scott.

K-Staters will have a chance to learn about the NSA at the SGA "gripe" assembly tomorrow morning. Gary Haynes, TJ Sr, will report to the students about NSA.

Gripe Session

Mock SC Meeting Tomorrow During All-College Assembly

The Student Governing association will be in charge of the assembly at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in the Auditorium.

A mock Student Council meeting will occupy the first portion of the program, and a "gripe session" will conclude the assembly, according to Neil Scott, Zoo Jr, assembly committee chairman.

Ron Bryant, ME Sr, chairman of the Council will conduct the mock meeting. It is to include officers' and committee chairmen's reports.

The "gripe session" is an open forum during which students will be able to express problems and ask questions. Two roving mikes will be on the Auditorium floor for student participation during the "gripe session."

So far as is known, Kansas State is the only school in this country that has an open forum type assembly where student government officials face their student body.

Pat Wilkerson, BA Sr, who is Student Governing association president, will speak about the functions of student government during the mock meeting.

Treasurer Elin McCandless, HDA Soph, will report on the use of the student activity fee. Darold Barb, ChE Sr, will give a short speech on committee appointments.

Two KS Employees Injured in Accidents

Two employees of Kansas State were injured over the weekend, one in a truck accident and another when the bull he was leading gored him.

Tom Shackelford, campus landscaper, is in Riley County hospital with a skull fracture today following an accident Friday when the truck he was riding in went into a ditch near the Blue River bridge east of Manhattan, according to R. F. Gingrich, physical plant superintendent.

Frank Chamberlain, artificial breeding unit employee, was slightly injured Friday when the bull he was leading at the Kansas Artificial Breeding Service Unit got too close and gored him with its horns, KABSU officials said.

Gingrich said Shackelford had a skull fracture and minor cuts and bruises. William J. Simmons and Herman Wiard, maintenance ground employees of K-State, were riding with Shackelford, but were not injured.

Chamberlain suffered a cracked rib and minor cuts and bruises. He was treated at a local hospital, but was not admitted as a patient.

Ike's Birthday Honored Today

"We are declaring Monday IKE DAY on the K-State campus in honor of President Eisenhower's birthday," said Vash Rumph, chairman of the IKE DAY committee in Young Republicans.

"We have already distributed scrolls wishing Ike a happy birthday among K-State students and a caravan went through the campus during the noon hour to highlight today's activities. A poster hanging campaign will end the day's festivities," Rumph said.

Football Victory and Rain Make Beautiful Weekend

Wow! We beat Nebraska and it rained too.

What more can K-Staters ask of a weekend? The football victory certainly brought smiles back to the faces of K-Staters who were beginning to forecast a trip to the Big Seven cellar for the Cats this year.

And the rain, over an inch of it was almost too good to be true. It rained so hard for awhile that even the dust was grounded.

EVEN K-STATE'S track team routed Nebraska 36-22 in a cross country race Saturday morning.

One loyal Cat rooter was so overwhelmed at the unexpected football victory that he rushed outside and rang an old church bell in his yard 10 times to signify the ten points racked up by K-State.

Dean C. W. Mullins, assistant dean of the School of Agriculture, entertained his neighbors with the bell. It's a good thing the Cats didn't run the score up any higher or the Dean might have donned his arm off.

SERIOUSLY, K-Staters needed the shot in the arm that the weekend provided. Heretofore the spirit around the campus was at a low ebb. Few ventured to hope that the Cats had a chance to win against Nebraska. Oddsmakers picked Nebraska by three touchdowns.

But the Cats came through and in a sparkling manner. It goes to show that even if the Cats are down on the canvas, they can't be counted out. Let other Big Seven teams take notice that the Wildcat's claws are sharp.

As for students, let's have a lot more spirit around here. Who knows, we might even get to have a pep rally before the Missouri game next week.—George Vohs.

Australian Denizens To Draft Plans For Welcoming Pogo Down-Under'

Brisbane, Australia—(Special)—Dingos, Koalas and Emus of this vicinity will gather tomorrow night in the shade of a boola bong tree to draft plans to welcome Pogo Possum, American candidate for President, to this sunny land of "down-under."

One prominent Emu, manufacturer of false Ostrich feathers, claimed that the denizens of Australia and the Anzac regions are one hundred per cent for the marsupial candidate. "I am not a marsupial myself," said the Emu, "although I have been invited to join and my mother's father had a little pouch, but I can guarantee that many of our prominent denizens are simply delighted that Pogo has decided to stump this country for the "down under" vote. Denizens from all over will be gathering in New South Wales and you can bet they will vote to a man for the candidate from up-over. One very important denizen, a platypus by trade, has guaranteed to deliver the monotreme vote."

Pressed on whether the other marsupials will welcome the opossum candidate as one of their own, the Emu declared that so far as he was concerned the election is in the bag. "We are divided on just one point," he pointed out. "There is some feeling on the part of a small Kangaroo group that Pogo will not be the first to stump the country."

At this, an old man Kangaroo spoke up and claimed that there is no such thing as a small Kangaroo group. "A small Kanagroo is a Wallaby," he insisted, "and is an interloper from New Zealand. Any Kangaroo group would have to be a LARGE Kangaroo group. And as for stumping the country, NOBODY has ever stumped the Aussies."

A delegate from New Zealand, thereupon, threw dirt into the pouch of a placid old lady Kangaroo and fighting broke out among the Echidnas who claimed that they single-handedly had stumped the entire state of Queensland in a stumping contest in 1932.

Order is expected to be restored in time for the happy welcoming party.

Petition of 100 Signatures Results in Safety Action

By NANCY MOLTER

Last spring a petition of 100 names concerned with the safety of school children of College Hill residents was presented to the county commission by the College Hill school district safety committee.

The petition was a result of nine accidents which occurred on the curve near the College Hill school.

Proposals were made which included the installation of more speed limit signs on the curve and regular checks of the road to be made by city police, sheriff's deputies, or campus police. A safety patrol made up of residents of College Hill who would have the power of a citizen's arrest was also considered.

THE SAFETY DEPARTMENT worked out the necessary arrangements, and the campus patrol now patrols the area daily. Since "Top of the World" is state property, the campus patrol has the authority to make checks along the road leading there since it is used mostly by college students. More speed limit and safety signs were also installed.

Arthur Brayfield, a member of the safety committee, commented that "the situation has greatly improved." "It has been most helpful since the campus patrol began making regular trips out to 'Top of the World.' The percentage of speeders has dropped satisfactorily; of course, occasionally, there are a few speeders around 2 a.m. in the morning," he said. Brayfield also said the committee felt there was no need to take further action.

BRAYFIELD COMMENDED the college students for the favorable way in which they responded after the problem was brought before the college community. "It wasn't the signs and the patrol as much as the students' cooperation," he commented.

Clifford Palmquist, county engineer, said closer police enforcement and the improved signing suggested by the safety department had been carried out with good results.

Richard Hein, another safety committee member, said the Collegian had helped last spring's situation by the articles on the safety committee which brought the problem to the attention of the college crowd.

"The college patrol is holding speeding down but credit goes to the college students for cooperating with us," B. E. Deckert, Riley county sheriff, said.

Bomb Tests Called Valuable—Wilson

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Washington, Oct. 14—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said tonight it will be "valuable" for the United States to continue testing a small number of large nuclear bombs. But he indicated disinterest in testing bigger H-bombs than previously exploded.

"As far as I know, no such tests (of bigger bombs) are planned," he said on the NBC televised program "Meet the Press."

Wilson renewed the administration's assault on Adlai E. Stevenson's proposals that this country take the lead in seeking an end to H-bomb tests, and that consideration be given to ending the draft in the "foreseeable future" if security considerations permit.

Attacks Red Labor Practice

Castelgandolfo, Italy, Oct. 14—Pope Pius XII today denounced the Communist practice of using women as laborers in heavy industry.

He described the employment of women in mines, workshops and other arduous enterprises as a "sad return to the times which Christian civilization long since buried."

The 80-year-old pontiff spoke in a radio address from his summer home here to members of the Italian women's center on the occasion of their pilgrimage to the shrine of Loreto in northeast Italy.

Great Civilization Center?

Houston, Texas, Oct. 14—Dr. Nahum Goldmann, the voice of world Zionism, said tonight that peace between Israel and the Arab states could create a new Middle East society which could be "one of the great civilizational centers of all time."

Goldmann, president of the world Zionist organization, told 2,500 delegates at the 42nd annual convention of Hadasah, the women's Zionist organization of America, that genuine cooperation between Arabs and Jews could convert the Near East into a region of plenty, of potentials utilized, dreams realized, and of prophetic principles applied in life."

Faculty Should Stay Out Of Student Parking Lots

To: The Kansas State Collegian

We the undersigned agree 100 per cent with the article written in last week's Collegian.

It seems to us the faculty should not be permitted to park anywhere they please, and the students have to park in certain places. With the faculty parking in the students parking area the parking spaces go just twice as fast. It seems to us the faculty should have to park in their lots as well as the students. How about this?????

Let's get in gear and get something done about it.

Arzadon's Accuracy Tops As Prognosticants Way Off Base

Bibiano Arzadon, AEC Gr., bested 39 other Pigskin Prognosticants entrants in this week's Collegian football Prediction contest.

Arzadon is witnessing his first season of American football—this is his first year in the United States. He is from the Philippine Islands.

Of the 40 contestants, 36 picked 3-touchdown favorite Nebraska to win, only six going along with K-State.

Arzadon chose a 17-15 score in favor of the Wildcats. The final game score was 10-7, K-State. Statistically, Arzadon pegged the Cat's first downs at two, seven short of their total, 17.

K-State racked up 243 rushing yards; Arzadon predicted 220 yards. He looked for 110 Cat passing yards while there were actually only 57.

Sig Alphas Go Aerial To Win Flush Bowl

Showing a passing attack that completed 57 per cent of their tosses, Sigma Alpha Epsilon downed Phi Delta Theta 43-13 in the 10th annual Flush Bowl Saturday afternoon.

The Sig Alpha passing attack was not hampered by the high winds as they scored seven touchdowns on passes, in what might have been called the dust bowl.

Bob Doebele led the Sig Alpha scoring with three touchdowns. The first Sig Alpha TD came on a pass from Chad Sims, who caught a pass from Jim McCormick. The extra point was good on a pass from Darwin Wester to Stan Knowles.

In the second quarter McCormick, again on the throwing end, hit Doebele who lateraled off to Sims for another Sig Alpha touchdown to lead 13-0 at the half. Going with the wind in the third quarter the Sig Alphas tallied two touchdowns with one coming on a play from Ralph Ball to McCormick to Sims to Doebele. The third touchdown came on a pass from Ball to John Costello.

The Phi Delt broke their scoring famine in the fourth quarter as they scored on a pass from Paul Parsons to Dick Pearson. The extra point was from Ron Holemen to Clancy Norris. The Sig Alphas came right back with their fifth touchdown on a pass from Ball to Doebele, and moments later Ball threw to Knowles for another Sig Alpha touchdown.

The Phi Delt ran the kickoff back for a touchdown with passes from George Davidson to Burnette Earp to Norris. The Sig Alphas last six points came on a pass from Jim Murray to Sims to Knowles to Dave Lamar.

Thirty-One Seniors Attend National Education Confab

Thirty-one Agricultural Education seniors are attending the Student Teachers of Agriculture conference at the National Future Farmers of American convention in Kansas City this week.

One hundred fifty students from 15 state colleges and universities and approximately 10,000 FFA members from the 48 states, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, and Japan will be present.

Included in the program for the student teachers is a coffee hour on Tuesday afternoon sponsored by the National Vocational Agriculture Teachers association.

On Wednesday the students will have the opportunity to meet the winners of the National FFA public speaking contest and the Star Farmer awards.

Numerous state and national leaders in vocational education will be included on the agenda throughout the two days.

Attendance at the conference is part of the teacher training program of the methods and participation classes.

Block and Bridle Club

The Block and Bridle club will have their fall steak fry 5:30 Tuesday evening at the top of the world. All students interested in joining the Block and Bridle club are invited to attend as this is the fall membership drive.

Complimentary tickets for all non-members will be given on the basement floor of east Waters hall. Anyone needing a ride be at the pavilion at 5:15 Tuesday evening.

SC Will Fine Groups Violating Posting Limit

The Student Council decided last night that, beginning at 5 p.m. Tuesday, a one dollar per poster fine will be assessed any organization leaving material posted on campus past deadline.

The Council is allowing the grace period before fining goes into effect because of the fact that fining has not been enforced in the past.

"We feel that it would be unfair to suddenly announce that fining will be enforced immediately," one Council member said, "so we are giving this one-day warning for the benefit of offending groups."

The Council appointed three more committees and part of a fourth last night as it moved nearer to completing its committee rosters for the year.

Appointed to the campus beautification committee were Jim Snyder, AH Soph, and Kent Priddy, Ag Jr.

Named to the alumni relations committee were Darlene Nelson, EEd Sr; Ken Visser, Psy Fr; Bob Brown, EE Soph; Barbara Huff, EEd Fr; and Anna Belle Chilcott, HEN Soph.

One more position on the SGA elections committee was filled as Sylvia Gaddie, Clo Jr, was named from the Home Economics School. The committee still has no members from the School of Veterinary Medicine and Graduate School.

Appointed to the friends of art committee were Patsy McClenahan, EEd Soph, and Sally Engle, Clo Fr.

The Council accepted a motion by Marilyn Smith that three persons be appointed to an international relations committee to assist in furthering international-American student relations. The motion also contained a clause stipulating that if the committee's work proves satisfactory to the Council, it should be appointed each Spring as a permanent SGA committee.

The Council will invite the Cosmopolitan club and other interested international students to attend Council meetings in order to gain insight into student government work.

A committee on Constitution revision was set up. This committee—which will have faculty, student, and Council representation—will meet weekly to examine the Constitution and provide suggestions to keep the document up-to-date.

A Council member will be appointed to study and keep abreast of the happenings of the National Student association.

The Council revised, as the result of a motion by Jerry Holliday, the purpose of the newly-established campus-industry investigating committee. The revision states that the purpose of the committee will be to promote student jobs through work with Manfax, by encouraging student home handicraft industry, and by encouraging an industry to come to the College community.

Senior Officers Election Polls To Be Open Thursday, Friday

Polls for senior class elections voting will be open from 7:45 a.m. until 5 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

Only one polling place will be open. It will be located in Anderson hall.

Ballots must be marked with an "X" opposite the candidate's name or opposite the name of a write-in vote. Seniors must present their activity cards in order to vote. The card may be used only once and no activity card is transferable.

Anyone who is caught in violation of election rules will be referred to the Tribunal for breaking the K-State honor code.

Seniors will elect a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

Russell Bradley, Chm Sr, and Gilmore Dahl, AH Sr, are candidates for senior class president. Bradley is the Progressive party candidate and Dahl is the Integrity party candidate.

Other Integrity party candidates are Gaye Fryer, HEJ Sr, vice-president; Joan Skupa, Clo Sr, secretary; and Sandra Mueller, Clo Sr, treasurer.

Other Progressive party candidates are Sharon Diamond, Soc Sr, vice-president; Marilyn Smith, Soc Sr, secretary; and Marylyn McCready, Eng Sr, treasurer.

Campaigning for the offices are in full swing this week as both the Integrity and Progress-

STUDENT COUNCIL MEMBERS met in the auditorium last night to rehearse for this morning's assembly.

'Gripe' Assembly

Students Question Rejection of KSU

"Prestige" was cited by Student Council members both as a reason for rejecting the proposed name change to Kansas State University and as a reason for keeping the Kansas State college title.

Jerry Holliday defended the Council's recent rejection of a committee investigating the change. "It was defeated because Kansas State is the first land grant college in America. We have a certain amount of prestige because of this," he said.

Mary Lu Compton, said, "The advantage of a change to Kansas State University is a matter of prestige. By being Kansas State college, we're placing ourselves on a level with Fort Hays State, Emporia State, and Pittsburg State."

Ron Bryant, ME Sr, Council chairman, commented that the issue was not necessarily dead. "McCain said that if the entire student body wants Kansas State university, he'll go all out to get it," Bryant said.

Gary Haynes, TJ Sr, reported on the National Students association, the largest organization of college student governments in the world. The NSA program helps to co-ordinate schools and serves them in various ways, such as making available the results of surveys.

Feeling was mixed as to whether the Council should vote to join the Association or not.

Elin McCandless, HE Soph, gave a treasurer's report explaining how the Apportionment board works. Campus industries committee appointments, and K-State's international relations were considered briefly by Council members.

Bryant announced that there would be a coffee hour in the Student Union main lounge tomorrow from 3:30-4:30 to continue the "gripe session".

Tribunal Declares Fryer, Skupa Petitions Invalid

The Tribunal met last night and declared invalid two petitions for senior class offices.

The petitions of Gaye Fryer, Integrity party candidate for vice-president and Joan Skupa, Integrity party candidate for secretary were ruled invalid because each petition had a signature of a person who is not a senior.

Pat Wilkerson, student body president, asked the Tribunal to interpret what a senior is as referred to in Article II, Section II, paragraph 3, part b in the constitutional by-laws.

The statement in question read, "Seniors may only sign one petition for each class office."

The signatures in question were by persons who are not listed as seniors by the registrar's office. Both of the persons had only 81 hours of credit and are therefore still classified as juniors.

The elections committee had stated that because the persons involved would both graduate with the class of '57, they should be allowed to vote in the senior elections.

The Tribunal in handing down its decision said, "the Tribunal feels that the term seniors refers to the official classification as set up by the registrar's office according to Article II, Section II, paragraph 3, part b of the by-laws."

Keith Swenson, chancellor of the Tribunal, said that by virtue of the above decision, the Tribunal feels that although the elections committee and the two candidates acted with good intentions, the petitions in question should be considered invalid according to the strict letter of the law.

Tribunal Business Usually Concerned With Violations of K-State Honor Code

The student Tribunal met last night in their initial session of the school year. Their purpose was to consider the validity of two senior class election petitions, which they declared invalid.

The Tribunal is set up under Article VII of the Student Government association constitution and is charged with responsibility in three main areas:

- Interpreting the SGA constitution and any law, action of the Student Council, or charter arising under the constitution.
- Trying impeachment cases involving Student Council members or Student Government officials.
- Hearing disciplinary cases which are violations of the K-State Honor Code, and recommending action in such cases to the Dean of Students.

The Tribunal business usually centers around the latter area. Typical cases of cheating, theft, misuse of library materials, traffic violations, and arrest for any reason by campus or Manhattan police officials.

Any student is liable to make an appearance before the Tribunal in a case involving:

1. Infractions of KSC rules and regulations.
2. Dishonesty in scholastic work.
3. Immorality, and indecency.
4. Irresponsible, destructive, or riotous acts.
5. Acts reflecting adversely on KSC, or acts which are detrimental to the public.
6. Violation of the rights of fellow students.

Should a student be convicted of one of the above offenses by the Tribunal he may be denied campus privileges, have his activities restricted, be required to make restitution of destroyed or damaged property, be placed on disciplinary probation, or expelled from the College.

Though these punishments may seem harsh, the Tribunal attempts to place major emphasis on the rehabilitation of students involved in disciplinary problems. Its aim is to encourage good citizenship in the College community and to develop among all students an understanding of, respect for, and adherence to laws, rules, and regulations.

Many students have helped to formulate the laws that are enforced by the Tribunal.

Only through student support and obedience of the rules can the Tribunal continue to serve a worthwhile function on the Kansas State campus. Be smart, stay away.—George Vohs.

Students, Faculty Interviewed Agree on Parking Situation

The majority of students and faculty members interviewed about the parking situation at K-State agreed each group should stick to their own parking area.

About one-third of those interviewed were members of the faculty.

BUD GINN, Gop Fr—"The faculty has ample room. I think the faculty should go back to their own lots and leave student lots alone."

R. F. GINGRICH, physical plant superintendent—"The regulations are that the faculty-staff lot is for faculty and staff. The student lot is for students and the public."

JUDY FISHER, SED Soph—"If the faculty have their parking lots, they should stay within those lots, just as the students should stay within their parking lots."

CHARLIE McINTYRE, SS Fr—"I've had two tickets for parking in the faculty lot. Both times I've tried to park in the student lot first, and have noticed several faculty stickers there. If the students have to play ball, the faculty should, too. Do the faculty members get tickets?"

LOUIS FINA, bacteriology professor—"I don't think the faculty should park in student lots, nor do I think students should park in faculty lots."

JOANNE TAYLOR, BMT Fr—"I don't think the faculty should park in student lots. I also think students should have nothing to say if they are parking in the faculty lots."

BILL WARREN, Ar 02—"If the student is fined for parking in faculty lots, the faculty should be fined for parking in student lots."

JIM LANE, CE Fr—"I think the faculty ought to stick to their own parking lots as the students should to theirs. And if they don't, they should be penalized."

PROFESSOR ELBERT MACY, journalism professor—"I think they could all walk."

CAROL BRONOUGH, AH Jr—"If the faculty can park in student lots, we should be able to park in theirs—a fair trade."

CAROLINE HARKINS, TJ Soph—"I don't think the faculty should park in student lots because they have plenty of lots of their own."

W. R. KERR, veterans service office—"I don't park in the students lots. There are a lot of student cars that have faculty stickers because the students' wives work here."

BETTY BRITON, EEd Soph—"Since there are so many more students than faculty members, and the faculty lots are so much more conveniently located, the students should get a fair break. If a student wants to park his car, he has to come to class a half-hour early in the morning to find a place."

JIM SCRIVEN, academic advisor in the Arts and Science office—"I don't park in the student parking lot. I think that K-State regulations are very lenient in that they let freshmen drive on campus at all. Half of the students who signed the letter in yesterday's Collegian were freshmen. I think everyone should abide by the rules."

MARGE BEARG, Clo Sr—"The student lot is almost always full and the faculty lot is not; therefore, I think that the faculty shouldn't park in the students' lot."

DALE GARVER, BA Fr—"I think that the faculty should be fined for parking in student lots, just as students are fined for parking in faculty lots. The faculty have their own lots—students don't have much of a place to park, relatively. When the faculty park in student lots, there is just that much less space for students to park."

HENRY BECK, geology professor—"I don't park in the student lots. I don't appreciate the students parking in the faculty lot. I believe that the students have a legitimate complaint, though. I think a system to limit driving of cars by both students and faculty in relation to distance from the campus might solve the problem."

New York Times Endorses Ike, Criticizes Nixon

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

New York, Oct. 16—The New York Times today endorsed President Eisenhower for reelection but criticized the GOP choice of Vice President Richard M. Nixon as his running mate.

The independent newspaper supported Mr. Eisenhower in 1952. Its 1956 endorsement appeared in an editorial in today's editions.

It commended both the president and Adlai Stevenson for sharing a middle-of-the-road position and having in common "a distrust of extremist positions and a clearly demonstrated faith in both the philosophy and method of moderation."

The editorial said there were two "persuasive" arguments in favor of the reelection of the president:

"First, despite disappointments, there is much in the record of the Eisenhower administration that is of real and lasting value to the country.

"Second, it is a matter of major importance that the modernization of the Republican party and its rescue from the rut of reaction into which it had fallen after 20 years out of power be carried forward another stage under the leadership of Mr. Eisenhower."

Clipper To Sea with 31

San Francisco, (U.P.)—A distressed Pan American airways stratoclipper ditched in the Pacific ocean, 1,045 miles southwest of here at 10:16 A.M. (CST) today and broke in half on contact. All 31 persons aboard were rescued in "good condition."

The ditching came after the plane's captain, Richard Ogg, had circled above the Coast Guard Cutter Pontchartrain, which operates as weather station "November," and cruises the area in a 10-mile radius 24 hours a day. The plane circled for more than four hours dumping gasoline and awaiting "more favorable" ditching conditions.

Dulles Affirms Pledges

Washington, Oct. 16—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States stands behind its pledges to help any nation which might be the victim of aggression in the Middle East.

Dulles took a grave view, at his news conference, of rising tension in the Middle East.

He said Israel's reprisal raids against Jordan, for example, indicate a deterioration of that situation and failure of U. N. efforts earlier this year to ease the tensions.

On 'Titoist' Bandwagon

Poland and Hungary, two of Soviet Russia's chief satellites, seem to have taken front-row seats on the "Titoist" band wagon.

In both countries, high officials who had been disgraced as overfriendly toward the independent Communist line taken by President Tito of Yugoslavia have been restored to favor.

Other high officials who had been known as firm supporters of the Josef Stalin type of red dictatorship have been dismissed.

Victims of purges in the Stalin era have been "rehabilitated."

Most of these have not been present to enjoy their vindication. They had been hanged as traitors. But in Hungary five of them, all army generals, at least have been reburied with military honors.

Ike Cuts Yugoslav Aid

Washington, Oct. 16—President Eisenhower is halting delivery of more than 200 jet fighter planes and other heavy military equipment to Communist Yugoslavia.

Mr. Eisenhower disclosed the ban in declaring a new policy yesterday on aid to Marshal Tito's regime.

STUDYING CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

Is studying bugging you? Do you have trouble remembering names, dates, facts, figures, and the location of the library? Dear friends, it need not be so. All you have to do is master the simple art of mnemonics.

Mnemonics, as we all know, was invented by the great Greek philosopher Mnemon in 526 B.C. Mnemonics, incidentally, was only one of the many inventions of this fertile Athenian. He is perhaps best known for his invention of the staircase, which, as you may imagine, was of inestimable value to mankind. Before the staircase, people who wished to go from floor to floor had to leap from springboards. This meant, of course, that aged and infirm persons were forced to live out their lives, willy-nilly, on the ground floor, and many of them grew cross as bears. Especially Demosthenes, who was elected consul of Athens three times but never served because he was unable to get up to the office of the commissioner of oaths on the third floor to be sworn in.

But after Mnemon's staircase was invented, Demosthenes got up to the third floor easy as pie and took the oath-to Athens' sorrow, as it turned out. Demosthenes, his temper shortened by years of confinement to the ground floor, soon embroiled his countrymen in a series of senseless and costly wars with the Persians, the Visigoths, and the Ogallala Sioux. He was voted out of office in 517 B.C., and Mnemon, who had made his accession possible, was pelted to death with fruit salad in the Duomo.

But I digress. We were discussing mnemonics, which are nothing more than aids to memory—catchwords or jingles that help you to remember names, dates, and places. For example, any student of American history surely knows the little jingle:

Columbus sailed the ocean blue
In fourteen hundred ninety two.

You see how simple a mnemonic is? There is no reason why you can't make up your own. Say, for instance, that you are proceeding with American history.

The Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock
In sixteen hundred twenty, doc.

(This jingle is especially useful to medical students.)
The next important event is the Boston Tea Party. Let us compose a rough-and-ready couplet about that:

Samuel Adams flung the tea
Into the briny Zuyder Zee.

You can see how simple and useful they are—not only for history, but also for current events. For instance,

In nineteen hundred fifty six
It's the cigarette that clicks!

What, you ask, is the cigarette that clicks? Why, Philip Morris, of corris! And why shouldn't it click? Could any cigarette be more pleasing to the palate? No! Could any cigarette be more tempting to the taste buds? No! A thundering, thumping, resounding no! Get some today, hey. You'll see.

©Max Shulman, 1956

You won't need mnemonics to remember the wonderful natural flavor of Philip Morris Cigarettes, whose makers are delighted to bring you this column every week.

Hour Dances, Parties Highlight Greek Week

Chi Omega members will entertain their dates and guests at the annual Hay Hop to be held in Pottorf hall October 19 from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Dress will be casual, with blue jeans and square dance dresses predominating. The Pastels from Emporia will provide the music.

Twenty two Kansas-State TKEs visited Phi chapter at Lincoln for the Nebraska K-State game.

Tex Beneke, an alum of the fraternity, entertained at the Phi chapter house with a jam session Friday night.

An Hawaiian party was given for the visiting TKEs and their dates Saturday night.

Before the varsity game, the K-State chapter defeated their hosts 14-0 in a touch football game. They were awarded a travelling trophy. This visitation is to become an annual affair.

Tuesday night the Alpha Delta Pi's had an hour dance with the Kappa Sigs.

Thursday night the Chi Omega will be entertained with an hour dance at the Alpha Tau Omega house.

Next Tuesday night the Southeast hall girls will entertain the ATOs with an hour dance.

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity members gave their dates orchid leis imported from Hawaii last Saturday evening at their Hawaiian party.

The ATO house was decorated with artificial grass, driftwood, fishnets, palm trees, and painted murals. Bamboo partitions separated the dance floor from the bar, where punch in coconut halves, sandwiches, cookies and salted coconut chips were served.

Native Hawaiian students entertained with singing and hula dancing. A coconut head prize was given to Mrs. D. E. Glenn for being most appropriately dressed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Angle and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Duncan were chaperones.

The Theta Xis will have a dance at the chapter house next Saturday night after the football game.

Members of Pi Beta Phi enjoyed a spread Saturday in honor of winning first place in the Flush Bowl float contest. The theme of their float was, "Up in the Clouds Over the Flush Bowl."

The Kappa Sigma Red Dog party was a great success, according to Duane Osborne, Sp Jr. About 70 persons attended the South Seas costume party at the house. The evening was spent dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Soelter and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Glatt were chaperones.

Houses Plan Teas To Honor Parents

After the game this Saturday 10, at a dinner at the chapter house.

Missouri, Alpha Xi Delta will entertain their parents at a buffet dinner. The dinner will be at the chapter house where special decorations will herald the Parents' Day weekend.

A tea in honor of Mrs. J. I. Hollingsworth, Pi Beta Phi housemother, was held Sunday, October 14, from 3-5 p.m. Mrs. Hollingsworth, their new housemother, was formerly the housemother for Sigma Phi Epsilon at Kansas university.

In the receiving line were Dean Helen Moore; Marilyn Smith, president; Sandy Arnold, social chairman; and Mrs. Ralph Nevins, president of the Manhattan alumni.

About 200 guests attended the tea.

Delta Delta Delta will have open house for their parents Saturday at the house.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained queen candidates for the Flush Bowl Wednesday, October Dinner guests at the Alpha Tau Omega house Sunday noon were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Rainsberger, Lynn Bayles and Jeanne Gaston.

The Pi Kappa Alphas entertained the pledges' parents Sunday, October 14. The function of the fraternity was explained and the parents toured the house.

Next Saturday the girls in Northwest hall will honor their parents with a buffet luncheon preceding the game, and afterwards a coffee hour.

Members of Delta Tau Delta will entertain their parents next Saturday at an open house. A buffet supper will be served following the game.

Weekend guests at the Alpha Delta Pi house were: Shirley Davis, KU medical center; Lynn Bayles and Jeanne Gaston, both Alpha Delta PIs from KU; Carole Morris and Linda Chart, Wichita U., and Candy Glennon, Pittsburg.

Kappa Sigs Top AKL's; Marking Four Straight

Kappa Sigma, after playing four games in intramural football, has kept its end zone unmarred by opponents' cleats. Last night they held Alpha Kappa Lambda scoreless while scoring 26 points in winning their fourth game of the season.

Scoring for the Kappa Sig's were Quarles on a pass from Roberts in the first quarter, Begley on a pass from Quarles in the second quarter, Quarles on a pass from Begley and Quarles on a pass from Barrett in the fourth quarter. Scoring the extra points was Begley on passes from Roberts, both coming in the fourth quarter.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon came out on top of a hard fought battle with the Sigma Chi's by scoring in the last 17 seconds to post a 19-13 victory.

At halftime the score read 12-0 with Sigma Alpha Epsilon in command. Ralph Ball scored the winning marker. Also scoring for the Sig Alphas were Stan Knowles and Darwin Hester with touchdowns and Chad Sims with an extra point.

Scoring for the Sigma Chi's were Larry McDonald with two touchdowns and Bush Buller with an extra point.

Delta Tau Delta scored all of their points in the first half to post a 19-12 victory over Theta Xi. Scoring for the Delt's were Tom Hector, Joe Kashner, and Rich Jennings with touchdowns and John Witley an extra point. Don Hamilton scored two touchdowns for the Theta Xi's.

Pi Kappa Alpha scored four touchdowns and a safety to upend Lambda Chi Alpha with a score of 26 to 6. Leading the way for PIKA's was Dick Boyd, who scored three of the touchdowns.

The first score came on a pass from Jerry Metz to Boyd, the second score on a pass from Frank Meegan to Boyd, the third Pike score a pass from Keith Andler to Pat Roberts. Pi Kappa Alpha kept pouring it on as they scored their fourth on a pass from Meegan to Metz. Ron Haney scored a safety for the Pi Kappa Alpha's. Lambda Chi made their lone TD on a pass from Bob Oblander to Frank Brown.

In other games, Acacia won over Alpha Epsilon Pi, 27-12; Beta Sigma Psi beat Phi Kappa Tau 20-6; Alpha Gamma Rho beat Delta Sigma Phi 20-19. Phi Delta Theta beat Beta Theta Pi, 19-13.

Two other scoreless games were turned when Alpha Tau Omega beat the Farm House, 6-0, and Tau Kappa Epsilon beat the 1834 Club, 19-0.

Today's schedule: 4:45: Sigma Nu vs Sigma Phi Epsilon, North-W; YMCA vs Ex-Broncos, North-C; OK House vs Kasbah, North-E; Hui O Makules vs Brewster Boys, Campus-SE; Sigma Phi Nothing vs Rebels, Campus-E.

Nine Lettermen To Aid Cat Basketball Attack

By PAUL DeWEESE
Sports Publicity Director

K-State's basketball squad opened practice yesterday with nine lettermen returning from the 1955-56 Big Seven championship team.

Working with a small squad of 18, Coach Tex Winter eyes the season ahead as hinging on size. "We have more size in camp," he explained, "particularly if Bob Boozer, 6-7 sophomore forward from Omaha, Neb., can make the grade at forward."

The Wildcat coach said his probable starting fivesome includes Boozer and letterman Hayden Abbott (6-3) "at forwards, Jack Parr, all-Big Seven center (6-9), and lettermen guards Roy DeWitz 6-3 junior) and Eddie Wallace (5-11) senior.

Three of that quintet were regulars last season—Abbott, Parr, and DeWitz.

Winter cautioned that this lineup was "subject to change on awfully short notice."

"We feel we have at least two sophomores who can press for a starting job in Don Matuszak (5-11 guard from Cicero, Ill.) and Jim Holwerda, (6-0 guard from Lindsborg)," the Wildcat mentor said.

"In an ordinary year, we would be headed for the top again," Winter added. "But most teams in the Big Seven are considerably improved over last season, and Kansas has Wilt Chamberlain, plus overall squad improvement.

"A lot of our future depends on Parr. If he can keep the enthusiasm, spirit, and desire to excel that he had last year—or 'stay hungry' as we like to put it—we should give anybody trouble."

Parr was outstanding as a sophomore last season when he poured through 17.4 points a game and averaged 14 rebounds a game. He's been named a strong All-America candidate. His play last year was the best all-around performance of any K-State player in history.

The Wildcats are missing only four members from last season's conference champs and only two of their current crop are seniors. Rounding out the list of 18 are 7 juniors and 7 sophomores.

"We expect to cut the squad to 12 or 14 men within two weeks," Winter predicted. "And we figure to work with only 12 men when we open the season December 1."

The Wildcats open at home against Houston university, Missouri Valley champs last season.

SMILE WHEN I SHOOT! Wildcat Basketball Coach Tex Winter prepares to take a shot as Roy DeWitz, Hayden Abbott, and Jack Parr look on. The three were starters for K-State in the 1955-56 season.

GOT IT—Jerry Metz hauls in a pass from Pi Kappa Alpha quarterback Larry Youngdoff as the Pikes head downfield for another touchdown. The PIKA's beat Lambda Chi Alpha 26-6 for their fourth straight Group III win.

Mizzou Works On Pass Game

Columbia, Mo., (U.P.)—Missouri university's football team, enthusiastic after its first win Saturday, devoted all of yesterday's practice to passing.

Coach Don Fuatrot drilled the first three units at length on the aerial attack in preparation for the game with K-State Saturday.

Only minor injuries were suffered by the Tigers in the clash against North Dakota State. Halfback Jerry Curtwright suffered an ankle sprain and guard Ray Michael a twisted knee.

Confidence Restored; Cats Run Offensive

Their confidence restored following Saturday's 10-7 victory over Nebraska, K-State gridders ran through a long offensive practice Monday with two familiar faces in the new starting lineup.

Ellis Rainsberger, Wildcat captain, moved into the first string center position replacing Jerry Sand. Jim Luzinski moved up to the right end position replacing George Laddish.

Rainsberger, a former guard and tackle, was switched to center last week by Coach Bus Mertes and shared first unit duty with Sand in the Nebraska game. Rainsberger's performance against Nebraska warranted the move, Mertes said.

Luzinski caught two passes for a total of 47 yards in the Nebraska game. An ankle injury in pre-season drills has haunted Luzinski so far this season.

Kerry Clifford and Bill Carrington, center and fullback respectively, reported back to the team Monday after missing the Nebraska game because of injuries.

The first two units ran drills at half speed during the scrimmage session. The third team worked against the freshmen at full speed during the two hour practice.

Heavy work for the Cats begins today with drilling against Missouri play patterns on tap for the practice. K-State meets Missouri this Saturday in its Big Seven home opener.

MU Gridder To Observe Birthday Against K-State

Kansas City, Mo., (U.P.)—Jimmy Hunter of Missouri, a kid who began learning football from his dad about the time he learned to walk, celebrates his 21st birthday Saturday as Missouri opens its drive to the Orange Bowl race against K-State.

"While he has played great ball for us in the past, I really think Jimmy will come into his own in the important conference race," Coach Don Faurot said.

"He is the man who makes us click, both running and passing, and is great on defense," Faurot added. "As Hunter goes, so will go Missouri's football fortunes."

While Hunter is better as a runner than as a passer, he still leads the Big Seven conference in the aerial department, completing 15 of 29 for 163 yards. Faurot says that he is "great enough on defense alone to make the grade in the pro ranks."

The six-foot, 193-pound senior quarterback was born in Newport, Ark., on Oct. 20, 1935, and it wasn't long before his father, P. M.

Hunter, was showing him the tricks of football.

He played high school ball under his father's coaching at Webb City, Mo., earned 13 letters as an all-round athlete, and won all-state honors as a fullback.

He played halfback and then quarterback at Missouri, but saw little action last season due to injuries. Apparently over his injury jinx now, Hunter is the biggest single reason why Missouri is favored to finish second in the conference behind Oklahoma and play in the Orange Bowl.

"THE FAMILY HOUSE"

Open 6 a.m. to 1 a.m.

Building of First Dorm May Begin in Summer

K-State's first men's dormitory should be under construction by next summer, according to R. F. Gingrich, superintendent of the physical plant.

The first dormitory will house 600 men and will provide kitchen and dining facilities in an adjacent building. Construction of a second 600-man unit is to begin within two years.

The Housing and Home Finance association has given tentative approval for a $2,200,000 loan for one dormitory and a dining hall.

The dorms will be located about two blocks west of the military science building on a 12-acre tract. The dining hall will be constructed so that facilities can be added to accommodate both dorms. Adequate parking space will be provided.

Work on detailed plans start today by the state architect. Contracts will be let by the middle of next summer.

The dormitories are to be six story structures with a basement constructed of reinforced concrete. Plans for the outside finish are brick and native stone veneer. Each building will have three bedroom wings, 38 feet by 120 feet, connected with a central lounge area about 44 feet square. A typical bedroom for two students will be 12 feet 8 inches by 15 feet 2 inches.

The housemother's apartment will include a living room, kitchenette, bedroom, and bath.

The basement will house three laundry rooms, a mechanical equipment room, and storage area. Five stairways and three elevators will be provided.

The kitchen and dining hall, located between the two dorms, will be a two-story structure. An L-shaped cafeteria will provide service to 600 men in two 300-man shifts.

KS Seniors May Apply For Civil Service Tests

By PAUL BOCQUIN

Students wishing to take the civil service foreign service office exam, December 8, must apply at the placement bureau not later than October 26, Chet Peters, placement director, announced.

A federal service entrance exam, for all graduating seniors wishing federal employment, will be given November 10. Students taking this exam must apply not later than October 25, Peters said.

Another entrance exam is scheduled for January 12, 1957. Application deadline is December 27.

"One cannot be selected for federal civil service appointment, in many cases, without taking the entrance exam," Peters said.

Applicants wishing to apply for a particular professional position must complete all the training requirements specified, he added.

"Upon completion of these requirements they will be promoted, noncompetitively, to professional positions in their field," Peters said.

Applicants who have not reached their eighteenth birthday may be refused a federal appointment, although they can apply at the age of 16, he said.

"Civil service candidates must be physically able to perform the duties of their position efficiently. Good vision and ability to read printed material without strain are required. Glasses are permitted, Peters said.

Positions in cartography, involving the use of stereoscopic instruments, require good vision in each eye, with or without glasses, and ability to perceive three-dimensional effects, he added.

Departmental and field positions in various federal agencies in Washington, D.C.; Alexandria, Va.; Arlington and Fairfax counties, Va.; and Prince George's, and Montgomery counties, Md.; will be filled from the entrance exam, Peters said.

Positions in the Potomac river naval command and student trainee positions in meteorology in the U. S. weather bureau throughout the United States will also be included, he said.

Players Will Give Readings Tonight

The K-State Players will present a program of readings at 8:15 p.m., in the Student Union little theatre.

The program will include selected poems from "Masquerade" by Earle Davis, head of the English department; "The Death of Francisco," a story written by William Sylvester of the English department, read by Tony Alley; Ann Soelter and John Robson; "The Street of the Weaver," a radio play written by Skip Landon of the department of radio extension, read by Mary Jean Thomas, Ann Soelter, and Tony Alley. "Lots of Lemons," a dramatic sketch written by John Robson of the speech department, will be read by Dan Hahn and Mary Jean Thomas.

A group of poems presented by James Rosenberg called the "Bed-time Story" will feature excerpts entitled "The Romantic Movement, Verse III; You Woman, You; The Pregnant Circle; and the Song of Songs."

Photography Interest Group

A newly formed group on the K-State campus, the photography interest group, will have its first meeting today at 7 p.m. in the main lounge of the Student Union.

The meeting will feature a talk, "Use of Equipment in Photography," by David Von Riesen, from Blaker's studio. There will also be a display of photographic equipment. Refreshments will be served.

The photography group is the first of a series of interest groups to be formed this semester. Open to all students, they are designed to help people with common interests get acquainted.

Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of students, and Don Lancaster, Sp Sr, are responsible for their formation. They found through questionnaires answered by K-State students that the other important interests are sports, flying, radio, and fishing.

Collegiate 4-H Dinner Dance

Collegiate 4-H club's Harvest Ball, an all-college dinner-dance, will be Friday, October 26, at 6:30 p.m. in the main ballroom of the Student Union.

The event will be semi-formal, according to committee chairman Edith Lancaster, HE Jr.

Tickets are $1 per couple and will be on sale at the Collegiate 4-H meeting Thursday night and at the Union information desk and in Anderson hall after October 21.

Dottie Paige, of station WIBW in Topeka, will be the banquet speaker. Dancing will follow the dinner with music provided by the Dreamaires. Couples attending need not be Collegiate 4-H members.

Committee chairmen for the event are Kathy Schultis, HEJ Soph, program; John Milton, Ag Jr, ticket sales; Mary Lou Ficke, ChW Jr, refreshments; Pat Todd, HE Jr, decorations; Delmar Conner, DH Jr, band; and Pat Clary, TJ Jr, publicity.

Jr. AVMA Meeting

"Starting a General Practice" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. F. M. Beam to be given at the Junior American Veterinary Medical association meeting today at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Dykstra veterinary hospital.

Dr. Beam graduated from K-State in veterinary medicine in 1951 and now has a general practice in Washington, Kan. Also appearing on the program will be Hurst Majors, local business man, who will speak briefly to the group.

Young Republicans

Anyone interested in Young Republicans may get membership cards in Anderson hall this week from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. according to John Towse, chairman of the membership booth committee.

There will be someone at the booth at all times selling membership cards. The fee is one dollar.

YWCA Meeting

"The Y Goes to Press" will be the theme of the first half of a program at the YWCA meeting for all members today at 4 p.m. in SU 207. The dramatic half of the program will be followed by a discussion of the objectives of the association for the year.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will meet today at 7 p.m. in room 203 of the Student Union.

Music Recital

William R. Fischer, associate professor of music, will present a recital in the Chapel auditorium Tuesday at 8 p.m. Margaret Walker will be his accompanist, and will be assisted by Warren Walker, cellist.

Staff Car Permits Draw Closer Check

A motion to check all applications for faculty staff parking stickers, against the Comptroller's payroll at the time of purchase, was passed yesterday afternoon by the traffic board. In order to be eligible for a staff sticker, the applicant must work more than half time for the college. This does not include student employment.

In a discussion about staff members parking in the student and public lot south of the Union, it was brought out that there is no law against the staff parking there, but that the staff space should be filled first.

A proposal to change the staff lot from the south end of the lot back to the north end was made.

Various letters received by the board, showing the dissatisfaction of both students and faculty, were reviewed. Some of the student letters seemed to indicate that they failed to realize there is not a rule against the staff parking in the student parking lots.

A motion was tabled that the time restrictions of the staff parking lots be changed from 5 p.m. to 3 p.m. If passed, the students could park in the staff lots after 3 p.m. in the future. This does not include the restricted or reserved areas which will remain closed until 5 p.m.

A study of traffic rules from other campuses revealed K-State as one of the few schools allowing freshmen to drive.

There was also some discussion about paying parking fines in order to obtain more money for parking lot maintenance and to hire more campus police. K-State has four campus policemen. It is estimated the College needs one per every 1,000 students. The University of Kansas now has 12 policemen.

A reserved parking area was granted to Lee King, Student Health pharmacist.

Carole Holmquist To Royal As K-State's Representative

Carole Holmquist, EEd Jr, left last night for Kansas City where she will represent K-State as a candidate for queen of the 58th American Royal.

The queen contest October 17-19 will precede the American Royal October 19-28.

Carole will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. A. A. Holmquist, and will stay at the Continental hotel until the 21st.

The queen contest will start today with a luncheon. The candidates will be interviewed that afternoon and evening by the judges.

The queen will be announced at a luncheon Thursday noon. Two princesses and eight ladies in waiting will also be announced. After luncheon, the queen will move into a special suite, in the Continental hotel.

Practicing, fittings and rehearsals for the Coronation ball Friday night will occupy the queen's time Thursday and Friday.

Rosemary Clooney will appear Friday at the Coronation ball when the Queen of the Royal will be crowned.

Women's Houses Select

Sixteen KS Coeds To Vie For Homecoming Royalty

Homecoming queen candidates have been selected by nine sororities and four women's residence halls.

They are Sandra Morissette, ArE Jr, Alpha Xi Delta; Dixie Brown, HDA Jr, Alpha Delta Pi; Marilyn Adams, EEd Jr, Delta Delta Delta; Elin Mc-Candless, HDA Jr, Alpha Chi Omega; Patsy Stevens, Walthelm; Joyce Brower, BA Soph, Chi Omega.

Carmen Paul, and Corrine Wright, HT Sophs, Northwest; Sandra Mueller, Clo Sr, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Bernadine Macek, BAA Kappa Delta; Virginia Roenbaugh, HT Sr, and Karen Andrews, EEd Sr, Van Zile; Donna Knoche, HT Jr, Clovia; Reatha Roberts, and Mary Ann Chamberlain, Ed Fr, Southeast; and Connie Benjamin, HEN Soph, Pi Beta Phi.

The queen, to be selected by all-College voting, will be announced at halftime of the Homecoming game with Iowa State November 17.

She will be selected from five finalists who will be presented the Wednesday morning preceding Homecoming. Announcement of the finalists will be made from the balcony of the Student Union following a short campus parade, according to Blue Key, senior men's honorary that sponsors the queen selection.

Each of the finalists will wear a cape of blue and gold, designating her as a queen candidate, until the game Saturday.

The Friday before the game will be Tramp Day, according to Marilyn McCready, publicity chairman of the homecoming committee.

On Tramp Day, the appropriate dress will be whatever was worn the night before while working on floats and house decorations.

Debate Offer Accepted By Young GOP

"The Young Republicans are more than glad for the opportunity to debate with the Young Democrats," said Nancy Hayes, Young Republican president.

Nancy went on to say that it was about time the Republicans on this campus put an end to Democratic campaign falsehoods. "The debate Thursday will give us a chance to put an end to Democratic campaign slander for the remainder of the school year," she said.

The two political clubs are meeting Thursday in the Engineering Lecture hall at 7:30 p.m. to debate, "Resolved that the Eisenhower administration record is deplorable."

Warren Keegan, vice president of the Young Republicans said that the statement made by the Young Democrats concerning the Eisenhower administration record was not only absurd but that it showed typical Democratic campaign strategy. "Throwing mud is nothing new to Democrats," he said.

Pat Loyd, one of the Young Republicans chosen to represent the club in the debate said that he was eager for the occasion and that the statement made by the Democrats sounded like a typical "Trumanism". "I'm surprised they didn't use typical Truman language however," he said. Ray North, PrL Jr, is the other Young Republican taking part in the debate.

After the debate, plans are Republican membership rally, being made to stage a Young according to Warren Keegan. He said that more would be announced later.

Mike Dale, Carol Morford, Sandra Arnold, and Bud Smith add finishing touches to a poster advertising the "Tiger Drag," a dance to be held in the Union ballroom Saturday.

Bill Heptig's band will provide music for the dance from 9 to 12 p.m. Intermission will feature student talent in the entertainment spotlight. Only couples will be admitted to the dance and the dress is casual.

Decorations will date back to the 1920's, according to Miss Arnold, decorations chairman.

Tickets are now on sale at the Union information desk. Price is 75 cents a couple.

Tribunal Deserves Praise On Senior Petition Action

The recent Tribunal action of declaring the petitions for senior class offices of Gaye Fryer, HEJ Sr, and Joan Skupa, Clo Sr, as invalid is highly commendable.

ACCORDING TO the strict letter of the law, it takes 86 hours to be a senior. Both of the persons who signed the petitions had only 81 hours, therefore, they were not qualified as seniors.

If the Tribunal had refused to overrule the Student Governing association election, then when a case of this type comes up again, they would have no choice but to make the same decision.

IF A RULE IS broken once, then the road is clear for breaking it again. If the rule is bad, it should be changed.

The Tribunal action leaves the senior slate with two uncontested offices. This is an unhealthy situation in any election. When a democratic election is held and offices are uncontested, then the purpose of a general election is defeated.

IT IS the Collegian's hope that extensive write-in campaigns will be conducted for the uncontested vice-presidency, and treasury offices.

What happened to the independent students? It is rather unusual in an election of this type to have only party candidates on the final ballot.

IN A YEAR when national and local election campaigns are hotly contested, it seems only natural that college students would be wanting to learn all they can about elections and how they are run. Senior class elections and other campus elections provide that chance and should be taken advantage of.

But then, an election without contested offices on the final ballot is hardly a good example by which to learn.—George Vohs.

Alleged Gas Kickbacks Still Hot Issue

I Have Never Demanded A Contribution of Anyone

Topeka—(U.P.)—Kansas governorship candidate Warren Shaw, today spoke up on the politically-hot issue of gasoline "kickbacks" in saying "I have never demanded a contribution of anyone."

BEFORE LEAVING with the GOP caravan, Shaw said "all contributions received by either me, or by other Republicans of my county (Shawnee) were voluntarily made."

"The amount of each contribution was set by the contributor. Not one cent was retained by me or used by me for personal purposes. These are facts, the truth."

"ALL CONTRIBUTIONS were given to the treasurer of Shawnee county Republican central committee, placed in the committee's bank account and expended by and at the direction of the committee."

Shaw released his statement and then departed with the GOP campaign caravan for a tour of southeast Kansas.

Gov. Fred Hall in the meantime was scheduled to confer with his legal counsel on an investigation he ordered in the kickback charges.

Democrat State Chairman Demands Further Probing

Topeka—(U.P.)—Democrat state chairman Frank Theis last night demanded further investigation of alleged gasoline kickbacks, declaring Warren Shaw's "pretensions of innocence" should be titled "Warren in wonderland."

ATTORNEY GENERAL John Anderson earlier yesterday issued a 16-page report on the politically controversial issue of one-cent per gallon contributions to the Republican party while Shaw was Shawnee county GOP chairman.

Although Anderson said the statute of limitations blocked consideration of court action, Theis said "there is no statute of limitation on public morality."

"WHEN THE attorney general introduced the question, to say the least, of influence peddling by Warren Shaw, we find newer and more shocking angles to the case," said Theis. "This investigation should be pushed forward with greater speed."

The Democratic state chairman said "While Anderson has done a service he is morally bound to go deeper into the matter."

TALK ABOUT damn fool kids! This scene was snapped by a Collegian photographer yesterday afternoon. One driver stopped for a pedestrian stop recently installed on 17th street northeast of the Field House and the other driver whizzed around him. Luckily there was no pedestrian in the crossing. Both drivers are violating the law. Cars should only stop when there is a pedestrian in the crossing and other cars should pass under no circumstances.—George Vohs.

Staters Give Docking Edge In Kansas Governor's Race

In a recent poll, K-Staters gave Democratic candidate George Docking a slight edge over Republican nominee Warren Shaw in their race for governor.

NINE OF those interviewed expressed reasons for favoring Docking, and eight preferred Shaw. One student felt he didn't know either candidate's qualifications well enough to express any opinion, and one other stated he thought neither nominee was suitable for the governorship.

Many students said they liked one candidate just because he was a member of their political party, while others mentioned a "needed change in Kansas politics." The controversial right to work bill was also mentioned.

ACCUSATIONS of "political machinery" were pointed at Shaw, but one student mentioned his legislative experience. Shaw received one coed's vote of confidence because he is a distant relative.

A faculty member, who asked that his name be withheld stated, "I'm going to vote for Docking because I think Shaw is a tool of the anti-Hall machine and he is a Darby man."

PHYLLIS BURDORF, EEd Jr—"I'd vote for Shaw. I'm a good Republican and he is also some real distant relation, so I think my vote should go to my relatives."

CAROL CILEK, Eng Soph—"I want George Docking because I think there is definitely a need for a change in Kansas and I believe the Democratic party and Docking will provide this change."

ROGER TOINTON, Ag Jr—"I couldn't make a good valid answer since I've been gone since February."

HOWARD KESSINGER, TJ Sr—"Warren Shaw, of course. I feel that Shaw is sincere and honest, something we did not have in the last governor. I also feel that he has had the experience, shown by his fine record as Shawnee county attorney and his record and popularity as a legislator."

MARY ANN HAUGE, Soc Fr—"Not knowing either one of them, I would probably vote for Shaw, the Republican."

EMILY BOOTH, Psy Sr—"Docking, because I feel that very definitely the Democrats should get in the lead."

LORALEE TERBOVICH, Arch Fr—"I'd vote for Docking because I am a Democrat and I know "Governor" Docking. My dad says he's a pretty good boy."

DIETER MEYER, Soc Soph—Shaw. I'm very definitely a Republican."

BOB NELSON, ME Soph—"To tell you the truth, I'm not for either one because I don't think either one is too well qualified."

MIDGE MULKEY, BA Soph—"I'd vote for Shaw because I don't want Docking to get it."

KATHY SCHULTIS, HEJ Soph—"I'd vote for George Docking because I think Warren Shaw is a machine politician."

DUANE WHITE, BA Soph—"I'm a staunch Republican."

CONNIE BENJAMIN, HEN Soph—"I'm for Docking because I think the whole government needs a change and I think it's going to take a complete change of party, rather than one man. Things just haven't been going right."

DIXIE BROWN, HDA Jr—"Docking, of course, because I am a Democrat. I think it's time for a change."

SUE HIGDON, Med Tech Fr—"I'd vote for Shaw because I'm a Republican."

BILL OLSEN, BA Sr—"I'm for Docking because it's about time we had an honest administration in this state."

BOB MATTINGLY, Arch Soph—"I'd never vote for Shaw because he's for the right to work bill."

LINDA BAIR, HEA Jr—"Shaw, mainly because I have heard more about him and his qualifications seem adequate."

ARNOLD PAULSON, NE Sr—"Docking, mainly because Kansas has had Republican government for twenty years and there is a lot of corruption, and because he is against the right to work bill. If you vote for Shaw you vote for big business and you are not voting for the working man."

Pilot Reached World Record Before Crashing Last Month

Compiled from United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Washington, Oct. 17—Capt. Milburn G. Apt reached a world record speed of more than 2,100 miles an hour just before he died in the mysterious crash of the X-2 rocket plane on September 27. Reliable sources disclosed the speed today as the air force provided new details of the "flying laboratory's" fatal flight at Edwards air force base, Calif. But they said the cause of the accident was still unknown.

The crash stripped the United States of its fastest airplane—a rocket-powered research ship pioneering the way for future warplanes—and scientists have said flight research inevitably will be slowed. Somewhat slower X-1 rocket planes are available but the much faster successor—the X-15 is at least two years away.

The air force replied to questions asked by United Press about Apt's flight—his first in any rocket plane—after it had become known in aviation circles that some scientists thought the X-2 test program was pushed too fast.

Red Anti-Semitic Rise

Houston, Texas, Oct. 17—A rise in anti-Semitism among youth organizations behind the iron curtain makes it urgent that as many Jewish children as possible be resettled in Israel, an Israel official said last night.

Moshe Kol, Israel's immigration chief and world director of the international resettlement agency, said there were thousands of Jewish children "living under undesirable conditions" in Eastern Europe.

He said anti-Semitism "is growing in East European youth organizations."

He said there were at least 2,000 Jewish orphans in Poland, along with the thousands living with their families in "undesirable conditions."

"It has become impossible for Jewish parents (behind the iron curtain) to provide their children with a Jewish and religious education," he said.

Experiment In Violence

Portsmouth Air Force Base, N.H., Oct. 17—An "experiment in violence," during which 60 automobiles will be wrecked, will begin at this base today in an effort to save thousands of soldier lives.

Air force officials consider the highway death toll for the armed forces has reached a serious stage. The Defense Department reports 10,400 military personnel were killed in traffic accidents from 1951 to 1955.

The air force is trying to determine how to combine automobiles, furloughs, servicemen and highways and keep the men alive.

Some 6,000 persons including Strategic Air Command members and safety officers, were expected to watch three professional test drivers crash the cars on a scientifically designed course.

Floridans Fight Flood

Kissimmee, Fla., Oct. 17—Floods from an Atlantic storm

The Red Cross set up emergency disaster headquarters and crews which worked nightlong to divert the greatest torrents of flood waters seen since the 1948 hurricane.

"Things may be all right unless it rains again," Harrie T. Best, county Red Cross disaster chairman said. "Parts of the city are still under water and hundreds of homes are flooded."

"All we're praying for now is that there's no more rain" he said.

Best said at least 15 inches of rain fell on Kissimmee during a 48-hour period ending last night.

Has Talented Monster

Hollywood, Oct. 17—Twentieth Century-Fox studio is excited about Jayne Mansfield, RKO is flipping over Diana Dors, but at Universal - International they're turning handsprings about—the most life-like monster in movie history.

This prehistoric-looking creature is air-conditioned, can drool saliva, pant, blink his eyes and thrash his tail in realistic fashion.

Seniors May Apply For Job Interviews

Seniors graduating in January are encouraged to sign up early at the placement office for company interviews, W. T. Peters, placement director, has announced.

Schedules are generally opened two weeks prior to interview dates. "If the company you are interested in interviewing is not talking to seniors of your curriculum, contact the placement office," Peters said.

Prospective teachers graduating in January are requested to have their credentials filed in the placement office by November 1. They need not wait to obtain pictures, he added.

"Effective interviewing takes considerable time and adequate preparation. The more one knows about the company he is to interview the better impression he will make," Peters pointed out.

Company interviewers want to know the individual, his or her capabilities, interests, desires, and goals. "The less time they must spend talking about their organization the more time they can spend learning about you," he said.

"The individual who learns about a company prior to an interview has exhibited interest in the organization, which will make a better impression," he added.

Students looking for part-time work are asked to check the placement bulletin board. Several opportunities are available for part-time salesmen.

The placement office will continue sending weekly newsletters to all organized houses, dormitories, department heads, and college administrators. Copies are also available at the placement office for any individual who wants one.

Selective Service Deferment Tests Now Available

Applications for the November 15 selective service college qualification test are now available in the counseling center, Anderson 226, announced Summer B. Morris, director of the center.

Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight Tuesday, October 30.

Any selective service registrant who wishes to request deferment is eligible for the test. The results will provide local draft boards with evidence of aptitude for continuing college education. These applications are also available in local selective service offices.

W.K. Charles To Give Talk At TJ Lecture

Speaker for the Kansas State college journalism lecture October 18 will be William K. "Casey" Charles, who retired this month from the United States department of agriculture, Ralph Lashbrook, head of the journalism department has announced.

Charles, a 1920 K-State journalism graduate, has been with the USDA for 22 years and served as chief of the special reports division in the USDA information offices in Washington, D.C.

Before going with the USDA, Charles worked for several newspapers and a radio station, taught journalism at Iowa State College and at an American Expeditionary Forces university in France, and did public relations work for Swift and Company.

The lecture, for all journalism students, will be at 4 Thursday afternoon at Kedzie hall. Thursday evening Charles will be a guest of the student chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism honorary for men, at the Lashbrook home.

Soil's Temperature Taken At K-State Agronomy Farm

By CAROL SITZ

Temperature of the soil to depths of 8 feet is being recorded at the K-State agronomy farm, located 2 miles northwest of the campus.

Thermometers were recently placed at depths of 2, 4, 8, and 20 inches, and 4, 6, and 8 feet deep.

Though most persons think of climate applying only to the air above ground, K-State scientists are studying "soil climate," which is quite different from "air climate."

At least one-third of a plant is below the surface of the ground and exposed to the soil temperatures, L. D. Bark, associate professor of physics, explained. Soil temperatures are one of the most important elements involved in plant production.

Both the process that supplies nutrients to plants and the process that influences growth are affected by soil temperature.

According to Professor Bark, temperatures above 115 degrees Fahrenheit are not unusual at a depth of 2 inches. Below 20 inches, there is very little day to day temperature variation. Temperatures at 20 inches or deeper are below 75 degrees Fahrenheit at this time of year in Kansas.

At the depth of 30 feet, July is the coldest month, while January or February is the warmest month. This is because the heat conduction downward into the earth is very slow, Professor Bark explained.

Daily temperature changes occur only to depths of 14 or 15 inches. The deepest annual temperature change occurring in the soil is at the depth of 35 feet. Beyond this depth, the temperature does not vary.

The temperature of the soil is influenced by the color of the soil and the vegetation found growing there. "The darker the color of the soil, the more heat it will absorb, just as dark clothing absorbs more heat than light-colored clothing," said Professor Bark.

"The more vegetation found growing on the surface of the ground, the lower the soil temperature will be. This is because the sun's rays cannot penetrate into the ground as easily as if the ground were bare," he continued.

Soil thermometers also have been placed at the other Kansas Agricultural Experiment stations located at Hays, Hutchinson, Colby, Mound Valley, and Garden City.

Sig Eps Win 31-14 From Sigma Nu's

Sigma Phi Epsilon overpowered Sigma Nu 31-14 in last night's intramural football action in the fraternity division.

Early in the first quarter Sigma Phi Epsilon scored when Paul Clark passed to Larry Sturgeon who ran to the midfield stripe and then passed to Ron Baker who raced for the first touchdown. Paul Clark ran from his own 30 to score the second Sig Ep touchdown in the first quarter. The conversion was good on a pass from Marvin Chiles to Larry Sturgeon.

Sigma Nu's John Floyd ran from the Sig Ep 20 to score in the second quarter. The Sigma Nu conversion came by a pass from Floyd to Stutter.

Early in their third quarter Sigma Nus John Floyd passed from the Sigma Phi Epsilon one yard line to Darold Barb who raced for the second Sigma Nu touchdown. A pass from Floyd to Sutter made good the Sigma Nu conversion and wrapped up Sigma Nu scoring.

Starting from the Sigma Nu 30 the Sig Eps marched downfield to score a pass from Clark to Styles to Sturgeon. The conversion was blocked and the score stood 19-14.

Intercepting a pass on his own 20 Baker passed to Chiles for Sigma Phi Epsilon's fourth TD.

Baker snatched another stray Sigma Nu pass on his own 20 and passed to Dick Schaffer for the final Sig Ep tally of the game.

In the independent division the Rebels blasted the Kasbah 32-6.

Tonight's schedule at 4:15: House of Brec vs the Aces, North-W; Rho Alphas vs Newman Club, North-C; West Stadium vs Squeeges, North-E; Wesley Foundation vs D.S.F.C., Campus SE; and Phi Kappa vs Phi Delta Theta, Campus E.

SIG EP Paul H. Clark goes high into the air as he tries to bat the ball away from would-be pass interceptor Darold Barb. Barb later caught a pass for a Sigma Nu touchdown but it didn't matter cause the Sig Eps won the game 31-14 to remain high in Group I standings.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN
Wednesday, October 17, 1956-6

K-State gridders turned their attention to defense Tuesday as they began preparing for this Saturday's home conference opener with Missouri.

Missouri has been a strong offensive threat so far this season with good offensive games against both North Dakota State and Southern Methodist. Missouri won its first game of the season last Saturday, defeating North Dakota State 42-0.

During the Tuesday session the Cats took a short turn at full speed work with three teams alternating on defense to see the play patterns used by Missouri.

Two lineup changes were announced at practice, both involving the second unit. Howard Hodge moved up to left end on the second unit with Tito Cordelli moving up to the right tackle position on the alternate team.

PROBLEM: To evaluate the all-round career advantages offered by the widely diversified activities at Divisions of North American Aviation, Inc.

FIRST STEP: GET THE FACTS in man-to-man interviews, on campus October 22

As a graduate in Engineering, Physics, Applied Math. or allied subjects you need complete, factual information to help you make a sound decision in choosing your career.

Get the facts in a man-to-man interview with our representative. Let him tell you about our unique placement and training devised to help your potential develop rapidly in a company where continued expansion has doubled the number of employees in 5 years. Your possibilities are wide and varied, as you will see from these brief notes on the 4 Divisions:

AUTONETICS creates automatic controls and electro-mechanical systems of a highly interesting nature. Work includes research, design, development, manufacture and testing; you will become a part of the latest advances in inertial navigation and guidance, fire and flight controls, analog and digital computers.

ROCKETDYNE is building power for outer space—large, liquid propellant rocket engines. The Field Test Laboratory in the Santa Susana Mountains is the most complete rocket engine workshop in the free world. Here a man meets more aspects of his specialty in one week than in a year of "conventional" practice.

ATOMICS INTERNATIONAL is pioneering in the creative use of the atom. If you are able to meet the high requirements for this work, you can help introduce a new industrial era. Atomics International is designing and building varied types of nuclear reactors, for both power and research, with the practical experience gained by 10 years in the field.

MISSILE DEVELOPMENT ENGINEERING

Long range missiles, including the intercontinental SM-64 Navaho, present problems of the most fascinating nature. Speeds, materials and functions now being dealt with were only theoretical a few years ago. The work is vital; the opportunities for you, as a creative engineer, are correspondingly great.

Shutouts Gain Sooners 3rd Total Offense Spot

Kansas City Mo.—Oklahoma Sooners, third nationally last week in total offense, stepped up its pace in the 450 romp over Texas, Big Seven conference statistics show.

In posting their third straight shutout of the season, the Sooners rolled up 502 yards against the Longhorns—369 on the ground—to run their total offense figure to 1,429 yards, an average of 476.3.

O.U., the top-ranked team in the nation in all the polls, continues to show versatility as well as steady power. Coach Bud Wilkinson's red-shirted crew now has scored 147 points in blanking North Carolina, K-State, and Texas. This week the Sooners take on Kansas at Lawrence.

Clendon Thomas and Tommy McDonald are scrambling for honors as the most dangerous Sooner back. At the moment, despite McDonald's brilliant display at Dallas, Thomas holds the statistical edge.

Thomas, who carried 13 times for 123 yards against Texas, takes over from Homer Floyd of Kansas as the Big Seven number one rusher. Thomas has a total of 262 yards on 27 carries for a 9.7 average. Floyd is second with 50 for 257 and a 5.1 average. McDonald is fourth with 31 for 238, a 7.7 average.

Thomas also widened his lead in the scoring department. He now has tallied 7 touchdowns for 42 points, followed by Floyd and McDonald, each with 30.

Jimmy Hunter and Charley James of Missouri held on to their honors as the leading passer and pass receiver, respectively. Hunter has connected with 15 of 29 pitches for 163 yards. James has caught 11 for 130 yards.

Wally Strauch of Kansas jumped to second in passing with 6 of 13 for 131, and Jimmy Harris of Oklahoma is next with a perfect 5 for 5 record for 100 yards.

Howard Cook of Colorado stayed put as the leading punter with 3 for 181 yards, an average of 60.3. Last week he had a 65.5 average. Hardest working punter is Kenny Nesmith, Kansas State, whose 16 kicks average 39.4.

Coffee Hour To Feature Gripe Grinding Session

A "Grind Your Gripes" session and free coffee will be sponsored by the Union coffee hours committee today from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., in the main lounge of the Union.

Students and teachers who didn't enter into the discussion at Tuesday's assembly are encouraged to discuss their problems with the "Bored" of Officials: Charles Jacot, assistant dean of students; Dr. Arthur Brayfield, professor of psychology; Ron Bryant, ME Sr; and Gary Haynes, TJ Sr.

YWCA Sells Subscriptions

YWCA members will be selling subscriptions to the Reader's Digest for half price during the rest of October to help raise money for the association's budget.

The reduced subscription price is $1 for 8 issues of the magazine, starting with the November issue. The special subscription rate is open to the faculty members and students and is good only for new subscriptions.

Subscriptions can be obtained from any YW member or at the YW office located on the second floor of Anderson hall. The YW will keep half of the money received from the sale of subscriptions.

Frog Club

Thirty-nine new members of Frog club have been chosen. They are:

Mary Barger, Judie Batton, Marijoe Bestgen, Pat Blasing, Barbara Burnes, Ann Cook, Anne Detert, Sharon Ericson, Martha Finny, Sara Foster, Martha Friedel, Nancy Gale, Helen Habernigg, Windy Helstrom, Pat Hefner, Barbara Herzog, Jan Jester, Dottie Keck, Denise Kendall, and Louis Klusmeyer.

A waiting list of six has been established. These persons will be notified as vacancies occur: Bob Tawney, Beverly Reinhardt, Pat Corbin, Hefnz Thimm, Poly Ruppelius, and Elanor Saylor.

Art Club

A get-acquainted meeting will be held by the Art club, Thursday, October 18, in Anderson 221. Free refreshments will be served.

Manhattan CAP

The junior squadron of the Manhattan Civil Air patrol will meet Wednesday, October 17 at 7:30 p.m., in Military Science 206.

Instruction in the link trainer operation will be a part of their weekly meetings in the near future. Jim Tostetter, commander of the cadet squadron, will give the instruction.

String Quartet Recital

K-State's resident string quartet will present a recital Sunday, at 4 p.m., in the Chapel auditorium.

Members of the quartet are: George Leedham, first violin; Luther Leavengood, second violin; Clyde Jussila, viola; and Warren Walker, violoncello.

The program will consist of quartets by Brahms, Donato, and Hayden.

Turfgrass Conference

The seventh annual turfgrass conference, sponsored by the Central Turfgrass Foundation, will meet at K-State, October 17, 18, and 19.

Three members of the KSC faculty will speak and participate discussion panels. They are: R.I. Throckmorton, dean emeritus of the School of Agriculture; H.B. "Bebe" Lee, director of athletics; and Dr. Glenn H. Beck, director of the Kansas agriculture experiment station.

Collegiate 4-H

Two professional local dancing instructors, Mr. and Mrs. Fran Schneiders, will demonstrate dancing skills at the Collegiate 4-H club meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in Nichols gym.

Also on the program will be the Casey Sisters, a vocal trio consisting of Janice Casey, MAV Soph, and her two sisters. Tickets for the Harvest Ball, the Collegiate 4-H fall dinner-dance, will be on sale at the meeting.

ASAE

"Improvement in Slide Rule Techniques" will be the subject of a talk at the American Society of Agriculture Engineers assembly Thursday at 4 p.m., E130. The talk will be given by an agriculture engineering student. All interested students are invited to attend.

Graduate Students

Members of the Graduate Student association will square dance and play cards in the Student Union, 207, 208, Thursday at 8 p.m., Kenneth Urban, AH Gr, president, has announced.

Harold Howe, dean of the Graduate school, will meet with new students at 7:15 p.m. Free refreshments will be served.

Union Publications

Applications for membership in the Student Union publications subcommittee are now open. Applications may be made in the October 29.

You'll be pleased with a Collegian want ad.

Pep Rally Planned For Friday Night

The biggest and best pep rally ever held on the campus, according to Larry Youngdoff, Ag Jr, head cheerleader, will be held Friday at 7 p.m. The cheerleading squad will lead yells and songs from the south terrace of the Student Union to students on the south lawn.

Head football coach Bus Mertes, the entire Wildcat team, a member of the M.U. coaching staff, and the presidents of the three pep clubs will be present. Pat Wilkerson, BA Sr, will act as master of ceremonies. Thirty members of the college marching band under the direction of Jean Hedlund, director of bands, will provide the music.

"No matter how well a rally is planned, its success depends on the number of enthusiastic students that turn out," Youngdoff said. The rally is expected to last about 30 minutes.

Dances, buffets, and tours will be on the agenda for parents on Parents' Day, Saturday.

Students are urged to register their parents in the main lobby of the Student Union between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. Saturday. The union hospitality committee will be hosts for union tours.

A buffetaria—combination buffet and cafeteria—will be held from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. particularly for parents, but all students are invited.

Kickoff time for the K-State-Missouri game will be at 1:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. St. John, Wichita, will be presented at half-time as K-State's honorary parents. They are the parents of Marilyn St. John, Psy Jr. Trophies for the best men's and women's organized house decorations honoring parents will be awarded at half-time.

Registration Deadline Set For Oct. 26

October 26 is the registering deadline for all K-State students who are residents of Kansas. The deadline for registering to vote in the national elections is November 6.

To qualify as a resident of Kansas, a student must have lived in Kansas six months or longer. These students can register at the Manhattan city clerk's office located in the city hall at Poyntz and 11th. These students may vote at the Manhattan polls on election day.

School of Arts and Sciences Lists 36 Frosh for Honors

Thirty-six freshmen in the school of Arts and Sciences have been declared eligible for the K-State honors program, announced Dean John C. Weaver.

Selection was based on high school transcripts and entrance tests which placed the students in the upper five per cent of the 1956 freshman class.

The honors program was initiated last spring by the faculty arts and sciences honors committee in an effort to develop the gifted student.

The faculty voted to offer this program to the upper five per cent of enrolling freshmen according to entrance exams and high school transcripts. Any student may apply for the program if he feels he is qualified.

Each student has been assigned to an adviser in his major field. He will follow a schedule developed to meet his individual need and abilities. Substitutions were made for basic courses where aptitude and interest indicated that it would benefit the student.

Chairman of the honors committee, Earl Davis, professor of English, said, "We feel fortunate that K-State has been able to institute this advanced program which is found in many of our colleges and universities."

Other members of the committee are Wallace Nelson, associate professor of sociology and economics; Jack Lambert, assistant professor of chemistry; Summer Morris, director of the counseling center; and John Harris, professor of bacteriology.

Eleanor Hanson, BA; Norman Hostetler, Chm; Katharine

Hueftle, Psy; Judith Carolyn Izard, ArG; Delbert Eugene Just, PrV; Carol Korinek, MEI; Marilyn Kay Levett, Hst; Tom Lewis, Psy; James Lisher, Chm; Kenneth McCormic, MA; George Miller, TJ.

Officer Tests To Be Given In AFROTC

Air force officers qualification tests will be given to 162 students, October 27 at 8 a.m., in the Engineering Lecture hall. Students passing these tests will be eligible for acceptance into advanced AFROTC, Capt. D.G. Kavanaugh, assistant professor of air science, announced.

The tests were developed to evaluate the aptitudes and interests which are important for officer performance and success of aviation cadets, officer candidates, advanced air force ROTC students, and cadets in the Air Force academy.

The tests will be given from 8 a.m. until noon, and from 1 until 3:30 p.m.

Open House

Theme Naming Contest Is To Start Tomorrow

YOU NAME IT, we'll pay it says Dick Peterson, ME Sr, (left) and Tom Creech, ME Sr, as they demonstrate how engineering and architecture students can make their choice of a theme for engineering Open House and maybe win $10. Winner of the contest will be announced October 29.

A prize of $10 will be awarded to the student naming the theme of the 1957 Engineering Open House, which will be held March 15 and 16. Only students enrolled in engineering and architecture are eligible to enter the contest.

Contest entry blanks and a box to drop entries in will be placed in Engineering hall Friday morning. Tentative plans call for the contest entry blanks and voting boxes to be set up in Anderson and Willard halls and the Student Union, according to Thomas Creech, ME Sr, Open House manager.

The contest begins tomorrow morning and will close at 5 p.m. on October 29. Entries will be judged equally on the basis of brevity, general coverage, and the use of a key word.

General coverage means that the theme can be adapted to the different types of displays in all of the departments in the engineering school. The key word will be stressed so that the theme will be remembered easily by all who come in contact with it.

Contest entries will be judged by the Open House faculty advisors from each department, the Open House student department managers, and the Open House Engineering Executive committee.

More Furniture for SU Will Arrive in November

In keeping with the original furnishings plan, new furniture has been ordered for various parts of the Union, and is expected in mid-November, according to Loren Kottner, Union director.

The main lounge will receive curved sofas which will be placed back to back along the east side of the lounge. Additional club chairs and several round hassocks of varied sizes will complete the furniture. The entire room will be carpeted, he said.

More modernistic benches and carpeting will complete the art lounge, and the browsing library will be carpeted, he said.

Several pieces of furniture will be added to the music lounge and the small music room, according to Kottner.

Four groupings of furniture will be placed in the corridor of the main lobby, and one grouping will be added to the second floor lobby.

The main ballroom, banquet rooms A and B, and other isolated areas of the building will be furnished with the off-white fiber-glass draperies. The addition of these draperies will complete this phase of furnishing, he said.

The Student Union has also been entered into the competition for outstanding interior design and decoration which is being conducted by Institutions Magazine, Kottner said.

KS Players 'Read' Show

The K-State Players presented a program of readings entitled, "Six Voices by Candlelight", in the little theater of the Union Tuesday night. The players' program included a group of poems, a radio play, and three readings.

Included in the casts were: Prof. James Rosenberg, Skip London, radio extension; Ann Soelter, Sp Gr; Tony Alley, Sp Fr; Mary Jean Thomas, Sp Gr; Prof. John Robson; Gordon Jump; Sp Gr; Dan Hahn, Sp Soph; and Prof. William Sylvester.

The readings were sponsored by the department of speech. John Robson, associate professor of speech, staged the production.

A $45,000 blaze touched off in the living room of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house last night brought cheers from activities and pledges alike gathered in the main room of the house.

The cheers were the result of a fire started by Mrs. Howard T. Hill, a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma house board, as she touched a match to mortgage papers taken out on the house in 1930.

The final payment of the mortgage was made this summer by the house board, with the ceremonies of the event taking place last night in the house. Assisting Mrs. Hill with the task of destroying the papers was Mrs. L. E. Hobbs, house board member and one of the founders of the Kappa sorority at K-State. Sandra Mueller, Clo Sr, house president, also participated in the event.

The present house at 517

Fairchild terrace, was built in the summer of 1930 and has housed approximately 700 women in the 26 years of its usage.

The chapter at K-State was colonized September 23, 1916. At that time the house was located at 517 N. Delaware. In the summer of 1930 the present house was built.

In the fourteen years from 1916 to 1930, approximately 100 women lived in the house. Today the Kappa's have 59 actives and 27 pledges.

Stater's Opinions Mixed On 'Right-To-Work' Issue

By MARCIA BOYD

K-Staters' opinions on Kansas' hotly disputed proposed "right-to-work" bill appeared yesterday to be an almost even split. Nine said they favored such a law, while eight took a stand against it.

The "right-to-work" bill was passed by the legislature last spring but was vetoed by Gov. Fred Hall.

"THE 'RIGHT-TO-WORK' bill as passed in the 1955 session of the legislature stated, 'It is unlawful for any person or labor organization to deny any person employment because of membership in . . . or expulsion from a labor organization . . . or to exclude persons from employment because of membership or nonmembership in a labor organization.'"

Jim Pratt, Republican state chairman, explained the bill in a nutshell that "a man doesn't have to join a union to get a job but can if he wants to. In many union shops now, a worker has to join to get a job."

KANSAS DEMOCRATS generally have a differing opinion than Republicans on the law, according to Mrs. Ruby Harris, state Democrat vice-chairman. "The name 'right-to-work' is misleading. It doesn't guarantee the workman the right to work. It isn't fair to management or labor because those not belonging to unions, as proposed, would still receive union benefits."

Although the opinions were definitely "yes" or "no," several students agreed that "right-to-work" wasn't a clear-cut question. These persons believed that some labor practices should be controlled, but that there should be a more effective way than through the "right-to-work" bill.

Do you favor a Kansas "right-to-work" law?

Here are some opinions.

● JOHN TOWSE, CE Fr—"Yes. It is the right of the people to work if they want to without having to join a union. The federal government should raise the minimum wage scale, and when Eisenhower's reelected, he will."

● DICK MILLER, ArE Soph—"No. It's the worst thing that could happen to unions since the black list and closed shop. It would set organized labor back 20 years."

● JIM MEARS, Art Fr—"Yes. Unions are belittling the non-union member by not letting the small industry worker have the right to his choice of employment, rights, and benefits."

● DICK TALBOT, VM Jr—"No. It's not fair to the small individual. It will affect them by lowering wages, and causing poor working conditions."

● SHARON DIAMOND, Soc Sr—"No, not as it exists on the statewide level."

● WALTER BURLING, Ag Soph—"Yes. It guarantees all men the right to work whenever they please and the employer has the right to hire and discharge any worker for such reasons as he may see fit. It eliminates the control by big labor union bosses of all industry."

● DR. LOUIS DOUGLAS, professor of history—"No. The law is actually built to harm labor management relations more than to help them. The laborer would have a better and fairer right to work if the so-called "right-to-work" bill isn't enacted. The better established industrial states don't have this legislation."

is the finest piece of legislation ever proposed because it curbs limitations to the worker's freedoms."

● TOM BOWMAN, ChE Jr—"No. The 'right-to-work' sounds like a typical piece of GOP legislation. It makes it almost impossible for unions to operate effectively, and unions are responsible for better living standards in the United States for the workers through attainment of higher wages and social measures."

● CURT ZEIGLER, ME Soph—"Yes. I have belonged to a union, and I would rather be able to have the choice of joining or not joining."

● DR. WILLIAM F. ZORNOW, assistant professor of history—"No. I feel that it would be a devastating blow to unions, because they would not be able to have union shops necessary to effective management."

● NANCY HAYES, Gov Jr—"Yes, because it is a part of the American tradition that you have your choice of belonging or not belonging—and this applies to unions, too."

● BOB McDOWELL, PsP Jr—"No. This law would hurt the unions and indirectly, the working man."

● DAVE PFUETZE, BA Sr—"Yes. I believe that anyone has the right to work where he pleases without regulation by anyone."

● LEO M. HOOVER, associate professor of agricultural economics—"This is actually not a clear-cut issue, but I don't believe that this is the best approach to controlling abuses of labor unions. The 'right-to-work' bill is not stated to really do the purposes proposed. Most of the people favoring this bill are against unions."

● JUDY MCCARTNEY, EEd Sr—"Yes—the 'right-to-work' bill exemplifies the American way of life."

Young GOP Statements Unfair, Ed McCoy Says

To the Editor:

I SHOULD LIKE to refer to some statements made by Nancy Hayes, president of the Young Republicans and printed in Wednesday's Collegian.

Quote Miss Hayes, "The debate Thursday will give us a chance to put an end to Democratic campaign slander for the remainder of the school year."

The Young Democrats have endeavored in all sincerity to make the publicity for the debate bi-partisan in nature. When we first announced our plans in the Collegian, both clubs were noted, neither in a spirit of disfavor. Information for the article was supplied by me.

IF MR. KEEGAN'S statement, "Throwing mud is nothing new for the Democrats," and Mr. Lloyd's statement in regard to "Ex-President Truman's language," is typical of the Young Republican group, the debate tonight should be a wide open affair.

With extreme and completely undocumented generalizations like this flying around the Republican camp, there is little doubt as to where the enlightened vote will go.

Attorney General Jim Shane Gets Nod For Collegian's 'Personality of Week'

(This is the first in a series of articles to be presented in the Collegian honoring top students on the campus.)

By SUE GOSS

OUR VOTE for the Collegian's personality of the week goes to Jim Shane, new attorney general of the Tribunal. Shane was recently appointed to this important student government post by Pat Wilkerson, student body president.

His duties as head of the judicial board are numerous, but primarily he aids in the formation of cases to be presented before Tribunal. He is an exofficio member and has no vote in the decisions made.

IT IS ALSO the attorney general's job to follow up each disciplinary case until it is closed. "In the constitution, discipline is actually defined as rehabilitation," commented Shane on this phase of his authority.

He is also a voting member of the traffic appeals board, which is a subsidiary organization of Tribunal. Other members include Ed McCoy, PrL Jr, and Charles Jacot, assistant dean of students. "I can think of nobody finer or as fair as these two," Shane said, "and we try to make it as fair and equitable for K-State drivers as possible."

TRIBUNAL HANDLES various types of cases, the most recent being the status of the petitions of the two senior class officer nominees. "Some cases will come before us as they are deemed necessary by the Dean of Students, but it is not a clear cut, defined thing," he said.

Shane is a Pre-Law junior from San Bernardino, Calif. He decided to come to Kansas State because his father graduated here with a degree in vet medicine. He hopes to attend law school at the University of California, later working in private practice in California or working with the federal government.

OTHER ACTIVITIES on campus keep him equally busy. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, Delta Sigma Rho, varsity debate team, Young Republicans club, and the Integrity party.

"I personally think that Jim is a very qualified individual. I have heard some very excellent comments on the way he conducted the meeting Monday night," Wilkerson said.

A Pi K A's Hound Dog Pike Is Big Character on Campus

PIKE, Pi Kappa Alpha's purebred basset hound, is the favorite member of the fraternity, according to Pat Roberts, TJ Jr.

"Pike is the biggest character on campus. His real name is Shermers Clipper II and his great grand parents were grand champions," Roberts said.

"We bought Pike at Hickman Mills, Mo., for $135. He's about two years old, and has lived with us since he was six months. Pike is unique because he is the only basset hound in this part of the state," he said.

"Pike has never growled or snapped at anyone—I don't think he knows how," Roberts said. "Instead of trying to scare someone, he just looks up with his sad, tired, brown eyes to try to win sympathy. He can't stand to see anyone browbeaten or have to take physical punishment."

THE BASSET HOUND was originally bred for hunting underground animals in Europe, and breeding has made him stand low to the ground. Now they're used primarily for show. Pike has long ears, knock knees, a sad face, and is all out of proportion. He's funny just to look at," Roberts said.

"Pike is very intelligent, but he doesn't like to show it because people try to make him do tricks. He's the laziest thing I've ever seen," he said. "His favorite pastime is to sleep. You can lift him off the ground by the feet and he'll still be asleep."

Roberts said that Pike can be as temperamental as people. Sometimes he is very playful, but at other times he just wants to crawl off in a corner alone. He's quite a showoff to crowds if he feels like it.

"THE NEIGHBORS don't particularly care for Pike because he chews up their papers. He's supposed to have the most musical bark of any dog, but he sounds more like you'd expect a great dane to sound. The neighbors don't warm to that either," Roberts said.

Basset hounds are especially healthy. Pike had distemper last year, and where most animals die of it, he pulled through without any ill effects. Pike is spending this week in the veterinary clinic for a routine checkup.

"Pike hasn't any special master, but he has five or six favorites. The person who gives him the most attention is the one he likes best," explained Roberts.

JUST AN OLE HOUN' DOG is Pike the favorite pet of Pi Kappa Alpha. Pike gives out with a doeful look as he tries to smile for the photographer.

This Girl Just Loves a Fantail Goldfish Around Her House

IF JUDY FISHER, SEd Soph, was going to have a pet, it seems only logical that it be a fish. It is.

Judy has a fantail goldfish named Pi which shares the fish bowl with Connie Benjamin's, HEN Soph, goldfish Phi.

"I get kidded by a lot of people for having fish because of my name," said Judy. "But fish are easy to take care of and nice to have around."

JUDY'S FISH family has dwindled from four of last year to two this fall. Two summers ago Judy had Pi, Phi, Beta, and Oop. She received Pi, Phi, and Beta at a summer rush party, and Oop was given to her by a neighbor. Oop was the shortened version of "out-of-place."

"I brought Pi, Phi, Beta, and Oop to K-State last fall where they lived with me at Northwest hall. They eat moss and fish food, and require very little care," said Judy.

"THE BOWL has to be cleaned just once a week, but because of this, there are no little fish."

Judy's fish have traveled quite a few miles. They have made the trip from here to Wichita three times now. During school vacations, Judy boards them with friends who live in town.

"Pi and Phi don't have the chance for much recreation. I do have a little house that they like to swim in and out of, but I think they'd get awfully tired of that," she said.

"I know fish aren't like other pets because you can't play with them, but even though people kid me, it's just nice to have them here," Judy said.

HERE'S PI, the favorite pet of Judy Fisher, SEd Soph. Fish are easy to take care of Judy says. But man are they hard to pet.

"LITTLE GOLDEN BEAR," is the nickname of Wegee, favorite pet of J. L. Neal, PrV Soph, of Acacia fraternity. Wegee's favorite pastime is crawling into pockets in search of food.

'Little Golden Bear' Brightens the Life For All Members of Acacia Fraternity

A KANSAS CITY shopping trip resulted in the purchase of Acacia fraternity's "Little Golden Bear" named Wegee.

Wegee, a hamster nicknamed "golden bear" because of her golden brown fur, was purchased by J. L. Neal, PrV Soph, on sale for $1.49 in Kansas City three weeks ago. "I used to raise them while in high school and just couldn't resist the special price on them," he said.

"Hamsters are a lot of fun, and the boys here at the house have gotten a big kick out of Wegee. She's real friendly, and likes to be petted," said Neal.

HAMSTERS BELONG to the rodent family and are about three inches long. They have golden brown fur and food pockets on the side of their cheeks like squirrels, Neal explained.

"Wegee likes to crawl in pants pockets. Put food in the pockets and they're really attractive. She'll hunt around till she finds the food, stuff it in her cheeks, and hide it in the cage," Neal said.

WEGEE'S DIET consists of hamster food, rabbit pellets, carrots, celery, and a little meat now and then. She also likes sugar cubes to satisfy her sweet tooth.

"Wegee likes to be played with but not during her sleeping hours. She sleeps all day and is a regular night owl. If you wake her up too abruptly, she's liable to start chewing on you," Neal cautioned.

Neal keeps his pet in an all-metal cage, constructed from hail screen and two pie tins. They gnaw on anything they can get their teeth into. "Hamsters have to keep their teeth filed down or the teeth will grow together. Wegee particularly likes to chew on pencils," Neal added.

"I don't have any plans for raising hamsters at the fraternity. It might cause a little trouble. Wegee got loose the second day I had her. The housemother found her in the kitchen, and Wegee almost lost her happy home," Neal said.

St. Jo Newspaper Reporter Killed by Gunman in Daylight

Compiled from the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 18—A 20-year-old newspaper reporter was shot and killed here early today by an unidentified gunman as he sat in a parked car.

Skram, a reporter for the St. Joseph Gazette, a morning newspaper, was seated in a parked car with a young woman, also employed by the newspaper, Starmer said.

The woman, who was hysterical, said that "the first thing she knew there was an explosion and she thought the radio had blown up." The shot shattered the car's windshield but missed both occupants.

Starmer quoted the woman as saying that the couple saw a man standing about 10 feet away and Skram asked "what's going on?" The man fired a second time, the bullet striking Skram in the left cheek, coursing downward, and emerging from the neck.

French Back to Wine

Paris, Oct. 18—The dark days of Pierre Mendes-France are over. French schoolchildren can soon give up their milk and go back to spiking their drinking water with good red wine.

The National Assembly's committee on beverages voted overwhelmingly yesterday to demand that the public schools permit pupils to add wine to their water as they did before Mendes-France was premier.

KS Ag, Engineer Mags Off Press

Two K-State student magazines, the Kansas State Engineer, and the Kansas State Agricultural Student, are making their first appearance of the school year this week.

The Ag Student is published six times a year for Ag Students. The October issue features articles on marketing clean eggs, grain drying techniques, and use of multiflora roses for protection of wildlife.

The Engineer appears monthly during the school year to serve the student engineers. The October issue contains stories on space satellites, the new Chesapeake Bay bridge, and 3-D sound.

Phone Book To Register All of Staff

For the first time, K-State is publishing a telephone directory which lists all employees of the College, including civil service workers.

In previous years, directories have listed only departmental and administrative offices. The student directory contained names of faculty members, but did not list civil service personnel.

The directory was compiled by the physical plant department.

Cool Autumn Evenings Enliven Greek Picnics

Delta Delta Delta had an exchange picnic with Delta Tau Delta Tuesday evening.

Chi Omega members held their traditional Elusinian picnic Wednesday night at the chapter house. Approximately 15 alumnae were honored guests of the evening.

Alpha Kappa Lambda will have a hayrack ride and picnic for members and their dates, tomorrow at 6 p.m.

Alpha Kappa Lambda was host to 15 chapter members from Kansas State Teachers college at Emporia last weekend. A picnic was held in their honor after the AKLs touch football game.

Farm House members entertained their dates with a Bar-B-Que steak fry, Sunday, October 14, 4:30 p.m., at Carnahan ranch. After everyone had had their fill of steak, the pledge class entertained with a skit, "You Were There," adapted from the television program by the same name.

The annual TKE barbeque will be Saturday night at the Burtis ranch from 6 to 9 p.m. and there will be a dance at the chapter house afterwards. Jay McShane's combo from Kansas City will provide the music.

Stags only were permitted at the joint picnic of the men's organized independent house Friday, Oct. 12, at Top of the World.

Aces Use Airways, Beat House of Breck

The Aces scored four touchdowns on passes and ran a ground play for the fifth as they rolled over House of Breck, 34-0, in Wednesday's intramural touch football.

The Aces scored seven points in the first quarter and six in the second to lead 13-0 at the half. They duplicated their first quarter scoring in the third quarter with another seven. The Aces ended the scoring in the game with 14 points in the fourth quarter.

Independent and fraternity division teams will play for the title of their respective divisions in games Monday and Wednesday of next week. Winners from each of the four groups of a division will draw their opponents name tomorrow for the games next week.

Independent division winners are House of Williams, Jr. AVMA, Jones Boys, and Hillbillies. The four fraternity winners have not been determined yet.

Junior Lettermen Fill Cat Cage Bill

Kansas State's basketball squad of 18 men opened practice this week although the Wildcats won't open play until Dec. 1, and won't begin defending their Big Seven crown until Jan. 5.

Included on the Wildcats cage squad are 9 returning lettermen from last year's conference champs—7 of them juniors with a single season's testing. But among those youthful cagers is Jack Parr, 6-9 center who was sensational as a sophomore last season.

He averaged 17.4 points and 14 rebounds a game for the best all-around performance of any K-State player in history. He was named all-Big Seven center although only a sophomore.

The Wildcats have more size in camp this season—particularly if Bob Boozer, 6-7 sophomore from Omaha, Neb., can make the grade at forward. He holds a starter's role at present along with Hayden Abbott, 6-3 junior forward; Parr, Roy DWitz, 6-3 junior guard; and Eddie Wallace, 5-11 senior guard.

Abbott, Parr, and DeWitz were regulars last season. Wallace was first reserve at guard and was named to the all-tourney team of the NCAA regional playoffs at Lawrence.

In addition to the four figured in starters' roles, Wildcat lettermen include Larry Fischer, 6-4 junior from Pratt; Bob Jedwabny, 6-5 junior from Menasha, Wis.; Jack Kiddoo, 6-0 senior from Coffeyville; Dean Plagge, 6-3 junior from Belle Plaine; and Don Richards, 6-1 junior from Bonnie, Ill.

Nesmith Named Athletic Man of the Year

Kenny Nesmith, K-State senior halfback from Manhattan, has been selected Kansas State's "Athletic Man of the Year", in the first such award ever made at Kansas State. It honors the Wildcat starter as "the man contributing most to intercollegiate athletics at K-State during the past year."

The award, in honor of Mike Ahearn, longtime Wildcat athletic director and coach, will be made annually with the winner's name engraved on a large bronze plaque in the "K" room of Ahearn Field House.

back and is the leading Wildcat ball carrier with a 5.9 yards-a-carry average.

He does the majority of the K-State punting chores and has averaged 38.5 yards on 15 punts.

Last Saturday against the Nebraska Cornhuskers, Kenny intercepted two Husker passes, gained 47 yards rushing, caught one pass for 10 yards, and averaged 42 yards on four punts, to lead K-State to its first win of the season.

Bargain Day In Big Seven On Saturday

The Big Seven's Saturday "bargain day" football special will continue this Saturday with a four-game slate offering three conference games and an interesting non-league engagement.

The University of Oklahoma Sooners will seek their fourth victory of the season, their 34th consecutive success, and their 55th Big Seven win without defeat in a tilt with the high-spirited Kansas Jayhawks at Lawrence.

Missouri's Tigers will open their conference schedule against the revived K-State Wildcats in Manhattan.

The Colorado Buffaloes, presently leading the conference with two victories, will clash with the West Iowa State team in years at Ames, Iowa.

Nebraska's Cornhuskers hope to rebound from a loss to K-State at the expense of Indiana of the Big Ten at Lincoln.

Fireworks are guaranteed at these sites:

LAWRENCE—It's been a long time since Oklahoma lost to a Big Seven team. Loyal Jayhawks recall the last time the trick was turned was in Memorial Stadium, Lawrence. A fourth quarter field goal by end Paul Turner gave Kansas a 16-13 victory over the 1946 Sooners and gave Kansas a tie with Oklahoma for the then Big Six championship.

The game will show three of the conference's top scorers. Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma sets the pace with 42 points. Homer Floyd, Kansas sophomore, and 1955 All American Tommy McDonald each have 30 points. Thomas is the league's leading ground gainer with 262 yards on 27 carries. Floyd is second in this department with 50 trips for 257 yards.

MANHATTAN—Both Missouri and K-State have high hopes of winning this one. Missouri was the choice of the pollsters to represent the Big Seven in the Orange Bowl. The Tigers lost their first three games to strong outsiders, then bounced back to beat North Dakota State 42-0 last week.

K-State barely appears in the upper bracket of the statistical chart thus far, but the Wildcats won 21-0 at Columbia last year and will be after a repeat performance.

AMES—It will be a big challenge for Iowa State, which has lost a couple of heartbreakers in the Big Seven to Nebraska and Kansas this season. Colorado has fine runners in Howard Cook and Bob Stransky and a power expert in fullback John Bayuk. Iowa State's John Scheidrup, 210-pound, 6'4" end, is the conference's No. 2 pass receiver. Chuck Lattin is a hard-hitting carrier.

LINCOLN—Nebraska has been tangling with Big Ten teams for several decades, and there are few cases on record where the Cornhuskers failed to make it a genuine contest. Fullback Jerry Brown offers a strong Husker threat up the middle. LaVerne Torczon, an all-conference guard last season, is key man in another potentially powerful Nebraska defense.

MRS. MARY AHEARN presents Kenny Nesmith with K-State's first "Athletic Man of the Year" award. Wildcat athletic director Bebe Lee looks on.

OPEN THURSDAY NIGHT

PROBLEM: To evaluate the all-round career advantages offered by the widely diversified activities at Divisions of North American Aviation, Inc.

FIRST STEP: GET THE FACTS in man-to-man interviews, on campus October 22

As a graduate in Engineering, Physics, Applied Math. or allied subjects you need complete, factual information to help you make a sound decision in choosing your career.

Get the facts in a man-to-man interview with our representative. Let him tell you about our unique placement and training devised to help your potential develop rapidly in a company where continued expansion has doubled the number of employees in 5 years. Your possibilities are wide and varied, as you will see from these brief notes on the 4 Divisions:

AUTONETICS creates automatic controls and electro-mechanical systems of a highly interesting nature. Work includes research, design, development, manufacture and testing; you will become a part of the latest advances in inertial navigation and guidance, fire and flight controls, analog and digital computers.

ROCKETDYNE is building power for outer space—large, liquid propellant rocket engines. The Field Test Laboratory in the Santa Susana Mountains is the most complete rocket engine workshop in the free world. Here a man meets more aspects of his specialty in one week than in a year of "conventional" practice.

ATOMICS INTERNATIONAL is pioneering in the creative use of the atom. If you are able to meet the high requirements for this work, you can help introduce a new industrial era. Atomics International is designing and building varied types of nuclear reactors, for both power and research, with the practical experience gained by 10 years in the field.

MISSILE DEVELOPMENT ENGINEERING

Long range missiles, including the intercontinental SM-64 Navaho, present problems of the most fascinating nature. Speeds, materials and functions now being dealt with were only theoretical a few years ago. The work is vital; the opportunities for you, as a creative engineer, are correspondingly great.

CONTACT YOUR PLACEMENT OFFICE TODAY Make an appointment NOW to see North American Representative on campus. OR WRITE: Mr. J. Kimbark, College Relations Representative, Dept. 991-20, North American Aviation, Inc., Downey, Calif.

"... Eisenhower administration is deplorable"

Young Demo, GOP Debaters Both Win

The Young Republicans "proved" that the Eisenhower administration is not deplorable, and the Young Democrats "proved" that it is—depending on your point of view—in a debate last night in Engineering Lecture hall.

No decision was reached in the debate on the Democrats' challenge that "Resolved: The record of the Eisenhower administration is deplorable."

Debating for the Young Democrats were Ed McCoy, PrL Jr., and Tom Bowman, ChE Jr. Debating for the Young Republicans were Pat Loyd, BA Soph., and Ray North, PrL Jr.

The debate centered around foreign policy, the farm situation, and big and little businesses under the Eisenhower administration.

The Democratic positive team stated that, under Eisenhower's administration, the United States had lost 12 million people in Indo-China to Communism.

The GOP negative team answered of "Did we ever own the 12 million people in Indo-China?" brought scattered applause.

The Republicans said the Eisenhower administration has raised the price of farm commodities. The Democrats answered that, although the price of farm commodities has risen, farm income is going down.

Union Pep Rally Tonight To Start Busy Weekend

K-State cheerleaders will lead yells and songs from the terrace of the Student Union tonight at 7 for students who attend a pep rally on the Union's south lawn.

Head football coach Bus Mertes and the entire Wildcat football squad will attend the rally preceding tomorrow's Parents' Day game with Missouri. A member of the MU coaching staff also will attend.

The College marching band under the direction of Jean Hedlund will furnish music. Student body President Pat Wilkerson will be master of ceremonies.

Spotlights and a loudspeaker will be used for the rally, which is expected to last about half an hour, according to head cheerleader Larry Youngdoff, BA Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. St. John, parents of Marilyn St. John, Psy Jr., have been chosen as K-State's honorary parents. They will be presented at halftime of tomorrow's game.

Mr. St. John went to Wichita from Jamestown, Ohio, to work for Kansas Gas and Electric company in the early Twenties after graduation from Ohio State university.

Mrs. St. John, raised in Helena, Okla., moved to Wichita in the early Twenties to work for KG&E.

"They were on a fishing trip in Minnesota when I called to tell them they had been selected honorary K-State parents," Miss St. John said.

Special arrangements for handling the large number of parents expected on the campus this weekend are being made by the Student Union, according to Director Loren Kottner.

Beginning at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow, students will be stationed throughout the building to direct visitors, and football music will be played over the sound system. Tours of the Union will be available during the forenoon.

Three types of meal service will be available from 10:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.

A "buffeteria" featuring fast service and a complete meal for $1.25 will be served in the main ballroom. The cafeteria also will be open, as will the State Room.

Parents have been asked to register in the lobby of the Union.

A "Tiger Drag" dance with Bill Heptig's band is planned for the main ballroom of the Union tomorrow night from 9 to 12.

Only couples will be admitted, and casual dress will be appropriate, according to Mike Dole, ChE Soph., publicity chairman for the dance committee. Tickets are on sale in the Union lobby.

"O Henry's Full House" will be presented by the Union movie committee today, tomorrow, and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Little Theater.

Beginning tomorrow, KSDB-FM will broadcast by remote control from the Union Dive on Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, and after home football games. This will feature disc jockey shows and interviews.

K-State Polio Victims Remain in Iron Lungs

Craig Birtell, ME Sr., still is in "serious" condition at Stormont-Vail hospital in Topeka, according to RN Marilyn Cline of the hospital.

"Craig is in 'serious' condition, but anyone in an iron lung is considered so. However, he is doing very well," she said.

Senior Election Will End Today

Voting for senior class officers will end today at 5 p.m.

The polling place is located on the main floor of Anderson hall. Activity cards must be shown in order to vote. They can be used only once and are not transferable.

The only contests are for president and treasurer. Russell Bradley, Chm Sr., (Progressive) and Gilmore Dahl, AH Sr., (Integrity) are candidates for president. Sandra Mueller, Clo Sr., (Integrity) and Marilyn McCready, Eng Sr., (Progressive) are candidates for treasurer.

Birtell's legs and arms are paralyzed to some extent, but it probably won't be permanent, she said.

"It will probably be quite some time before Craig will recover. He first will have to learn to breathe again; and then extensive physical therapy will be given to help him regain the use of his muscles," his nurse said.

Kenneth Kohfeld, AA Soph., who was stricken with polio in July, also is in a respirator, the hospital reported. However, he is learning to breathe again and now is able to remain out of the lung for 15 minutes once a day.

"Kohfeld is regaining some use of both legs and arms, and is coming along fine," the nurse said.

PEPPY K-STATERS gathered east of Anderson hall at 1 p.m. yesterday to stir up enthusiasm over the Wildcats' chances of beating MU in the Parents' Day football game tomorrow.

Judgers To Compete in American Royal

K-State livestock, wool, and meats judging teams will be competing for top honors in intercollegiate contests at the American Royal in Kansas City this weekend.

The livestock judging team was second in the contest last year, and was first in 1952 and 1954.

The wool judging team will be trying for its second win in a row at the Royal. The meats team was eighth last year.

Coaches of the K-State judging teams are Prof. Don Good, senior livestock judging team; Prof. T. D. Bell, wool judging team; and Ken Boughton, meats judging team.

The senior livestock judging team left this morning for Kansas City to compete with 21 other teams for the intercollegiate livestock judging championship.

They will judge 12 classes of livestock tomorrow morning, and will give individual oral reasons on eight classes Saturday afternoon.

The five men who will judge in the contest won't be chosen until the contest.

Members of the wool judging team, trying for its second

American Royal win in a row, are Leon Sucht, AH Sr.; Duane Johnson, AH Sr.; Milton Shirley, AA Sr.; Gilmore Dahl, AH Sr.; and Allen Henry, AH Sr.

The meats judging team will go to St. Joseph for a final workout before the team is named for the Royal.

Mr. and Mrs. Verdan Delange of Girard, parents of Pat Delange, HEN Soph., will be honored as the American Royal Kansas farm family of the year.

They are selected on the basis of varied interests and accomplishments in agriculture and in youth work.

On Kansas Day at the Royal—October 24—they will be guests in the box of former Senator Harry Darby, chairman of the Royal board of governors. They will be honored similarly that evening at the horse show.

More than 100 head of K-State livestock will be shown at the Royal livestock show starting Saturday.

K-State beef herdsman Vernon Lindell will fit and show 15 head of beef cattle at the Royal.

In the swine division, K-State will show 12 fat barrows, with Gary Peterson, Ag Fr., in charge.

Prof. T. D. Bell, who has charge of the College sheep breeding work, said about 50 head will be shown at the Royal. Fat wether lambs and breeding sheep will be represented.

Students, Faculty In Favor Of Pre-Enrollment System

By CAROL SITZ

Students and faculty members alike overwhelmingly seem to agree they like the idea of pre-enrollment for all students.

Pre-enrollment for all K-Staters will take place for the first time December 3 through December 21 for the coming spring semester.

ALL STUDENTS and about one-half of the faculty members interviewed agreed that the biggest advantage in pre-enrolling will be the amount of time saved over the old way of enrolling.

"Pre-enrollment will save a lot of time. I think it's a good idea—mainly because I had to wait so long to enroll last semester," was the comment from Diana Mellor, SED Jr.

BRAD BROADY, PrM Fr, agreed that pre-enrollment will save a lot of time. "Regular enrollment was really a mess when I went through," he added.

"I certainly am in favor of pre-enrollment," said I. E. Thorson, professor of architecture and allied arts. "It will save time for all involved."

ANOTHER ADVANTAGE of pre-enrollment expressed by those interviewed was that it will eliminate a great deal of confusion. "I had a hectic time getting through regular enrollment," commented Fred Martell, Ar 02, "I think pre-enrollment will be a lot easier for students and faculty alike."

"Last year at Emporia State, there wasn't must confusion in pre-enrolling because the student body was smaller. But when I went through fall enrollment here, I was completely lost," said Janie Nelson, HE Soph, Lawrence. "Pre-enrollment is just what we need."

"PRE-ENROLLING will be a more efficient method than the old way of enrolling," said Mrs. Winnifred Pederson, English instructor. "Pre-enrolling should eliminate many of the unpleasant features of the present enrolling system," she said.

About one-half of the faculty members interviewed expressed the opinion that most of the pre-enrolling work will fall on a small number of the faculty.

Several faculty members felt that the actual time involved in pre-enrolling students would be greater than the amount of time it took to enroll students in the regular enrollment method.

MISS MARGARET RAFFINGTON, assistant professor of home economics, expressed the belief that even though the faculty would spend more time in pre-enrollment it would work out to the advantage of the students.

"By taking more time with pre-enrolling," she said, "the student will have the advantage of more adequate planning of his schedule, both for the present and the future."

All the students and faculty members interviewed expressed the belief that even though the pre-enrollment system may not be the final answer to K-State's enrollment problem, pre-enrollment for all students is definitely a step in the right direction.

HERE'S ANOTHER EXAMPLE of how to win friends and influence people. We don't know what type of reading course they teach here but evidently people don't use their eyes or head.—George Vohs.

'Diaper Rash' Develops on IS Campus As Band, Card Section Carry on Feud

By Mary Beckmeyer

Iowa State's marching band and card section are clashing!

IT SEEMS Iowa State's band and the card section have come to hard feelings over last Saturday's half-time routine. The dispute arose when the band was in the formation of a baby's diapers, and simultaneously the card section was spelling out "Go, Go, Go State."

The band director and chairman of the card section said there was lack of coordination between the two groups.

Well in that case, there will just have to be some "changes" made.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY music hath charms that arouses the egg-hurlers.

Thirty fraternity men at Indiana University were romantically serenading a sorority when a Bloomington teenager's car stopped in front of the house and two dozen eggs were thrown at the crooners.

One of the fraternity men got into a car and chased the pranksters. They turned out to be three girls and one boy all of high school age.

THE REASON for the flying yokes—"those fraternity songs are square."

Our campus is not the only one plagued with parking problems. Newspapers from several colleges report limited parking space on their campuses.

At Oregon State, the crackdown has started. Campus police are hot on the trail of frosh who registered their car permits as upperclassmen (they receive special privileges).

ONE OF the first ones caught was a freshman who received a ticket for not having a car sticker. He went in to pay for the ticket and complained that he had lost his sticker. When he re-registered, he signed up as a junior. He stepped outside, tore up the old frosh sticker and dropped it in the nearby wastebasket. A campus policeman walked by and noticed torn-up sticker, pieced it together and the freshman's goose was cooked. Shades of Dragnet.

The "Daily Californian" reports that two Berkeley police officers stood by recently as a University of California student washed his car.

THE POLICEMEN WERE assigned when some alert person remembered that last spring's panty raids started with an innocent water fight. They were prepared to go into action if he even dared to look at a passer-by while holding the hose.

The next time you get bored in the barber chair because the job of getting a haircut seems to be taking too long, consider this story from the Connecticut Daily Campus:

A MAN walked into a barbershop near the campus a few minutes before closing time. Instead of refusing to give him a haircut, three barbers went to work on him at once... one clipping on each side and one doing the top. In no time at all, in spite of his protests, the gentleman got one of the fastest haircuts since Indian times. And to prove that it was administered in the cause of science, no charge was made.

The haircut was a good one, but what will the union say?

Japanese, Soviets End 11-Year State of War

Compiled From the United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Moscow, Oct. 19—Japan and the Soviet Union signed a joint declaration today, ending an 11-year state of war between the two nations. A formal peace treaty was left to future negotiations.

Two documents were signed in the Kremlin by Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama for Japan and Premier Nikolai Bulganin for the Soviets.

One document was a joint declaration calling for normalization of relations between Tokyo and Moscow.

Under this agreement, the state of war ends. Both countries will exchange ambassadors, the Soviets will release some 1,000 Japanese prisoners still in Russian hands, the Soviets will support a Japanese bid for entry into the United Nations.

The second document was a protocol on trade.

The question of the return of certain Kurile Island territory claimed by Japan was deferred to a later date.

in Tokyo that all mayors were treated equally and that some of Lacson's troubles were caused by his own behavior.

"I do not recall this Takase," the Manila mayor said today, "because I met so many stupid officials of the Toyko metropolitan government upon my arrival in Tokyo."

Border Row to U.N.

United Nations, N.Y., Oct. 19—Jordan and Israel carried their border dispute to the United Nations Security Council today. Jordanian diplomats said today they would demand economic and diplomatic sanctions against Israel.

The 11-man Security Council met to hear charges and counter-charges by both the Arab and Jewish nations.

British May Lose Out

London, Oct. 19—The little Arab kingdom of Jordan elects a 40-man house of representatives Sunday in general elections that could mean the end of a kingship created by Britain eight years ago.

Britain was looking towards the elections with obvious nervousness because Jordan is Britain's last foothold in the Arab world and an end of the monarchy could mean a break in Jordan's ties with the West.

Observers in London believe the elections might result in the opposition coming to power on a wave of riots though dispatches from Amman say the situation is quiet and there is no resemblance between the present situation and the fatal riots of last December and January.

Manila Mayor Moans

Manila, Oct. 19—Manila's hot-tempered Mayor Arsenio (Arsenic) Lacson today bitterly criticized "stupid bureaucrats" who "fouled up everything" at the recent world mayors' conference in Tokyo.

Lacson charged earlier in a radio broadcast that Japanese officials who set up the meeting discriminated against Asian mayors in favor of mayors of Europe. But Jiro Takaso, one of the Japanese officials, told United Press

Delts, Alphs Win Titles

TAKE THAT—PIKA Frank Meegan seemingly takes a swing at teammate Jerry Metz in an effort to bat the ball away from Dave Craig of Delta Tau Delta.

Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon both won group championships in intramural football Thursday to qualify for the playoffs next Monday and Wednesday.

The Delts scored twice in the first quarter, one touchdown on a pass from Joe Kashner to Jay Ryan and the second on a run by Kashner. Dub Gunter passed to Dave Craig for a touchdown in the third period, and the Delts made six in the fourth on a pass from Craig to Rich Jennings. The only PIKA score came in the first quarter on a pass from Jerry Metz to Dick Boyd.

SAE blanked Acacia, 33-0, on Ralph Ball's pinpoint passing and a 60-yard run by Dave Lamar. Ball hit John Costello, Bob Doebele, Darwin Hester and Chad Sims for touchdowns in the rout to give the Sig Alps the group II championship.

Beta Sigma Psi edged Sigma Chi in an overtime, 25-24, on a pass from Jim Raffety to Rawleigh Meyer. Raffety passed to all four of the Beta Sig tallies.

Sigma Nu beat Beta Theta Pi in a thriller, 26-25, in the last 35 seconds. Sigma Nu was one point ahead with two minutes to go in the final period when the Betas scored to put them five ahead. But, with 35 seconds left, Owen Sutter flipped a pass to Don Jaax for the winning score.

Playing today at 4:15, Theta Xi vs 1834 Club, North-W; Lambda Chi Alpha vs Tau Kappa Epsilon, North-C; Kappa Sigma vs Farm House, North-E; Alpha Kappa Lambda vs Delta Sigma Phi, Campus-SE; Alpha Tau Omega vs Alpha Gamma Rho, Campus-E.

Bums Nipped By Nips, 5-4

Tokyo — (U.P.) — The Yomiuri Giants made bums of the Brooklyn Dodgers in their Japan debut today.

Sixteen Dodgers struck out, three straight in the ninth inning, as they lost 5-4 in the opening of a 20-game exhibition tour to the amazement of 20,000 fans at Tokyo's Korakuen stadium.

Duke Snider struck out three times to pace the Dodgers' fan-ners. He duplicated the three consecutive strikeouts by Mickey Mantle in the second game of the New York Yankees' series here last year.

It was a bad day for Snider. When he did get on base with a walk, first up in the eighth, he was trapped off the bag. He really was safe at second on the run-down when the Giants second baseman dropped the peg from first. But Snider thought he was out, kept running and was tagged at third.

The Brooks were sparkling in the infield with three snappy double plays by Jackie Robinson, Pee Wee Reese, Jim Gilliam and Gil Hodges. But they came to life at bat only in the fourth inning when homers by Robinson and Hodges in succession cleared the left field wall.

Reese, who singled through second for the first hit off starting pitcher righthander Sho Horiuchi, scored on Robinson's homer after Snider fanned for the second time. Roy Campanella followed Hodges' round-tripper with a single to left center.

Righthander Takumi Otomo relieved Horiuchi and forced Don Demeter to pop out. Gino Cimoli tripled over Honolulan Wally Yonamine's head in center to score Campanella. Don Drysdale, however, struck out to retire the side.

Specialized training program

Earn a regular professional engineering salary as you work on carefully rotated assignments giving you a comprehensive view of RCA engineering. Your individual interests are considered and you have every chance for permanent assignment in the area you prefer. Your work gets careful review under RCA's advancement plan and you benefit from guidance of experienced engineers and interested management. Following training, you will enter development and design engineering in such fields as Radar, Airborne Electronics, Computers, Missile Electronics. For manufacturing engineers, there are positions in quality; material or production control, test equipment design, methods. You may also enter development, design or manufacture of electron tubes, semiconductor components or television.

Direct hire

If you are qualified by experience or advanced education, your interests may point to a direct assignment. The RCA management representative will be glad to help you. Many fields are open...from research, systems, design and development to manufacturing engineering...in aviation and missile electronics, as well as radar, electron tubes, computers, and many other challenging fields.

... and you advance

Small engineering groups mean recognition for initiative and ability, leading on to advancement that's professional as well as financial. RCA further helps your development through reimbursement for graduate study under a liberal tuition refund plan.

Cat Gridders Out For Second Big Seven Win

WILDCAT NEMESIS—Jimmy Hunter, who leads the Missouri Tigers in two departments, will be at the Bengal grid helm Saturday at Missouri invades Memorial stadium looking for its first Big Seven victory. Hunter has completed 15 of 29 pass attempts for 173 yards and has returned two punts for 87 yards with a 43.5 average. He is second in rushing with 125 yards, and third in punting with a 33.9 average on two kicks.

K-State's gridders, surprise winners over Nebraska, 10-7, the past weekend, opens its home Big Seven slate here tomorrow against Missouri. The Wildcats will be out to repeat a 22-year-old feat—taking two in a row from the Tigers.

Kickoff for the Parents' Day contest is at 1:30 p.m.

K-State shut out the Tigers, 21-0, at Columbia last season for the first Wildcat win in the series since 1938. Not since 1934, when K-State swept to the Big Six crown, has any Wildcat grid team won from Missouri two years in a row.

A Wildcat win may be hard to come by. Missouri has shown tremendous improvement over last season. The Tigers dropped narrow decisions to Oregon State, 19-13; Purdue, 16-7; and SMU, 33-27, before bouncing back to smear North Dakota State, 42-0.

"After looking at the films of Missouri's game with SMU, we realize we will be up against a real juggernaut," cautioned Cat coach Bus Mertes.

"Missouri gained more yardage against SMU and Purdue than Notre Dame did. We feel we are facing a great ball team. The game means a chance for Missouri to open Big Seven play with a win; for us it could key the remainder of our conference season. It's that big."

K-State rebounded with a surprise win over Nebraska at Lincoln last Saturday to close out the Wildcats' Big Seven road games. They suffered early season licks from Oklahoma A&M, 27-7; Colorado, 34-0; and Oklahoma, 66-0.

Terming the Wildcats' play against Nebraska the result of "the greatest determination I have ever seen in a squad," the K-State coach said he felt the win bolstered K-State spirits in a big way. "But remember that Missouri also got its first win of the season last week," he said.

Wildcat personnel should be in the best shape of the season tomorrow. Two men who missed the Nebraska game—center Kerry Clifford and fullback Bill Carrington, both seniors—should be ready for action against the Tigers.

Two newcomers are to appear in K-State's opening lineup for this game. Jim Luzinski, sophomore end who caught two passes for 47 yards against the Cornhuskers, has been moved up to right end on the first unit; and Ellis Rainsberger, junior lineman who had played guard, tackle, and center this season, should open at the center position.

JIMMY HUNTER
Missouri Quarterback

Wildcat captain, Rainsberger was shifted to center duties only last week and performed well at the spot against Nebraska.

The K-State backfield remains unchanged with quarterback Keith Wilson, halfbacks Kenny Nesmith and Jerry Hayes, and fullback Ralph Pfeiffer. Nesmith has averaged 6 yards-a-carry from his left half post to lead Wildcat ball carriers.

The Manhattan senior, named Wildcat "Man of the Year" this week, made two game-saving pass interceptions against Nebraska.

Should K-State manage to upend the favored Tigers it would mark only the 13th Wildcat win in the 41-game series between the two schools. Missouri has won 25 times; and four have ended in ties.

Probable starters:

Top Thrill for Grosse As Toe Nails Victory

By JOHN TOMS

"It was the greatest thrill of my life."

That was the way sophomore Cat halfback Ben Grosse described his game-winning 35-yard field goal against Nebraska last Saturday at Lincoln.

Grosse's kick came in the third quarter, breaking a 7-7 deadlock, and carried K-State to a 10-7 victory, its first in four games this season.

That field goal was not accidental. The 5-11, 183-pound Grosse has been educating his toe to put the pigskin through the uprights since the beginning of the season. He kicks 15 to 20 field goals during every practice session.

"He's really been in there trying the past few weeks," coach Bus Mertes said. "I think he earned that field goal that he got last Saturday against Nebraska."

Ben won eight letters at Concordia high, captaining North Central Kansas league championship teams in football and basketball.

As a senior at Concordia, he was named honorable mention on the all-state football team, and won spots on all-area and 'International' Library Staff Finds U.S. Friendly, Informal

By NANCY MOLTER

The Farrell Library staff is getting an "international" touch with such countries as Switzerland, Germany, and China represented on its staff.

In general, these employees find Americans friendly, fun-loving and informal.

Mrs. Katharina Atteridg from Germany pointed out that she likes the friendliness of the people here best.

"American people are very helpful," she said. "I like their sense of humor too, but I had to get used to it."

"The difference between American colleges and European colleges is that, in America, studies and pleasures are combined. In Europe they are very strict and there is a great deal more studying and less fun," she said.

When a person has been raised that way, he doesn't know any other way, so doesn't miss the fun, she said. An American student might have trouble adjusting in a European college because of this, she added.

"I think there is too much emphasis on getting A's in American colleges. In Europe, to get an A, you must know the subject thoroughly and be able to explain it," she went on.

Mrs. Atteridg, who works in continuations, said that she likes the way American students are given a choice by their parents as to whether to go to college or not.

"There is no other choice in many European families because your parents expect you to go," she concluded.

Fred Y. M. Ma has degrees from the Soo-chow Law School in Shanghai, the National Sun Yat-Sen university in Canton, and the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis. As cataloguer, he classifies and records books at Farrell Library.

"I like the informal relationship between students and teachers in American colleges," he said.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK—Americans combine studies and pleasure, Mrs. Katharina Atteridg (left) finds. She came to the Farrell Library continuations department from a job with U.S. Army Special Services in Wels, Austria. With her is Mrs. Regina Kunath, who came to K-State from Switzerland.

Chinese students don't have as many extra-curricular activities as do American students and, as a result, they are a little more serious in the pursuit of their studies, he added.

"I think that some American colleges place too much emphasis on their athletic program—football in particular. If they don't have a winning team, a lot of pressure is applied on the head coach," he went on.

Mrs. Regina Kunath came here from Switzerland. In London and Switzerland she had extensive bookselling experience, and is now with the order department of the Library.

"I have been in America two months and my first impression is that everything is bigger. The distance in traveling is so much greater in the United States than in Switzerland," she said.

"In Switzerland, mostly older students go to college. The preparation for college also is different. Students start with foreign languages in grade school, and high schools in Switzerland are about the same as junior colleges here."

Corral Dog Rustlers

Washington, (U.P.) — Police rounded up a gang of juvenile dog rustlers yesterday.

Officers said the youths herded some 25 purebred dogs in a wooden "corral" and later sold them to pet shops.

Directory, Kansas Mag, K-Stater Are Due Soon

The Student Directory, the K-Stater, and the Kansas Magazine are in the process of being printed and should be out soon, according to George Eaton, superintendent of the College press.

The Student Directory is to be ready in the next two weeks. It is to include the names of students, faculty and staff, plus the SGA constitution.

The K-Stater, alumni magazine, is scheduled to be off the press at the end of the week, according to editor Helen P. Hostetter.

The Kansas Magazine is to be finished by the end of the month. It will include general stories, poems, and art.

Jack Cather, Ar 02, has replaced Prof. Elmer Tomasch as art editor for the October issue of the K-Stater. He has done the art work for three of the articles appearing in the magazine.

James Farrell, '51, son of President Emeritus F. D. Farrell, has written a story about Saudia Arabia, where he is stationed as a vice-counsel in the U. S. diplomatic service.

A. P. Atkins, '24, has written an article about a trip he took to Russia. He calls the article, "Behind the Rusty Iron Curtain."

The K-Stater last summer was rated the best-looking magazine published by colleges and universities in the 10,000 to 30,000 alumni class. The competition was sponsored by the American Alumni council.

Featured in the Kansas Magazine art section will be a series of photographs showing Kansas architecture from early sod buildings to the latest types of structures.

Dr. Earle Davis, head of the English department, has written an article about Charles Dickens. William Sylvester, assistant professor of English, has written a short story.

Local Mormons Planning Chapel

A chicken barbecue yesterday moved the local Latter Day Saints group closer to their goal of building a chapel here.

Construction of the $40,000-to-$50,000 chapel tentatively is scheduled for next fall. The campus group must provide between 10 and 30 per cent of the cost before Latter Day Saints headquarters will provide the remainder.

The 58 members of the group have raised $1,000 since last year through individual donations and money-raising projects. Student labor during construction of the chapel will cover part of the cost.

College members of Mormon church are also members of the Mutual Improvement association headed by Edward Nelson, AH Gr. Members of the church may belong to the Mutual Improvement association from the age of 12.

"Our primary purpose is to provide religious and recreational activities for members of the Latter Day Saints," Nelson explained. "We have basketball and volleyball teams as well as our religious classes."

The Mutual Improvement association is divided into two groups, one for men and one for women. Nelson's wife is president of the women's group. Bert Erickson, DH Gr, is instructor for both groups, and Kay Chappell, TJ Jr, is secretary.

FUND RAISING CAN BE FUN—Moving closer to their fund-raising goal by whipping up a tasty barbecued chicken are these members of the Latter Day Saints. The group has raised $1,000 toward a new chapel. At least 10 per cent of the $40,000-to-$50,000 cost must be raised by the local group.

Industries Group Plans To Stress Home Crafts

The Campus Industries committee will set up an advisory board to aid students in developing home crafts, the group decided yesterday at a weekly meeting.

Main idea in stressing home crafts is to get students to turn their hobbies into money-making activities.

This advisory board will be made up of three Manhattan businessmen and three K-State specialists.

It is hoped that the board can meet once or twice a month to discuss individual students' problems in home-craft work and problems in selling the products.

The group decided to invite Manfax, local industrial development corporation, to a luncheon next week. The meeting would be to inform Manfax of just what K-State is planning to do, and to ask for advice and help.

The Campus Industries group plans to inform Manfax of the areas in which K-Staters hope to work, the amount of student labor, and when it could be used most easily.

By supporting Manfax in setting up more industry, the group hopes that student employment can be increased—either by direct jobs in the industry, or by jobs left vacant when other workers go to Manfax.

A home-crafts exhibit will be placed in the Union to inform students of possibilities of turning their hobbies into profits.

The group discussed the possibility of taking a poll of the K-Staters to find what work they are best suited for and their best times to work.

In a previous survey, it was found that half of the students work part time to pay their way through College. The men work an average of 18½ hours a week, and women work an average of 13½ hours a week.

The average pay is 70 cents an hour, with an average of 35 per cent of expenses being paid by part-time work.

Two polls tentatively are planned in which more-specific questions will be asked.

Purple Pepsters To Host National Pep Convention

K-State Purple Pepsters will be hostesses to a national convention of Phi Sigma Chi, national pep club, all day tomorrow, according to Mary Lee Durland, BMT Jr, national convention president.

Business meetings and panels are scheduled from 8-12 a.m. in the Union.

Kansas university representatives will discuss school spirit for one panel, and Wichita university representatives will discuss fund raising. Basketball coach Tex Winter will be luncheon speaker.

Out-of-town convention delegates will sit with the Purple Pep-sters at the K-State-Missouri football game. After the game the delegates will meet at the Union for election of national officers.

K.U., Wichita university, Washburn university, and Phillips university have accepted invitations. More replies are expected.

October 27 Is Last Day For Dropping Classes

October 27 is the final day that a student may drop a class without having "withdrawn" or "failure" entered on his transcript, according to E. M. Gerritz, director of admissions and registrar.

Class drops after that day will be recorded as "WD" or as "F." Withdrawals are processed through the dean's office of the school in which the student is enrolled.

Dahl Is Elected Senior Prexy

Gilmore Dahl, AEd Sr, was elected president of the Senior class of 1957 in elections held last Thursday and Friday.

Other officers elected were Sharon Diamond, Soc Sr, vice-president; Marilyn Smith, Soc Sr, secretary; and Sandra Mueller, Clo Sr, treasurer.

A total of 246 ballots were cast. Of these, 242 were valid, while 4 improperly marked ballots had to be thrown out, according to Neil Scott, Zoo Jr, Student Governing association elections committee chairman.

Dahl, an Integrity party candidate, defeated Russell Bradley, Chm Sr, the Progressive party candidate. Dahl received 138 votes, while Bradley received 99.

Total votes cast for other candidates were Sharon Diamond, vice-president, 120; Marilyn Smith, secretary, 144; and Sandra Mueller, treasurer, 128; and Marilyn McCready, treasurer, 110.

Write-in votes cast for president were Richard Peterson, 2; Gene Randall, 2; and Max K. Roberts, 2.

"We didn't find anyone breaking the election rules," said Scott. "As far as we know, it was a very clean election."

KS Judges Place Second at Royal

Oklahoma A & M edged out K-State in the annual collegiate livestock judging contest at the American Royal in Kansas City last Saturday.

Oklahoma A & M won first with 4,533 points, K-State second with 4,505, and Iowa State third with 4,454.

Leon Sucht, AH Sr; Duane Johnson, AH Sr; Milton Shirley, AA Sr; Roe Borsdorf, DH Sr; Allan Henry, Ag Jr; Lynn Perkins, Ag Jr; and Dwain Pilkington, AH Sr.

Parents' Day House Awards Go To Delta Sig's, Kappa's

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and Delta Sigma Phi fraternity were first place winners in Parents' Day decorations competition last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. E.D. St. John of Wichita were the Day's honorary parents.

"Kappa's Karpet for Kampus Kin" was the Kappa Kappa

Gamma welcoming theme. A red canopy with black trim hung across the doorway. A red carpet with black and gold "KKG" lettering covered the length of the front walk. The theme words hung over the door on a black and gold sign.

Delta Sigma Phi's theme, "Do you Remember?" was illustrated with a 1917 Dodge placed between the words, "Hi Folks". Two manikans dressed as sweethearts were in the car and the record "The Collegians" was played.

"Parent's Day has been a great honor and thrill for us," Mr. St. John commented. "I think the recognition of parents is deeply appreciated by many. The decoration of houses helped to make the event a successful occasion, too," he said.

The St. Johns were chosen from a drawing by the Student Council's Parent's Day committee. They are parents of Marilyn St. John, HE Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. St. John spent the day with President McCain and Marilyn. At noon they attended a special luncheon held in their honor at the Union. They sat with President McCain in his box at the K-State-Missouri football game.

George Peters, PrM Jr, chairman of the Parent's Day committee, presented the honorary parents with gifts at halftime of the game.

Pi Beta Phi and 1834 Club, Delta Upsilon colony, took runner-up honors in the house decoration contest. Miss Marjorie Adams, English professor, and Ralph R. Lashbrook, journalism department head, were judges.

Holmquist Is Royal Princess

Carole Holmquist, EEd Jr, was chosen a princess at the American Royal in Kansas City last Saturday at the Coronation ball.

She is a tall, light, auburn-haired girl with green eyes and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Holmquist, Hutchinson. She is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi social sorority.

Carole moved into the suit with the other princess in the Continental hotel. The 1956 Queen of the American Royal is Miss Mary Jo Smith, Lexington, Mo. The other princess is Miss Kay Stanfield, Newton, Kansas.

At the Coronation ball the princesses wore pale aqua tulle and silver lace formals and carried bouquets of long-stemmed red roses. The formals were designed by William Cahill of California, who designs the dresses for the Rose parade.

The candidates were judged on personality and beauty.

Carole said that she was thrilled and was really enjoying herself. They keep us going all the time, and gave me the nicest gifts. I got the formal, white gloves, cosmetic case, and cologne.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Holquist, and sister Mary Lee were in Kansas City with her.

Grid Game Thrills Young Polio Victim

Watching his first college football game from the players bench was quite an experience for Larry Sloan, 9, of Randolph, who was guest of the K-State football team at the game with the Missouri Tigers Saturday.

Larry, a fourth-grader, crippled by polio 6 years ago, wears a body cast but is able to walk.

"What are they all cheering about?", Larry asked as the team came on the field before the kickoff.

The Wildcat squad took up a collection for Larry and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sloan which paid their transportation, lunch, game tickets, and entertainment. Larry's parents viewed the game from the stadium.

Andy Stewart, Wildcat lineman who missed Saturday's action because of a broken hand, acted as ambassador for Larry and his parents, escorting them to lunch and the game. Stewart said, Larry enjoyed the mascot (Touchdown IV). He asked several questions about him, Stewart said. He said Larry was quick to catch on to the way the game was played.

Arrangements for Larry to see the game were made with the cooperation of the Riley County Health department.

Larry is one of eight children. His father is a Riley county highway maintenance employee.

Authors of Wise Observations Obscure As Advertisers Take Credit on Cards

By DARREL MILLER

MUD THROWN is ground lost.—Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment company.

Many of the wisest observations of mankind appear on the walls of offices. But the geniuses who think of these slogans usually remain obscure, while advertisers such as the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment company take the credit on wall cards.

Even tough old Army sergeants feel the need for slogans. I remember one in particular. It was tacked on the wall of the orderly room and said:

"Don't go away mad; just go away."

There are many of these slogans around K-State, all equally brilliant and fit to be inscribed on parchment with the blood of the yellow-headed titmouse.

The current favorite, which is quite simple and unaffected, reads as follows:

"Plan ahe

d

Another that always is apropos reads "Leave this place cleaner than you found it."

ELVIS PRESLEY'S "Love Me Tender" has dropped to the No. 9 spot on the Manhattan hit parade. Now that the hit parade is back to "normal," let's take a look at the top tunes.

"Green Door" by the Honky Tonks is first; "Honky Tonk" by Bill Doggett is second; and Patience and Prudence's Tonight You Belong to Me" is eighth.

THOSE ARCHITECTS who planned the Union really knew what they were doing. They thought of everything.

When the line to the State Room or to the cafeteria grows until it stretches back for yards and yards, the persons in the line remain protected.

Wisely, the architects placed a long hallway just east of the spot where the two lines form. Now—despite rain, sleet, snow or hail—K-State eaters remain snug and warm.

SPEAKING OF the Union, the Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science seems to have seceded from one—the United States of America-type Union.

While Big Seven pennants fluttered gaily in the crisp autumn breeze at Saturday's game, Old Glory was nowhere to be seen during the playing of the anthem.

An Orgy of Celebration Sweeps Poland After Successful Defiance of Kremlin

Compiled from the United Press

By LANCE GILMORE

An orgy of celebration swept across Poland today for the nation's successful defiance of the Kremlin in purging pro-Russian Defense Minister Konstantin Rokossovsky from the politburo—the Communist inner circle that runs Poland.

The Polish-born marshal was twice a hero of the Soviet union—the hero of Stalingrad, the defender of Moscow. He was the symbol of Stalinism that made Poles regard them as an occupied country. His ouster made them feel they were Poles again after years of being "almost Russian."

Rokossovsky was ousted by 52-year-old Wladyslaw Gomulka in an historic victory regarded by the Poles as almost complete. But observers here said Gomulka's new leadership would not make too much capital of Rokossovsky's defection now for fear of Russian retaliation.

Gomulka's feat is actually greater than Marshal Tito's break away from Russia. There were no Russian troops in Yugoslavia in 1948, but Soviet troops have been in Poland since the war. The na-

Students Favor Retaining College Status at K-State

By CAROL SITZ

The question of changing the name of Kansas State college to Kansas State university seems to be a controversial subject on the campus these days.

In a recent survey, the question "Do you favor changing the name of Kansas State college to Kansas State university?" was asked a number of K-State students.

OF THOSE interviewed, more than two out of three students favored retaining the name Kansas State college.

The most stressed argument for leaving the word college in the name was that K-State has been called Kansas State college since its founding and there is no reason to change the name now.

The major argument of those who favored changing the name to Kansas State university was that the term university holds more prestige in the mind of the general public than the term college.

GENIE MUNN, EEd Jr.,—I didn't favor the change of name at first. Now I am in favor of changing it, because of the prestige connected with the word university."

RICHARD J. MEYER, IE Jr.,—"I wouldn't want to change the name after all these years. It would sound too much like Kansas university."

RODNEY BOWERS, Ar 02,—I don't think it should be changed

now. K-State has a good reputation to stand back of. Also the name change would be confusing with KU."

GARTH WALKER, AH Gr,—I favor leaving the name Kansas State college. I like the term state college better than university. I don't think you gain any prestige by using the term university.

JOYCE JENKINS, HT Sr,—Yes, I favor the name change. It would be a better calling card for new students. People usually think of a college as smaller, and a university as being larger. I think we're growing out of the college bracket."

JOHN TRIPP, EE Fr,—No, I don't favor the change. I don't see any advantage in changing the name. I'm inclined to agree with Pres. McCain. We would just start a fight with KU, and college appropriations would be less."

NANCY HILL, EEd Jr,—It doesn't make too much difference. I don't think there would be much difference after the change, because we would still be called K-State and 'Cow College.' "

ELAINE TEARNEY, ML Jr,—I think the change in the name would be a good idea, because we now have all the standards connected with a university. The change also would be good from the standpoint of prestige."

WAYNE STITT, AH Gr,—I don't favor changing the name. If it were changed, I think there would be a lot of confusion between Kansas university and Kansas State university."

JOYCE GRAHAM, BA Jr,—I just feel that the name should remain. I don't see any real need in changing it. There wouldn't be any material improvement, and the college would be the same whether the name is changed or not."

J. C. NOTHERN, FT Fr,—I think the name is all right the way it is. There wouldn't be any advantage in the change."

PEGGY TILLOTSON, HE Jr,—I think the name change would cause confusion with KU. But I am in favor of changing it, since we do have the necessary standards for the title of 'university.' "

RONALD ZEITHOW, ME Fr,—No, I don't favor the change. Kansas university would think we were just trying to copy them."

CAROLE SPEARS, Clo Fr,—I don't favor the change because the name is a tradition. This tradition shouldn't be broken."

JANIS McMILLEN, MT Soph,—I like the name Kansas State college better because it distinguishes us from KU better."

Cats Play Pokes Next, 'They Gave Their All'

By ROGER MYERS
Collegian Sports Editor

"We've got our work cut out for us the rest of the season," Bus Mertes said after his Wildcats dropped their third Big Seven game of the season and fourth in five games.

"We felt the boys gave their all in the game today," Mertes said. There's no reason for the fans to give up on our ball club. Our record was the same this time last year.

We've got a hard schedule, and next Saturday we may play an undefeated team in the Wyoming Cowboys at Laramie. The Cowboys are picked to win the Skyline conference.

"We would have been a real contender if we could have won this one," the Wildcat mentor said.

"Missouri is a good football club. Everybody who still has to play them will find that out.

"Those two holding penalties are what hurt us the most," he said. "They stopped us right when we were going the best."

Mertes was referring to the two penalties in the first quarter that caused K-State to lose possession of the ball deep in Tiger territory.

The first of the two infractions came after the Cats had rolled to a pair of consecutive first downs and were down to the Missouri 39-yard line.

Following the penalty the Cats could make only five yards on three plays and Kenny Nesmith tried a field goal from the Tiger 16-yard line but the kick fell short and off to the side.

The second holding penalty came as the Cats drove to the Missouri 23-yard line. On the next play, Dick Corbin pitched out wild, and Missouri's Fred Henger pounced on it to end the threat.

The fourth quarter proved costly to the Wildcats. Co-captain Ellis Rainsberger reinjured his ankle and had to be carried from the field, and starting right guard Rudy Bletscher suffered a neck injury. Both were taken to the hospital to be x-rayed.

"If we lost those two boys we're really going to have a tough time of it," Mertes said.

Rainsberger had been shifted to starting center only a week ago and turned in an outstanding performance against the Nebraska Cornhuskers last Saturday.

Missouri coach Don Faurot went almost immediately to the K-State dressing room to see how badly Rainsberger had been hurt. "Rainsberger played a fine game, and was very tough on defense," Faurot said. "He is a good friend of mine and I'm sorry he got hurt."

Mertes singled out Sonny Stringer's pass to William McKinney late in the second quarter as the key play in the game. Stringer's aerial carried Missouri to the K-State 4-yard line and set up the Tigers' second touchdown.

Mertes praised Charles James as "the finest receiver that we've ever seen." The glue-fingered Tiger fullback caught 4 passes for 41 yards, one of them for a touchdown.

Despite the fine work turned in by Stringer and James, the Cat coach picked Missouri guard James Martin as the thorn in the Wildcats' side.

Mizzou coach Don Faurot said "Martin played a great game for us until he got hurt. With Martin out it means that all our right guards are on the injury list.

Kappa Sigs Win Crown, Beat Farm House 20-0

Kappa Sigma shutout Farm House 20-0 to win the Group IV title in intramural touch football Friday. The Kappa Sigs won the crown without being scored on this year. The first Kappa Sig touchdown came on a pass from Bill Quarles to Begley.

Barrett threw to Quarles for the second Kappa Sig touchdown and a pass from Roberts to Jack Scott made good the conversion. In the second quarter Norman Moore passed to Duane Osborne who raced for the third Kappa Sig touchdown. Scott tossed to Moore for the conversion.

Tau Kappa Epsilon beat Lambda Chi Alpha 13-6. The TKE's first touchdown came on a 25-yard aerial from Dick Foster to Belt. In the third quarter Alfred Niles passed 35 yards to Belt for the second TKE touchdown. Foster tossed to Belt for the TKE conversion. Lambda Chi's only score was made when Leroy Bosko connected with a long pass to Opplander.

Alpha Gamma Rho beat Alpha Tau Omega 25-19; Delta Sigma Phi beat Alpha Kappa Lambda 26-12, and Theta Xi beat the 1834 Club 20-6.

Winners of the group divisions were: Group I, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Group II, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Group III, Delta Tau Delta; Group IV, Kappa Sigma.

Tuesday Meeting To Observe UN Week

United Nations week, which is October 21 to 27, will be observed by the YWCA, YMCA, and Cosmopolitan club with a joint meeting of the three organizations Tuesday at 7 p.m. on the third floor of the Student Union.

A film entitled "Children of the A-Bomb" will be shown. The film was taken in Japan and shows the changes that have taken place in Hiroshima five or six years after the dropping of the A-bomb on that city, according to Miss Helen Bocker, YW faculty adviser.

A fellowship hour will follow the film. Refreshments will be served. All interested students and faculty members are cordially invited to attend the meeting, according to Miss Bocker.

Education Students

More than 60 teacher education students are planning to visit the state home for mentally retarded persons at Beatrice, Neb., Thursday, Dr. John W. DeMand of the education department said.

"Our purpose is to teach students the methods of educating and caring for these patients," DeMand explained. "The Beatrice state home care for more than 2000 mental patients," he added.

Dr. DeMand and Dr. Russell Drumright of the education department will direct the trip.

Wampus Cats

Election of Wampus Cats officers will be held at 5 p.m. tonight in the activities center of the Union. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Pep Clubs Meeting

There will be a joint meeting of all three pep clubs at 5 p.m. today in the little theater.

Dance Classes Tuesday

Dance instruction classes will begin Tuesday, at 7 p.m., in banquet room B of the Student Union. Those interested should fill out an application.

Applications are available in the activities center, according to Bud Smith, AEd Soph, chairman of dance instruction.

New KSDB Show

KSDB will air a new show "International Date Line," every Monday 8:30 to 8:45 p.m. This will be a fifteen minute talk with foreign students.

Snowball Tickets On Sale

Snowball tickets will go on sale today in Anderson hall, Judy Taplin, HEJ Jr, publicity chairman of the dance, announced.

All women students may vote for their favorite man on campus Thursday and Friday, October 25 and 26, using activity cards for identification. It is not necessary to buy a ticket in order to vote.

The Snowball, which will be October 28, at 9 p.m., in the grand ballroom of the Student Union, will be semiformal. Cocktail dresses and formals will be worn.

Chaperons for the dance are

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey H. Langford and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Morse. Mrs. Langford is an assistant professor of family and child development. Dr. Morse is head of ment.

Shades of Ku Klux?

Vandals Cause Destruction, Steal, Plant Burning Cross

By SUE GOSS

Stories of vandalism, thievery, and a burning cross have developed on K-State's campus during the past two weeks. Three Greek houses have been victims of destructiveness.

A burning cross was reported seen on the lawn of Helen Moore, dean of women, about 2 a.m. Sunday morning. A phone call to a sorority house by an unidentified male told the girls of the spectacle.

Presenting an eerie sight, the cross was about four feet high and two feet wide, with a flame which almost equalled the height of the house. It burned for approximately 45 minutes.

Dean Moore stated she knew nothing about the cross. The boys who planted the cross were clad in sheets. They did not awaken her.

A watermelon was thrown into the living room of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity house last Sunday. Earlier last week an opossum had been put in their cook's restroom.

The Tri-Delt house has been the scene of vandalism on three occasions. The first took place at their house on October 12 when an interfraternity sing trophy was stolen. The culprits broke in about 3 a.m., and the trophy has not been returned.

A fire truck borrowed from Bob Fellers, local businessman, was stolen from the front of the Delta Delta Delta house during the Firebug party. The truck was taken by several boys, who drove it to the West Stadium parking lot, yanked the wires loose, and left the lights burning, causing a dead battery. Cost of repair to the vehicle is undetermined.

Last Saturday morning a dead skunk was discovered nailed to the door of the Tri Delt house, and a dead raccoon was found in the dining room. The identity of the vandals responsible for the three occurrences is still unknown.

At the Delta Tau Delta house, a large pine tree planted when the house was built, was sawed halfway in two. Also at the Delt house some pop bottles were thrown to a patio and some grass was burned. The students are known and action is being taken against them, although no decision has been made yet.

When questioned about the occurrences, Herbert Wunderlich, dean of students, stated that he felt the incidents were no longer practical jokes.

"Each year here there are on campus some—we call them unfulfilled adolescents—with less worthwhile things to do, seeking publicity and attention this way. I look upon them as criminal offenses and not as college pranks, and I will, on behalf of the college, take very serious action," commented Dean Wunderlich.

The Dean of Students further stated that he felt the incidents often resulted in acts of retaliation which would begin to hurt all students concerned. "I just hope that our college students are sufficiently mature not to be responsible for that kind of thing," he said.

SU Financially OK Kottner Tells UGB

The K-State Union, financially speaking, is not in any difficulty according to an operations report by Loren V. Kottner, Union director.

In September a financial report for the first six months of Student Union operation showed a loss of $13,809.

Kottner, in his report to the Union Governing Board, said that the Union, in maintaining this equilibrium, is working on the basis of making available to students things they want and need.

An example of this was reduction of price of coffee from 7 cents to 5 cents, while other schools have raised the price from 8 to 10 cents.

A breakdown of the number of events held in the Union in the month of September showed that 76 per cent were student events, 19 per cent were college-affiliated, 4 per cent were outside events, and 1 per cent was for conferences.

"The number of events scheduled in the Union are 10 to 15 per cent higher than last spring. These figures are a good index of student-acceptance of the Union," Kottner said.

Board members discussed policy-making for contest signs.

In referring to this problem Kottner cited the recent senior class elections in which "sign standards were used to such an extent that there was no room for other signs."

The main problem is giving equal space to other interests, and not to litter the Union with signs, Kottner continued.

Further discussion centered on a problem of use of a small music room. At present the room hasn't any record equipment, and no funds have been established to make it an effective music room.

KU, KS Councils Sign Peace Pact

The Student Councils of Kansas university and Kansas State last night revised and then signed the Peace Pact at their annual exchange dinner, at KU's Student Union.

After a welcome by KU's all-Student Council president, and an acceptance by student body president Pat Wilkerson, the KU-KSC Peace Pact was presented to the group for revision.

One of the biggest revisions was a decision to have the annual Peace Pact award presented to the winner of the KU-KS football game immediately after the contest rather than waiting until basketball season for the presentation as in the past.

It was also decided that "a more acceptable award" than the present one, held by K-State, would be given in future years.

The present award, is a large, circular, heavy "trophy"—described by K-State Council members last night as "an atrocity" and "impossible to describe."

Although that award will be used this year, it was agreed that committees from the two Councils will decide on a more appropriate award at a later date.

The K-State group suggested that the two Councils lunch together and attend the game as a group the Saturday of the KU contest.

Both student body heads agreed to make a plea at the game that the goalposts not be torn down in the event of a victory by the out-of-town team.

Here is the Peace Pact as it was finally drawn up by the two Councils:

PREAMBLE: We, the students of Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science and of the University of Kansas, in order to further increase peaceful relations between our institutions, do hereby establish this pact between Kansas State College and the University of Kansas.

JOINT AGREEMENT

We the duly elected all-Student Council of the University of Kansas and the Student Governing association of the Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science, representing our respective student bodies, hereby officially condemn all manner of undesirable and unfriendly activities between our two schools:

Whereas: To show our good faith, we agree to do all in our power to keep all members of our institutions from attempting to carry on, or carrying on, any undesirable and unfriendly activity against the other school.

If any student is caught participating in an act of vandalism, he shall be held responsible for all damage he incurred. The Council of the offending school shall recommend to the head of its institution that the student be "automatically dismissed" and his transcript shall not be released to any institution until such time as he has paid the stated amount of damages. (Be it understood that the other conditions must be met before any person can be readmitted to KSC or KU.)

The extent of damages shall be decided by a joint committee composed of three members from each student council and one administrative official from each school. In the event that no students are caught participating in such activity, the Council of the offending school shall be held responsible for immediate repayment of the damages.

Whereas: The award commemorating this pact shall be displayed at the half of the annual KU-KS football game, and shall be presented to the winning school at the conclusion of the game.

Whereas: It is further agreed that the entire bodies of both councils will meet jointly at the beginning of each school year, at least ten days before any athletic competition between our school, to reconsider this pact. The meeting will alternate between schools and will be one of complete good will. If the Peace Pact is renewed, it is to be published in the official newspaper of each school. The councils will set a date for the meeting each year.

*From a joint statement issued by heads of the two schools on November 3, 1956, which states: "A continuation of this vandalism simply cannot be tolerated. Any student identified as having participated in such action on his own or any other campus this year or in future years will be automatically dismissed."

Signed:

James G. Schultz, President ASC, Kansas University
Pat Wilkerson, Student Body President, Kansas State College.

"NO PLACE for a Republican," Dean of Students Herb Wunderlich commented as he was inveigled to ride a donkey at a barbecue Saturday night. Dr. M. J. Harbaugh, general studies professor, supervised the operation.

Persons Show Immaturity By Committing Vandalism

TIME: 12:30 a.m. Place: In front of a K-State fraternity house. Purpose: VANDALISM.

"You guys know what to do, get at it."

"Come on Joe, we're supposed to stick this kitty in the can. John and Joe are going to swipe that gold punch bowl on top of the bookcase in there."

"WHAT ARE we going to do after we finish? Do we get to stick around and see the fun?"

"Are you kidding? After they get a whiff of this skunk, those characters in there will be heading for the hills."

"AW, WHAT'S the fun in doing this stuff when we can't watch?"

"Ya wanta get caught, do ya?"

"So what, they can't do nothin to me. I'm only 12 years old."

THE ABOVE illustration is an attempt to imitate what must be the thinking of the persons who have been attacking K-State fraternity and sorority houses during the past two weeks.

A burning cross, theft of a trophy and a firetruck, such acts of throwing a watermelon in a living room, putting an opossum in a restroom, and nailing a dead skunk to a door are among acts committed by the vandals to private fraternity and sorority property.

THE BURNING cross blazed in the yard of Dean Helen Moore and represented the height of discourtesy to that individual.

Dean Wunderlich reports some of the vandals have been caught and we feel that it is only a matter of time before the rest of them are. We also recommend they be punished to the full extent.

FOR ANY individual to commit such acts of vandalism shows a definite lack of maturity. If all the vandals are caught and they turn out to be college students, then they better be sent back home to their mommies and daddies until they can grow up and assume the responsibility of becoming an asset to the college they attend. One thing K-State doesn't need is students who haven't grown up.

We hope other fraternities and sororities who haven't as yet been hit by the vandals will keep on the lookout and declare open season on them.

THIS TYPE of crime is totally unnecessary in a college community and definitely gives the College a black eye in the eyes of citizens. It must be stopped.—George Vohs.

Minority Contingents Protest Pogo Invasion

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA — (Special) (Delayed in Transit)—Monotremes and other minority groups in this Australian city today protested against the invasion of this island Continent by the American Marsupial candidate for president, Pogo Possum. "We are prepared to offer our own candidate, a Platypus by trade, who is the darling of college and university students throughout the length and breadth of our land," said a prominent Echidna. "We feel that what the United States needs is a man who is right down to earth. And we are the people who can offer such a man. Our candidate is as flat on the ground as anybody can get."

A spokesman for the Kangaroo contingent said that this was not the point. "The fact of the matter," explained the Kangaroo, "is that we don't care a fig as to where this man stands on the ground, we want to know how he feels about labor." The Echidna group replied that their man was for everybody having plenty of labor, except him. "He does not want to take a job from another man," said the leading Monotreme. "He is willing to take a back seat."

THE MARSUPIAL faction pointed out that the Monotremes have certain peculiar habits which might not be dignified and certainly would be out of place in the White House. "For example," said a source close to the Great Barrier Reef, "they lay eggs and suckle their young."

This has been hotly denied by the Monotremes. They claim that only the female of the species lays eggs.

Hazing Stunt Becomes 'Ball' for Coed; Takes First Plane Ride, Sees Actor

By Mary Beckmeyer

By MARY BECKMEYER

AN 18-YEAR-OLD freshman coed had a "ball" last weekend while the victim of a collegiate hazing.

The coed, Pam Roth, was "kidnaped" and placed aboard a Los Angeles-bound plane with only a one-way ticket in her purse.

Pam identified her kidnapers as three fellow students at American River Junior college.

"They told me we were going bowling," she said, "but instead drove to the airport and put me on the plane. It was the first time I had ever flown."

When the plane took off, Pam began to cry. A sympathetic woman passenger gave her $2.50 so she could get a good dinner and then call her parents.

On landing at Lockheed Air Terminal, she ran into actor Stewart Granger, the first time she had even seen a handsome movie star in person. She said it was very exciting.

Pam called her parents, told them of her plight, and awaited money from home. When it came, she flew back to Sacramento and the junior college where she is class treasurer.

She said she didn't plan any counter-attack on the three male abductors.

Guess not! After such an exciting time, there wasn't any need for her to get all up in the air again.

THE "TECHNICIAN," published by students at the Southern Technical Institute in Georgia, recently took a scientific view of the female of the species. It printed this description of a woman as seen through the eyes of a chemist:

Symbol: WO

Accepted Atomic Weight: 120

Physical Properties: Boils at nothing and freezes at any minute; melts when properly treated; very bitter if not well used.

Occurrence: Found wherever man exists
Chemical Properties: Possesses great affinity for gold, silver, platinum, and precious stones. Violent reaction if left alone. Able to absorb great amounts of food matter. Turns green when placed beside a better-looking specimen.

Uses: Highly ornamental; useful as a tonic in acceleration of low spirits, and an equalizer of the distribution of wealth. Is probably the most effective income-reducing agent known.

Caution: Highly explosive in inexperienced hands.

RECENTLY it has been proposed that Yale university admit women. But Calvin Trillen, chairman of student Yale Daily News, protested, "We feel that a girl has her place, but it is definitely not at Yale. . . during the week, that is."

Union Art Exhibit Features Art Instructor's Paintings

K-State's Union art display this month is a one-man exhibition of paintings by Gerald William Deibler, instructor in the department of architecture and allied arts.

The paintings, mostly abstract, were introduced along with the artist at a tea Sunday afternoon in the Union art lounge.

Deibler joined the K-State staff this fall.

Homecoming Parade Committee

The Homecoming parade committee will start compiling float entries for the parade on November 17, according to Janice Gram, TJ Jr, parade committee chairman. November 1 is the deadline for float entries.

Entries are being accepted from clubs and organizations on campus, fraternities and sororities, and Manhattan merchants. Four entries from Fort Riley, and the Manhattan High school marching band will also be included.

The theme of the floats should be based on the theme of house decorations, either a nursery rhyme or proverb, Janice said. The entries will be judged on originality, workmanship, and how well the theme is carried out.

Arnold Air Society

Arnold Air society will have a smoker tonight at 7:30 p.m. in room 206 of the Student Union. The meeting will be for those who have been rushed by the organization.

The purpose of Arnold Air society will be explained, and the activities of this year will be discussed.

Dames Club

The K-State Dames Club will have a general meeting Thursday, at 8 p.m. in Anderson hall, Rec center.

A musical program has been arranged for the evening's entertainment. All members are invited, and any student wife interested in joining is welcome. Refreshments will be served following the program.

Men's Bowling League

Student men's bowling leagues will open Thursday night for all those interested, according to Jack House, AA Soph, chairman of the bowling committee.

Fraternities, organized houses, and organized clubs are eligible for participation.

Faculty Square Dance

More than 40 couples attended a faculty square dance in the rec center Friday evening. David Mathew of the entomology department announced.

Hurley Fellows of the botany department was square dance caller. W. W. Franklin, entomology, and Mrs. Franklin assisted Leonard Fuller, mathematics, and Mrs. Fuller with refreshments.

"This was our largest turnout, but we hope that even more faculty members will participate," Mathew said. The next dance will be November 2, in rec center, at 8 p.m.

Steel Ring

Members of Steel Ring will meet in the K-State Union, room 207, tonight at 7:30. Dwight Nesmith, faculty advisor, announced.

A smoker will follow introduction of the new rushees. A business meeting will follow the smoker at which time the new pledges will be selected, Nesmith said.

Blue Key

A delegate to the national convention of Blue Key will be picked tomorrow at noon in the Union at the regular meeting of Blue Key. This convention will be in New Orleans during Christmas vacation, according to Arnold Appleby, president.

The rest of the meeting will be devoted to discussion of homecoming. Blue Key is in charge of the election of the homecoming queen, crowning of the queen, and the homecoming ball. Reports of the various committees will be given by Blue Key members.

Alpha Phi Omega

Formal pledging will be held at the Alpha Phi Omega meeting today at 7 p.m. in room 203 of the Student Union, according to Wally Brown, president of the organization.

A business meeting will follow the pledging service. Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity.

Arts and Sciences Council

Revision of the School of Arts and Sciences constitution will be discussed at the Arts and Sciences council meeting today at 5 p.m. in the activities center of the Student Union.

The council also will discuss plans for the Arts and Sciences carnival, which will be held in March, according to Charles Wingert, council president.

The council picture for the Royal Purple will be taken at the meeting.

Slide Rule Classes

Slide rule classes will meet today at 4 p.m. in the Engineering Lecture hall and at 5 p.m. in E 146, according to Harrison Pallett, Eta Kappa Nu president.

The weekly classes are sponsored by Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary.

Dance Instruction Class

Women are needed for the dance instruction classes to be held from 7 to 8 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, according to Bud Smith, chairman of the dance classes. An estimated 250 men have signed up for the lessons.

The first meeting will be tonight at 7 p.m. in banquet room B of the Student Union.

Applications for the class will be available in the activities center this week.

Professors Will Meet

The American Association of University Professors will meet in the walnut dining room of the Union Wednesday at 5:30 p.m.

Dean John C. Weaver will discuss the importance of research at K-State. A general discussion period will follow the talk.

All faculty members are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Graduate Student Party

Graduate students were treated to a card party, square dance, and surprise visit from Governor Fred Hall, Friday night in the K-State Union.

About 90 students attended the party, which followed a talk by Harold Howe, dean of the graduate school, Kenneth Urban, AH Gr, president, said. Loren Kottner, Union director, was square dance caller.

Dr. Howe outlined the course of work to be followed by graduate students working toward their master's and doctor's degrees.

Following Howe's speech, the grads played cards and square-danced until they were surprised by a brief visit from President McCain who brought with him two distinguished guests, Clement Hall of Coffeyville, newest member of the Board of Regents, and Governor Hall.

The two-hour party ended with refreshments of fried donuts and cider.

K-State Judgers Place At American Royal

The K-State livestock judging team placed second at the intercollegiate judging contest at the American Royal Saturday.

Jim Flanders, AH Sr, was sixth high man in the contest, with Gayle Carswell, AH Sr, eighth high.

Among the individual classes, Gilmore Dahl, AH Sr, was fourth high in sheep with Flanders being fifth.

Members of the team are John Brink, AH Sr; Flanders, William C. Root, AH Sr; Harold Garner, AH Sr; Carswell, Ray Zimmerman, AH Sr; Dahl, and Charles Kiksch, AH Sr.

The K-State wool judging team placed fifth in the intercollegiate wool judging contest at the American Royal.

Leon Sucht, AH Sr, was top individual in this contest. The K-State team placed first in wool scoring.

The team members are Sucht, Duane Johnson, AH Sr; Milton Shirley, AA Sr; Gilmore Dahl, AH Sr; and Allan Henry, Ag Jr.

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: No. 1

In this day of swift international communications, like radio, television, and the raft, it becomes increasingly important for all of us to have a solid grounding in foreign languages. Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a short lesson in language.

"Of course, silly!" chuckled the makers, tousling my yellow hair. Oh, grand men they are, the makers of Philip Morris, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they make. "Of course, fond boy, you may occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a short lesson in language!" said the makers and tossed me up and down in a blanket until, rosy with laughing, I bade them desist, and then we all had basins of farina and smoked Philip Morris and sang songs until the campfire had turned to embers.

For our first lesson in language, let us take up French, which has often been called the lingua franca of France. We will approach French in a new manner, because, to be brutally frank, the way it is taught in our colleges is archaic and obsolete. Why all this emphasis on grammar? After all, when we get to France does it matter if we can parse and conjugate? Of course not!

So for the first exercise, translate the following real, true-to-life dialogue between two real, true-to-life Frenchmen named Claude (pronounced Clohd) and Pierre (also pronounced Clohd):

CLAUDE: Good morning, sir. Can you direct me to the nearest monk?

PIERRE: I have regret, but I am a stranger here myself.

CLAUDE: Is it that you come from the France?

PIERRE: You have right.

CLAUDE: I also. Come, let us mount the airplane and return ourselves to the France.

PIERRE: We must defend from smoking until the airplane raises itself.

CLAUDE: Ah, now it has raised itself. Will you have a Philippe Maurice?

PIERRE: Mercy.

CLAUDE: In the garden of my aunt it makes warm in the summer and cold in the winter.

PIERRE: What a coincidence. In the garden of my aunt too!

CLAUDE: Ah, we are landing. Regard how the airplane depresses itself.

PIERRE: What shall you do in the France?

CLAUDE: I shall make a promenade and see various sights of cultural and historical significance. What shall you do?

PIERRE: I think I shall try to pick up the stewardess.

CLAUDE: Long live the France!

Polish Protests Shown In Anti-Soviet Incidents

Compiled from United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Warsaw, Oct. 23 — Warsaw Radio reported today that "anti-Soviet incidents" took place during the night in Wroclaw following reports pro-Russian Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky was being retained as defense minister.

The official broadcast gave few details but it said, "The working class and the population of Wroclaw has recognized to whom such incidents can bring advantages and condemns them with indignation."

Reports reaching London said thousands of Polish students paraded through the streets of Wroclaw (formerly Breslau) in an anti-Russian demonstration.

(The reports said the students chanted "long live free Poland" and shouted "Rokossovsky go home" and "Rokossovsky to Siberia.")

The condemnation of the anti-Russian demonstrations fitted the current pattern of Poland's new government of emphasizing continued friendship with Russia but firmly asserting its political independence from the Kremlin.

The retention of Rokossovsky as defense minister was reported the price of Soviet recognition of Wladyslaw Gomulka's rise to power in Poland.

In another development stemming from the weekend events, the Polish Prosecutor General's office today ordered a revision of all indictments handed up in connection with the "bread and freedom" riots in Poznam last June 28. An announcement added that the court had been handed a motion asking it "to release from custody all those who are not charged with murders or robberies."

Only a handful of those arrested in the riots have been tried in the past few weeks. Those convicted have received minor prison terms. Now it appears that further trials will be cancelled.

Changes Plea to Guilty

New York, Oct. 23—Joseph Carlino, named as a co-conspirator in the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel, last night hastily changed his plea from innocent to guilty in the presence of a silent cell-mate and fellow defendant.

Carlino and seven others, including notorious hoodlum Johnny Dioguardia, are accused of plotting the attack which blinded Riesel on a mid-town Manhattan street before dawn last April 5.

Carlino, 43, changed his plea before Federal Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan. In a 10-minute hearing, Bryan set November 9 as sentencing date—the same day trial is scheduled to begin for the seven others.

Reds Take Jap Boats

Tokyo, Oct. 23—Soviet patrol vessels captured four Japanese fishing boats off the Hokkaido coast yesterday, the Japanese coast guard reported today.

Three of the Japanese boats were captured while operating two miles west of the Suio island only a few miles off the east coast of Hokkaido. The fourth has taken near Kunashiri Island, also within sight of Hokkaido.

Russ Ships Off Poland

Warsaw, Oct. 23—Three Soviet cruisers and 17 destroyers and trawlers cruised today in Polish territorial waters off Gdansk (Danzig) and Poland was reported to have demanded their withdrawal.

The greatly increased Soviet naval activity coincided with reports by Warsaw Radio of "anti-Soviet incidents" which took place during the night in Wroclaw.

"Two or three" Soviet war vessels were reported off Gdansk yesterday, but reports from the city today said there were 20 vessels off there today.

Appearance of the vessels already had brought panic to residents of the area despite Soviet assurances the ships were there on "routine maneuvers."

Greeks Treat Dates To Hay Rides, Parties

Members of 1834 Club will have a hayride Friday evening.

The annual Delta Delta Delta Firebug party was Friday evening at the Tri Delt house. Decorations carried out the Firebug motif and dates were picked up in a fire truck. Guests entered the party through a fire escape and wore fire helmets throughout the evening.

Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goetzinger and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacot.

The Kappa Deltas will combine for an evening of entertainment, a hayrack ride and a barn dance Friday. The dance will be held at the Harwood barn.

The annual TKE barbeque was Saturday night at the Burtis ranch.

Immediately following the barbeque there was a dance at the chapter house. Jay McShane of Kansas City provided the music.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. A. Thorton Edwards and Dr. and Mrs. M.J. Harbaugh. About 250 attended.

Sigma Chi entertained their dates with an open house Friday night.

Sigma Phi Epsilon members entertained their dates at the Skyline Saturday evening.

Members of Kappa Sigma entertained their dates at a house party Saturday night.

Pledges of Pi Beta Phi will entertain the actives and their dates with a party at the Country Club meet Friday, October 26. The theme of the party is "Story-book Land Ball." Everyone will attend the party dressed as story-book characters.

HOW ABOUT this dance partner? asks one of the cowboys that attended the annual Teke barbeque and corral party Saturday night.

Sunday. Mrs. Mary Sears Cromwell, national chapter house chairman, spoke at the dinner, which was attended by alumni from all over the state.

Members of Phi Kappa and Acacia had a stag party Friday night.

The Alpha Xi Deltas and the Acacias had an hour dance Tuesday at the Acacia house.

The Alpha Xi Delta's and the Sigma Nu's had an exchange dinner Thursday, October 18. After the dinner there was dancing and bridge.

Last weekend the Pi Kappa Alphas entertained 15 rushees from eastern Kansas towns. The rushees had dates Saturday night to a party at the Skyline and then were entertained at the chapter house with a skit and food.

Candy, Cigars Reveal Pinnings

Lutz-Bullock

Cigars were passed at the Sigma Chi house Wednesday night to announce the pinning of Helen Lutz, BMT Soph, and Warren Bullock, BA Sr. Helen is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and is from Pratt. Warren is from Norton.

Culpepper-O'Connor

The pinning of Becky Culpepper, EED Jr, and Gene O'Connor, PEM Jr, was announced at the Beta Theta Pi house Wednesday night. Becky, who is a Kappa Kappa Gamma, is from Kansas City, Mo., and Gene is from Hoisington.

Houses Entertain Parents Saturday

Thirty-two parents were entertained at an open house and buffet dinner at the Alpha Xi Delta house Saturday. Decorations and a skit welcomed the parents after the game.

Parents of many Sigma Alpha Epsilons were entertained at an open house and buffet dinner at the chapter house Saturday.

Alpha Gamma Rhos entertained Ed Keener of Great Bend over the weekend.

Members of Sigma Phi Epsilon had an open house and buffet dinner for their parents after the game Saturday.

Beta Theta Pi members entertained their parents and guests with coffee and doughnuts after the game last Saturday.

Alpha Tau Omega members served a buffet dinner to 85 parents and guests preceding the game. Following the game the Stars and Crescents, their mothers' club, met.

Kappa Sigma fraternity members entertained their parents and guests at buffet dinners Friday and Saturday at the chapter house.

Members of Pi Beta Phi gave a spread and birthday party in honor of Janet Byrd, a former K-State student, Saturday. Janet is now attending the University of Arkansas.

President James McCain and his family and Dean of Students Herbert J. Wunderlich and wife were entertained at dinner by the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, last Wednesday evening.

For four days last week the Sigma Alpha Epsilon chapter entertained a visitation officer from the national chapter. Al Schoth, the officer, arrived at K-State Wednesday, and left Sunday. The visit is an annual affair.

Greeks Elect New Officers

Formal pledging was held for the following new pledges of 1834 Club Wednesday evening: Roger Smith, EE Fr; Bob Smiley, EE Fr; Bill Davis, ME Fr; J. D. King, EE Fr; Tim Goddard, ME Fr; Leroy Lang, AEd Fr; Harold Grinstaff, ME Fr; Bill Gordon, AgE Jr; Jerry Kintigh, FT Fr; and John Medcraft, EE Fr.

Three new pledges of Alpha Kappa Lambda are John Hall, ChE Fr; Tom Cour, ChE Fr; and Bill Mollahan, ChE Fr.

New officers of the 1834 Club pledge class are: Jim Price, Zoo Soph, president; and Bill Davis, ME Fr, social chairman.

The Kappa Deltas observed State Day with a dinner at the Wareham hotel October 21. Alumnae from over the state were guests at this dinner.

Miller Picks 20-7, Wins Grid Contest

Eldon Miller, TJ Fr, nosed out others by turning in the most accurate statistics prediction of the season in winning last week's Pigskin Prognostications contest.

Miller, along with six others, picked a 20-7 score, Missouri, in the Collegian's football contest. However, none could match Miller, statistically. Two more contestants pegged the score at 21-7.

Final score was 20-6 as Missouri won over K-State, leaving Miller an extra point short of the Wildcat's total. He missed Cat first downs by one and rushing yardage by just three.

K-State made nine first downs during the afternoon; Miller predicted 10. He picked Cat rushers to gain 205 yards; they gained 208. In passing yardage, Miller predicted 60 but the Wildcats picked up only 19.

KU Plagued By Injuries After OU Tilt

LAWRENCE, (U.P.)—An injury plagued Kansas football squad opened drills yesterday for the Oklahoma A. & M. game Friday after playing inspired football against mighty Oklahoma last Saturday.

Five KU players were injured and will be out of action against the Aggies.

Most serious was a concussion suffered by second string quarterback Dave Preston on the opening kickoff Saturday.

Second team halfback Bill Horn received an arm fracture; second team tackle Jim Hull twisted a knee; guard Ray Lane suffered a severe shoulder bruise, and tackle Tom Russell sprained an ankle.

Quarterback Wally Strauch has a hand bruise but probably will play against the Oklahomans.

LINCOLN, (U.P.) — Nebraska coach Pete Elliott yesterday tabbed his team's third period goal line stand against Indiana Saturday as the finest he has seen in years.

The Huskers were pushed back to the two where Indiana grabbed a first and goal to go, but ended up on the seven.

Bayuk Moves To Top In Big 7 Rushing Race

With a crunching 142-yard performance against Iowa State, John (The Beast) Bayuk, Colorado's 217-lb. senior fullback, jumped from seventh to first on the list of Big Seven conference rushers.

The big Buffalo has carried 60 times for 346 yards, an average of 5.7 a trip. Homer Floyd of Kansas, who has been the leader so far, picked up only 25 yards against Oklahoma and dropped to fifth with 59 carries for 282 yards.

Behind Bayuk come Clendon Thomas of O.U. with 39 carries for 333 yards, Tommy McDonald of O.U. with 47 carries for 329 yards, and Jerry Brown of Nebraska with 49 for 321.

Jimmy Hunter of Missouri and Wally Strauch of Kansas held their 1-2 spots as forward passers. Hunter has completed 17 of 38 pass attempts for 183 yards, Strauch 8 of 23 for 168. Moving up to third was Roy Stinnett of Nebraska with 10 of 16 for 120 yards.

Missouri's Charlie James widened his lead as top pass catcher. He now has grabbed 15 for 171 yards. John Scheldrup, Iowa State, kept his second place spot with 6 for 140, and McDonald remained in third with 5 for 105 yards.

Oklahoma's top-ranked Sooners, last week's national leaders in rushing and total offense, fell a bit off the pace in their game with Kansas. The Sooners dropped from a 477-yard total offense average in three games to 459.5.

They now have rushed for 1,586 yards and picked up 252 in the air for a total of 1,838. Their ground average sagged from 406.3 to 396.5.

This week Oklahoma takes on Notre Dame in a nationally televised game at South Bend, where all-out effort will be required.

Missouri with 1,732, total yards Colorado with 1,526, and Nebraska with 1,381 trails O.U. in total offense. The latter three teams have played five games.

Oklahoma's Thomas hiked his scoring total to 48 points, while McDonald moved into second with 42 points. James of Missouri is tied for third with Floyd of Kansas, each with 30 points. Hank Kuhlmann of Missouri is next with 25 points.

This week's two conference games shape up interestingly with Nebraska at Colorado and Iowa State at Missouri.

K-State Out Of Orange Bowl Race

Kansas City, Mo., (U.P.)—Who's going to the Orange Bowl from the Big Seven?

Well, maybe, Colorado or Missouri and even possibly Nebraska or Kansas.

Who's not going?

Kansas State and Iowa State.

That is, of course, if the laws of mathematics hold true and some new-fangled ruling doesn't crop up.

The present rule specifies only that in case of a tie for the Orange Bowl, the team that has beaten the others gets to go. The best K-State and Iowa State can hope for is a tie with Colorado. Colorado already has beaten them both. But . . . in case of a three or four way tie . . . who knows what the ruling might be.

Actually, Colorado has the lead and it looks like only Missouri can stop the Buffaloes, if they are stoppable again in the Orange Bowl drive. Two years ago, when some team other than Oklahoma had a chance, the Buffaloes lost out in a heart-breaker. Their 19-19 tie with Missouri, and Nebraska's 20-6 upset win over Colorado, sent Nebraska to the bowl to lose to Duke, 34-7.

Colorado, with a 3-0 record, still has to suffer its loss to Oklahoma, but so has Missouri (1-0). The other games for Colorado are Nebraska at Boulder this Saturday, Oklahoma at Boulder the next and Missouri at Columbia the next, on November 10.

Colorado will be favored over Nebraska this weekend and a victory for all practical purposes, would leave only Missouri in the way of a trip to Miami. On the other hand, Missouri still has to fight uphill for the bowl trip.

While a near defeatist attitude has taken the Big Seven area as far as Oklahoma is concerned, last Saturday's results proved one thing—that other conference teams may not be as weak as outsiders would like to think.

Kansas scored two touchdowns on Oklahoma, while the Sooners' three earlier opponents, North Carolina, K-State, and Texas, couldn't even score one among them. Colorado took the measure of Kansas two weeks earlier, 26-25.

Oklahoma this weekend could prove one again that its number one national ranking is no fluke due to weak scheduling. The Sooners play at Notre Dame in a nationally telecast game and will be shooting to beat the Irish worse than did the number two team, Michigan State (47-14), last weekend.

The national telecast caused Kansas to move its game at Oklahoma A&M game up one day, to Friday. Iowa State is at Missouri Saturday in the other game this week.

NOW LISTEN CLOSE—Backfield coach Steve Susic gives some additional instruction to first unit quarterback Keith Wilson during Monday's practice session.

Contact Work Barred At Monday's Practice

K-State ran through only light drills Monday afternoon as they limbered up from Saturday's 20-6 loss to Missouri. The Cats had no contact work.

Rudy Bletscher, first string guard, was the only Cat missing from the practice session. Bletscher suffered severe neck bruise against the Tigers.

Coach Bus Mertes said Bletscher will be sidelined from early-week workouts but that he may be back in pads for action against Wyoming this Saturday. K-State goes out of the conference this week to meet the Cowpokes in Laramie.

Ellis Rainsberger, junior captain and first string center, turned out in pads for the practice although he was limping on a sprained ankle he picked up in the Missouri game. Rainsberger was carried from the field in the last half Saturday.

Tony Addeo, halfback, re-injured his ankle in the Mizzou game but was in pads Monday and ran at near full speed.

Andy Stewart, junior guard who has not seen action so far this season, returned to the squad Monday. Stewart was out with a broken hand but should be ready to play by the Kansas university game on November 3.

The return of Stewart leaves the Cats with only three missing hands that were listed on the pre-season roster. Chuck Sprinkle, who started at center in the season's opener and injured his back against Colorado, is out for the season.

Two sophomore halfbacks are also missing from practice due to injuries. Ron Beshk, who twisted a knee in the season opener against Oklahoma A & M, and Mike Kinsella, who injured a knee in pre-season drills, are both sidelined. Beshk may be back in action for the KU game. Kinsella is out indefinitely.

Scrimmage work is on tap for this afternoon's session. Mertes said that offensive work would be stressed in the practice as the Cats prepare to meet unbeaten Wyoming.

Redlegs Dominate NL All-Star Team

New York, (U.P.)—Four players from the Cincinnati Redlegs, two each from the Brooklyn Dodgers, Milwaukee Braves and St. Louis Cardinals, and one from the New York Giants were named today to the annual United Press National League all-star team.

The honor squad, selected by 61 sports writers from the various league cities, is one of the most powerful ever to be named. The hitters batted in a total of 751 runs this past season and drilled a total of 228 homers.

Hank Aaron, the National League batting king from Milwaukee with a .328 average, led the balloting with a total of 58 out of 61 votes. Another outfielder, Duke Snider of Brooklyn, was next with 49 votes and Catcher Ed Bailey from Cincinnati ranked third with 48.

Because of unusual circumstances, the United Press for the first time selected a utility all-star, Stan Musial of the Cardinals. Musial received a total of 18 outfield and 16 first base votes.

This combined total would have put him ahead of rookie Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, who had 29, and first baseman Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati, who had 32. Since Musial played both positions, he was designated as a utility member of the team.

Red Schoendienst, veteran second baseman for the New York Giants, who has been a perennial member of the team, was selected for that spot with 31 votes, while Roy McMillan of Cincinnati was named at shortstop with 30 and Ken Boyer of St. Louis at third with a total of 44 votes.

The pitchers were big Don Newcombe of Brooklyn, who had 47 votes, and Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, who polled 38.

There was a big turnover from last year's all-star team. Only Snider, Kluszewski, Schoendienst, Musial, and Newcombe were repeaters.

Musial was the leader of the squad in runs batted in with 109 and Snider set the homer pace with 43.

There were six .300-plus hitters led by Aaron's .328. Musial was at .310, Boyer .306, Kluszewski and Schoendienst .302, and Bailey .300 even. Snider hit .290 and Robinson .292, leaving only McMillan as a batting "weakling," but his .263 average was more than offset by his spectacular fielding.

Besides Musial, both Kluszewski and Snider topped the 100 RBI mark, big Klu with 102 and Duke with 101. Boyer just missed with 98 and Aaron had 93.

More Teams Needed To Fill Union Bowling

Any team interested in bowling in the student men's league at the K-State Union may sign up this afternoon at the Union activities center, Phillip Wright, chairman of the league, said.

A few teams that previously signed up have dropped out, and new teams are needed to fill these vacancies. Play begins tonight in the 15-week league stint. First division teams bowl at 6 p.m. and second division play is at 8:30 p.m.

Staters May Apply For Officer Exams

Students wishing to take a foreign service officer examination, must fill in and return their application blanks to the placement office not later than Friday, Chester E. Peters, director, announced.

Applicants must be at least 20 and not over 31. They must have been American citizens for at least the past nine years, Peters said.

"A candidate's spouse need not be a citizen at the time of his examination but must obtain citizenship prior to the date of his officer's appointment," he said.

Starting salaries for successful candidates range from $4750 to $5350 per year depending upon age, experience, and family status.

"Insurance, medical, educational, and retirement benefits are granted officers, as well as annual and sick leave," Peters said.

Officials of the State department estimate that several hundred new foreign service officers will be needed during the next year.

Officers do a variety of tasks, including administrative work; political, economic, commercial, and labor reporting; consular duties; and assisting and protecting Americans and their property abroad.

"The written exam will test the candidate's knowledge in English expression, general ability and background, as well as his knowledge in a modern foreign language," Peters said.

This will be followed by an oral exam, a physical exam, and a security investigation.

What's Doing . . . at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Sunshine and science . . .
star performers in new Florida "Show"

Believing that the future of aviation lay with larger aircraft, higher speeds and greater ranges, the founders of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft established an ironclad policy demanding constant striving to develop aircraft engines that would continually surpass previous accomplishments. The intervening restless years at P & W A have been filled with continuing progress which proved the wisdom of that early decision. Brand new areas of technology were explored; recognition as undisputed leader in its field was attained; expansion to accommodate the growth of the company resulted in a nationwide network of auxiliary facilities.

Florida — long America's year 'round playground — is now providing ground for the continued expansion of America's foremost aircraft engine builder.

Ideally located in Palm Beach County, P & W A's newest facility will be an important engineering auxiliary to the main laboratories and plants in Connecticut. Major factors in selecting the site were the mild climate and sufficient isolation to permit development and test of highly advanced and extremely powerful jet engines with minimum acoustical disturbance to the surrounding resort communities.

The engineering graduate who begins his career at this Florida facility will have the rare opportunity of keeping pace with its anticipated growth. In an organization renowned for development engineering superiority, he will be able to gain invaluable experience working on vital, long-range projects that are a challenge to the imagination.

'Six Characters'

Year's First Drama Will Be Given Tomorrow and Friday

By P. A. YOUNG

"Six Characters in Search of an Author" will be the first major production of the K-State Players this year.

It will be presented in the Auditorium tomorrow and Friday at 8 p.m. The play considers a question, "What is real and what is illusion?" In the play an attempt is made to show the successive steps in the evolution of a character from the moment it leaves the author's brain until it appears on the stage.

The plot centers around an unhappy father, played by John Miller, EE Jr; who is married to the character known as the mother, played by Lou Ann Oberhelman, Sp Jr. They have one child, a haughty son, played by Wayne Stewart, EE Jr; and three illegitimate children—the stepdaughter, played by Bobbi Baumann, Sp Soph; the young boy, played by Bob Patterson, MEI Fr; and the young girl, played by Glenece Roberts, Sp Fr.

The mother sinks into poverty owing to the death of her lover who is the father of their illegitimate children. She returns to her native city and starts working for a living. The stepdaughter acts as a messenger between her mother and the fashionable Madame Pace, played by Nancy Westney, HEA Fr; for whom the mother did sewing.

Madame Pace's establishment featured dressmaking but was also a "rendezvous" for lovers. The beautiful stepdaughter is easily led astray by Madame Pace and leads a life of vice. At this point the drama breaks out in violence and fills the remainder of the play with confusion.

Reserved-seat tickets may be obtained by presenting student activity tickets at the Auditorium box office.

K-STATE PLAYERS rehearse for the Thursday and Friday productions of the season's first major production, "Six Characters in Search of an Author." Reserved seat tickets may be obtained at the Auditorium by presenting an activity ticket. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Cell Block 7 Featured As Semester's Top Band

By JANE TAYLOR

Tickets for the Cell Block 7, top name band for this semester, will go on sale next week, according to Tom Bowman, ChE Jr, dance committee chairman.

The dance will be November 3 after the KU-K-State football game in the Student Union Ballroom from 9 to 12 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 a couple.

Their music has been called "music that makes you want to dance your feet off," by Phil Harris, and "lots of laughs as well as good music," by Mickey Rooney. Although best known for their "Dixieland music with a rag-time beat," the 7 also play "slow and bluesy."

Included in the septet are Tam Mott, trombone; Bill Nugent, piano; Phil Elliott, bass; Lacey Stinson, clarinet; Tommy Lay, trumpet; Ed Bennett, banjo; and Russ Brown, drums. Four are students at Southern Methodist university.

Brown, who is the drummer and leader, overheard a jam session at SMU, got the boys together, and formed the group. Brown's idea for the name of the band came to him while he was stopped for a red light in front of the Dallas city jail.

Complete with striped pajamas and derby hats, the band took its first job at a Dallas cafe for $3 for a Saturday night. From there, the group sky-rocketed to fame, appearing on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town," the Riviera hotel in Las Vegas, two holdover engagements in Kansas City and various college and military installation jazz concerts.

Registration Open For Study Skills

Saturday is the last day for registration in the study skills classes, according to Sumner B. Morris, director of the counseling center. Registration will be held in Anderson 226.

Each student who registers will attend two classes. One sequence will be held on October 29 and 31, and one on October 30 and November 1.

Balloting To Begin For 'Favorite Man'

K-State coeds may vote for their "favorite man on campus" tomorrow and Friday in Anderson hall. Activity cards must be shown to vote, according to Sally DeForest, DIM Sr, FMOC campaigning and election chairman. The voting booth will close at 5 p.m. Friday.

Tickets for the Snowball went on sale Monday in Anderson hall and will be sold through Friday. The dance will be Saturday night from 9 to 12 p.m., with Matt Betton providing the music. The girl-ask-boy affair is $1.50 a couple. High-light of the dance is the crowning of the FMOC.

Sylvia Gaddie, Clo Jr, is chairman of the Snowball committee. Sub-chairmen are Marilyn Kalous, HE Jr, and Betty Sellers, HDA Jr, decorations; Connie Benjamin, HEN Soph, tickets; Peggy Tillotson, HEJ Jr, and Judy Taplin, HEJ Jr, publicity; Pat Todd, HE Jr, dorm publicity; Carol Cotner, HT Jr, floor committee; Sandy Arnold, HEN Soph, presentation; and Sally DeForest, DIM Sr, FMOC campaigning and election.

Twenty-six K-State men are competing for the FMOC crown. They are Terry Poling, BPM Jr, Acacia; Jerry Schweitzer, AEC Jr, Alpha Gamma Rho; Eldon Ladd, CE Soph, Alpha Kappa Lambda; Bob Rafferty, ME Sr, Beta Sigma Psi; Paul Attwater, PrL Jr, Beta Theta Pi; Larry Lowe, Geo Sr, Delta Sigma Phi; Gary Rumsey, AED Jr, Delta Tau Delta.

Success of Revised Pact Entirely Up To Students

ANOTHER REVISED edition of the Kansas State-Kansas University Peace Pact has been officially signed but it still remains up to students of both schools to enter into the spirit of the Pact and make it work.

We've come a long way from the grand old days when the KU-K-State rivalry took on the aspects of a commando raid on each campus prior to the football and basketball games.

WE HAVE even further to go before acts such as these can become a thing of the past. We can put a stop to them now by placing guards all over the campus, but it'll take about two generations before such acts will be completely forgotten.

By that time all the heroic acts of old grads, dads, and granddads will fall on deaf ears. Junior will no longer be coming to college supplied with a headful of stunts that dad did while he was in school.

THE NEW Peace Pact has much more teeth than any previous one. The automatic dismissal clause in the Pact should certainly make anyone aware of consequences of vandalism. In addition, the transcript of a dismissed student will not be released to any other institution until the student makes full payment of any damages he incurred.

With the weight of the Pact staring him in the face, a student, if he wants to go ahead and vandalize the opposition's campus, can certainly have no gripe when he gets caught and booted out of school.

THE PACT will get its test at the KU-K-State football game here Saturday, November 2. If the students don't make the Pact work this year, then it will be a waste of time to try it again next year and the year after.—George Vohs.

U.S. Is Much Like Hawaii

DANNY MOTOGAWA gets set to make a sign in the Student Union where he works.

DAN MOTOGAWA, Ar 03, from Kona, Hawaii, finds the United States much like his home, except for the weather. "I knew pretty much what to expect here. We have many of the same things you have and do many of the same things you do," he said.

"The biggest difference between the two countries is the weather. It gets too hot here in the summer and too cold in the winter—and it's dusty all the time," he said.

"I HAVEN'T been home since August, 1954, because I go to summer school," Motogawa said. "The thing I miss most is swimming, but I do catch up on it during the summer at the pools. However, at home we live 50 feet from the ocean, and my spare time is spent deep sea diving and surf riding," he said.

Motogawa came to K-State because of a situation that wouldn't be found in the states. He attended high school from November to August each year so that he could work in the coffee plantations during August, September and October. After high school graduation in August, he sent his transcript to several colleges, but K-State was the only one that accepted him because of his late arrival. "It didn't make any difference which college I went to but K-State was listed as one of the top ten architectural schools. Besides, K-State had a more reasonable tuition fee," Motogawa said.

"I DECIDED to come to the United States in the first place because the University of Hawaii doesn't have as good architectural facilities. After my graduation, and a two-year stay in the Army, I would like to work in Venezuela because of the rapid architectural progress and opportunities. I'd particularly like to design churches," Motogawa said.

At K-State Motogawa works in the Student Union making posters. He works 14 hours a week with the line-o-scribe machine, and does free-hand lettering and drawing. Any campus organization may have posters made for a small fee.

"THIS IS the only job I've had here in the States. I can work during my spare hours between classes, evening, and on Saturday," said Motogawa. "It's quite a bit different from picking coffee berries from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. from August to November. Most of the students worked during those months in Hawaii, but the island I worked on was the only one that raised coffee. Sugar cane and pineapple employed many people on the other islands.

"I'd like to stay here as long as I can," Motogawa said. "All the people here are wonderful."

Civil War Rages in Hungary, Anti-Soviets in Armed Revolt

Compiled from United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Vienna, Oct. 24—Hungary's Communist regime called in Soviet troops today to crush an armed revolt that flared into open civil war. Popular Imre Nagy took over the premiership and appealed for an end to the fighting raging throughout the country.

Nagy, the popular hero whose return to leadership was the first fruit of the rebellion, clamped martial law on the entire country and then went before the people to try to restore order.

Budapest radio, frightened at the extent to which the rebellion had grown, decreed summary death sentences for all rioters. But fighting went on. All other communications from Budapest but radio have been cut.

The radio reported that street fighting still was raging late in the day after night-long battles between anti-Stalinist and anti-Communist rebels and Hungarian troops and police. The report said fighting still raged throughout the beautiful Danube river city.

The Communist leadership met in an emergency session before dawn and restored Nagy to the post from which he was once banished for "rightist deviation."

Inter-party disagreements on Communist policy and the merits of the hard "Stalinist" policy erupted into violence that extended to all sides. Anti-Communists apparently were fighting both sides in a bloody civil war.

Another communique from Budapest radio suggested that the uprising had been arranged in advance by a well-prepared, well-armed anti-Communist underground.

In spite of radio announcements that "order was being" restored, it was apparent the fighting was not over. Reports reaching the West said the Russians had completely surrounded Budapest and were using tanks, machine guns and heavy armored cars in this, the first major rebellion in a Soviet satellite.

Soviets View Campaign

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24—Three Soviet Russian guests of the State Department, in this country to observe a United States election campaign, arrive today for a first hand look at politics Kentucky style—which often baffles even Kentuckians.

After their arrival from Washington at 12:22 p.m., the Russians were scheduled for a formal welcome at the office of Louisville mayor Andrew Broaddus and lunch at the exclusive endennis club with city officials.

The afternoon was set aside for visits to Republican and Democratic state campaign headquarters to see how a state political organization functions.

Ike Wants Safety First

Washington, Oct. 24—President Eisenhower is ready not only to stop H-bomb tests, but "to put all nuclear weapons aside permanently" as soon as "one basic requirement is met."

"This requirement is that we, as a nation, and all peoples, know safety from attack."

But until "properly safeguarded international agreements can be reached," this country must continue to develop "the most advanced weapons—for the sake of our own national safety, for the sake of all free nations, for the sake of peace itself."

The President thus capsuled his H-bomb policy late yesterday in releasing from the White House two long official memoranda detailing the history of U.S. nuclear developments and the history of U.S. efforts to control the atom for peace since 1945.

The President's statement and the two documents—which he called "a full and explicit review" of American nuclear policies and actions—dealt at length with Adlai E. Stevenson's proposals for banning H-bomb tests.

Moslem Mobs Rebel

Rabat, Morocco, Oct. 24—In-furiated Moslems killed 27 Europeans and wounded 25 more yesterday in Rabat in anger over French arrest of five Algerian leaders, it was disclosed today.

The arrest of the Algerian leaders while they were flying to Tunis in a Moroccan airlines plane brought France to one of its biggest North African crises in years, with trouble from all nations involved—Morocco, Tunisia, and Algeria.

Reports here today said the Moslem mobs stormed through the city's European quarter, pulled motorists out of their cars, hurled rocks and paving blocks at passing pedestrians, and battered their way into European homes.

Other vigilante bands set fire to 26 farm houses 70 miles from Rabat last night. One French couple was chopped to bits with hatchets before the eyes of their screaming children.

Official estimates shortly after midnight put the death toll at ten, but they disclosed today that mob violence was much greater than first reported.

The five captured Moslem leaders were enroute for a "peace conference in Tunis in hopes of ending the bitter Algerian rebellion against French rule.

Britain, France Agree

London, Oct. 24—Britain and France were reported agreed today on what concessions they would accept from Egypt as the basis for negotiations on the Suez canal.

Michigan State Replaces Sooners as No. 1 Team

New York, (U.P.)—Michigan State, which wallops its tough opponents with the same ease that Oklahoma bowls over weak-sisters, took over the No. 1 spot today in the United Press college football ratings.

The matter of comparative schedules, topped off by Michigan State's 47-14 romp against Notre Dame last weekend, caused the 35-man United Press rating board to shift its favor to the Spartans after picking Oklahoma as the nation's best team for four straight weeks.

Twenty-one of the 35 leading coaches who comprise the rating board picked Michigan State no. 1; 13 voted the Sooners tops; while one other coach choose Georgia Tech.

The devastating power with which coach Duffy Daugherty's Spartans crushed Notre Dame was a convincing factor. (Previously Michigan State had defeated Stanford, Michigan and Indiana.)

Oklahoma set a modern major college winning record last Saturday by defeating Kansas, 34-12, for its 34th consecutive triumph.

The United Press college football ratings (with first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

1. Michigan State (21) (4-0)	332
2. Oklahoma (13) (4-0)	316
3. Georgia Tech (1) (4-0)	280
4. Tennessee (4-0)	192
5. Michigan (3-1)	183
6. Southern California (4-)	182
7. Texas A&M (4-0-1)	96
8. Ohio State (3-1)	57
9. (Tie) Baylor (4-0)	51
10. (Tie) Texas Christian (3-1)	51
Second 10 teams—11. Pittsburgh, 36; 12. Syracuse, 26; 13. Tulane, 22; 14. Minnesota, 21; 15. Iowa, 20; 16. Mississippi, 19; 17. Penn State, 13; 18. Stanford, 11; 19. Miami (Fla.), 5; 20. Clemson, 4.

Tigers Accent Passing Attack

COLUMBIA, Mo., (U.P.)—Missouri coach Don Faurot accentuated passing in yesterday's practice for Saturday's meeting with aerial-minded Iowa State.

Missouri ranks seventh in the nation in rushing, the same spot Iowa State holds in pass defense. The Cyclones also lead the Big Seven in passing.

Most the practice was devoted to play polishing, although the second unit worked against Iowa State's split-T offense.

LAWRENCE, (U.P.)—Lynn McCarthy, regular left end last year and Kansas' top defensive player, regained that position yesterday.

McCarthy suffered a severe stab wound in a fight in Kansas City in late August and didn't see action until the Iowa State game.

Second string quarterback Bob Marshall worked with the first team in place of Wally Straugh, who is suffering from a hand bruise.

STILLWATER, Okla., (U.P.)—Oklahoma A&M coach Cliff Speegle reshuffled several players yesterday and hoped for no more injuries before the Kansas game.

Speegle believes the Aggies' biggest problem will be the containing of Jayhawk speed.

Three Shifts On Cat Grid First String

Three changes were made in K-State's first-unit grid team Tuesday afternoon as Coach Bus Mertes began preparing his Wildcats for this Saturday's battle with Wyoming U. at Laramie.

Tony Addeo, senior halfback, moved into the right halfback position on the first team; George Laddish, junior end, moved up to the number one right end position; and Jaydee Stinson, sophomore guard, moved to first string right guard.

Addeo replaces Jerry Hayes in the K-State backfield while Laddish recaptured his right end position from Jim Luzinski. Stinson ran in place of Blatscher on the first unit as Blatscher watched from the sidelines again Tuesday after suffering a neck bruise in the Missouri game last week.

The Cats drilled against Wyoming single-wing plays with three units alternating on defense. Earlier in the practice session the backs went through tackling drills aimed at boosting their defense.

"In order for us to get into the win column we will have to be able to maintain the ball and be able to score when given the opportunity," said Mertes as he pointed out that Wyoming hasn't scored less than 20 points in any game this season.

"Wyoming, with six straight wins under their belt, will definitely be tough and in order to come out with a victory we'll have to give it everything we have."

1958 Last?

Orange Bowl Committee Might Cancel Agreement

Miami, Fla., (U.P.)—There was a time when $440,000 would buy a whale of a football bowl game, but the Orange Bowl committee realized today it would be paying that much next January 1 for two low-rated teams.

The New Year's game will be the "off year" under the Orange Bowl's tieup with the Atlantic Coast and Big Seven conferences. It may turn into such an "off year" as to spell an end to the pact when it expires after the 1958 game.

The Big Seven will furnish its second place team this year and, by national standards, that outfit may even be third rate.

The ACC still will send its champion but its teams have had great fun so far this season losing to each other and particularly to teams outside their conference.

The ACC's 1957 titlist and Orange Bowl representative is most likely to be the winner of Thursday's South Carolina-Clemson clash in the annual big Thursday game.

The situation brought reports this week that the 54 members of the Orange Bowl committee are now 90 per cent in favor of dropping the Big Seven-Atlantic Coast conference pact when it expires in 1958. Members privately admitted they favor an attempt to land the Southeastern conference champion each year, then deal for an opponent in the open market.

Van Zile Wins Volleyball Title; Swimming To Start

Van Zile hall won the women's intramural volleyball championship yesterday by defeating the Blitz Babes, an unaffiliated independent team.

Blitz Babes were upset by Van Zile after leading at halftime by one point, 12-11.

The first women's intramural swimming meet will be November 8 in Nichol's men's pool at 5 p.m. Girls interested in entering should sign this week in the girls' locker room in Nichols.

Beginners events will include a balloon relay, kickboard relay, and a novelty race. Speed events will be the front crawl, back crawl, breaststroke, and medley relay. Form includes elementary backstroke, sidestroke, and breaststroke. The running front dive and jackknife will be required plus three optional dives in that event.

Wilt The Stilt Undergoes 'Very Minor' Operation

Kansas City, (U.P.)—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Kansas' famed seven-foot basketball player, underwent surgery described as "very minor" at the University of Kansas medical center Monday.

The hospital said Chamberlain would be dismissed Monday afternoon. He had been afflicted with a minor growth on his throat that kept him out of the first week of basketball practice.

YOUNGDOFF

I was out walking Pike (that's our dog) the other night and who in blue blazes do you think I happened to run into? Larry Youngdoff, of course. Who else would be out running around at 3 a.m. in a white cheerleader's outfit?

I asked Larry what in the world he was doing out at this early-morning hour and he said he had been wandering about wondering who would win a contest he was in.

I didn't fully understand what it was he was running for so I said, "What's this race you're in?"

The joker said, "440."

Needless to say, I was still in the dark (that is reasonable since it was 3 in the morning and we were not under a street light) as to what he was running for.

The next morning I asked some of his friends what the deal was and they said he was running for FMOC. I still wasn't tuned in on the picture until they explained that FMOC meant Favorite Man on the Campus.

The first time I got a chance I asked Pike (that's our dog) what he thought about Larry running for FMOC. Pike (that's our dog and that's short for Pi Kappa Alpha) said he would cast a vote for Larry any day.

I explained to him that only members of the girlish sex could vote. Pike (our dog) was puzzled for a moment and then he said he thought he could get the collie across the street to vote for Larry. I told Pike (our dog) it would really be swell if he could.

Incidentally, it would be a pretty good deal if you gals and your friends would vote for Larry too.

Guests And Installation Keep Greeks On Toes

Installation ceremonies for "1834 club", a colony of Delta Upsilon, will be held Saturday, November 17, according to Ron Pettie, president.

A colony at K-State for almost two years, the "1834 club" will become a chapter of the national social fraternity after installation by the KU chapter of Delta Upsilon.

The new chapter will have 35 members. Pledges at this time will retain pledge status while actives will receive Delta Upsilon pins.

Installation will begin at 10 a.m. in charge of the KU chapter. Following K-State's Homecoming game in the afternoon, parents, faculty members and out-of-town guests will be honored at a reception at the house. A banquet at 6:30 p.m. will climax the day's activities for the new D.U.s.

Greyhound Racing Attracts 140 Vet Medicine Students

One hundred and forty junior and senior students in veterinary medicine will be guests at the annual National Coursing meet being held in Abilene today.

The meet will consist of races between hundreds of the top greyhound dogs in the United States, according to Dr. Edwin J. Frick, head of veterinary surgery and medicine.

Prizes totaling $25,000 will be awarded during the meet. Many of the dogs taking part in the meet are valued at thousands of dollars, according to Frick.

The state of Kansas raises more greyhounds than any other state, according to Frick. Abilene is the home of the National Coursing association.

AAUP

K-State members of the American association of University Professors will meet in the walnut dining room of the K-State Union today, at 5:30 p.m., Robert McFarland, president, announced.

John C. Weaver, dean of arts and sciences, will discuss the importance of research at K-State, following a dinner.

Photography Interest Group

The Photography Interest group will meet tonight at 6 in the Walnut dining room of the Student Union. Interested students should plan to bring their dinner trays from the state room and a camera if they have one.

Free Movie

A free movie will be shown in J-15, today at 4 p.m. The movie, "Lysistrata," is an Austrian adaptation of Aristophanes' famous satire on war. The women of Athens, weary of the never-ending battles which keep their husbands away, stage a "sit-down strike" and refuse to allow the men into their homes until they declare an end to war.

Home Economics Teaching Club

Wilma Ludwig, HT Sr, is the new president of the Home Economics Teaching club. Other officers are: Verlene Sobke, HT Sr, vice-president; Ruth Hammer, HT Sr, secretary; Ann Folsche, HT Sr, treasurer; Dorothy Crawford, HT Sr, special projects committee head; Carol Wilkins, HT Jr, reporter; Edith Lancaster, HT Sr, parliamentarian.

The club will meet every third Thursday at 4 p.m. in room 208 of the Student Union.

YW-YMCA Conference

"A-Way We Go" will be the theme of the YW-YMCA district conference to be held next Friday and Saturday on the campus of Southwestern college at Winfield. The theme will center around the way of life college students choose and theological questions that concern students today.

Registration for the conference should be made at the YW office on the second floor of Anderson hall by 5 p.m. tomorrow, according to Miss Helen Bocker, YW faculty adviser. The registration fee is $4, and transportation will be provided.

All YW and YM members and any other interested students are invited to attend the conference. Marilyn Smith, Soc Sr, is co-chairman of the district and will preside over part of the conference. About 25 K-State students are expected to attend the conference.

Collegiate 4-H Ball

Tickets for the Collegiate 4-H "Harvest Ball," all-College dinner-dance set for next Friday, October 26, will be on sale next week in Anderson hall and at the Student Union.

The Bob Haas Combo will play for dancing from 9 to 12, following a 6:30 p.m. dinner in the Union ballroom.

Dress will be informal and those attending need not be Collegiate 4-H members, said committee chairman Edith Lancaster, HT Sr.

SU Music Groups

Persons interested in joining or forming music groups such as popular bands or choral groups may sign up in the activities center of the Student Union, according to Marianne Ptacek, activities center secretary.

Union Sub-Committees

Six sub-committee chairmanship positions will open for applications today.

Interested persons may fill out applications in the activities center of the Student Union.

LOCKHEED

Aircraft Corporation

California Division • Georgia Division

Lockheed Representatives of the California Division and the Georgia Division will be on campus

Monday, October 29

You are invited to consult your placement officer for an appointment.

Separate interviews will be given for each division.

Both divisions of Lockheed are engaged in a long-range expansion program in their fields of endeavor.

California Division activities in Burbank cover virtually every phase of commercial and military aircraft. Seventeen different models of planes are in production, including cargo and passenger transports, high Mach performance fighters, jet trainers, radar search planes, patrol bombers.

B. S. graduates who wish to attain a Master's Degree will be interested in the California Division's Masters-Degree Work-Study Program. In the program, participants achieve their M.S. while working concurrently on Lockheed's engineering staff.

At Lockheed in Marietta, Georgia, new C-130A turbo-prop transports and B-47 jet bombers are being manufactured in the country's largest aircraft plant under one roof. The division is already one of the South's largest industries. Moreover, a new engineering center is now in development as part of the division's expansion program. In addition, advanced research and development are underway on nuclear energy and its relationship to aircraft. A number of other highly significant classified projects augment the extensive production program.

This broad expansion program is creating new positions in each division. Graduates in fields of: Aeronautical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Mathematics and Physics are invited to investigate their role in Lockheed's expansion.

Campus United Fund Drive Sets Goal at $1 A Student

One dollar a student has been set as the goal for K-State during the United Fund drive, October 20-21.

A member of each organized house will solicit his house in order to obtain the dollar per person goal. The organized houses will be rated according to the per cent of the goal they reach.

Houses will be rated in classes of: less than 25 per cent; between 25 and 50 per cent; between 50 and 75 per cent; and between 75 and 100 per cent.

A booth will be set up in the Student Union for the independent students Monday thru Wednesday of next week.

The United Fund is a combination of several drives—World university service, heart fund, cancer fund, polio fund, reserve fund, and downtown Manhattan fund.

The heart, cancer, and polio funds each receive 10 per cent. The downtown Manhattan fund receives 40 per cent of the United Fund gross which is then broken down into 40 per cent for the Red Cross, and 60 per cent for the Community Chest.

The World university service will receive 15 per cent, and the other 15 per cent will remain in a reserve fund for any emergency. The money left in reserve next spring will go to the World university fund.

K-State contributed $500 to the World university service last year and hopes to double it this year.

The World university service is an international organization providing a means to aid students and faculty members in under-developed and war-torn countries. This is based on a belief that only through partnership, not pity, can real international fellowship between students be created.

Over 600 colleges in the United States are taking part in this service, and 41 countries receive it. A total of $915,838 was raised in the U.S. last year, and less than one per cent was raised by institutions.

The service has built a TB sanatorium in Toyko, and a Health Center in India.

Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, Thursday, October 25, 1956

NUMBER 31

Services for Smith Are Still Uncertain

Funeral arrangements were still pending at noon today for Harry Smith, 31-year-old K-State chemistry instructor who committed suicide in his office on the campus early yesterday morning.

A beaker of cyanide with some liquid remaining in the glass was found on the table along with a suicide note in Smith's handwriting. Judge R. R. Bennett, acting coronor, made an investigation of the death and announced a finding of suicide.

Riley County Sheriff B. E. Deckert, who investigated the death, said this morning that he felt an inquest was "not necessary."

"Smith left a suicide note and His mother, Mrs. Minnie Smith Lyon, Proenix, Arizona, also survives and is scheduled to arrive in Manhattan today.

The Burlew-Cowan funeral home of Manhattan is in charge of the arrangements.

Seven Staters Are Nominated For Fulbrights

Seven K-State students have been nominated to compete for Fulbright scholarships, according to Harold Howe, dean of the Graduate school.

Nominees, the country where each hopes to study, and their chosen fields:

Robert Cutler, Eng Gr, Italy, literature; Mary Jo Forbes, Gov Sr, France, public law; Martha Garrett, ChW Gr, Netherlands, Sociology; William Hicks, Gov Sr, Germany, political science; Joseph Jones, Chm Sr, Germany, nuclear chemistry; John Koster, Gov Sr, Germany, political science; and Ann Morrissey, Eng Sr, Ireland or England, literature.

Members of the institutional selection committee, who picked the nominees, are Howe; Prof. Kling L. Anderson, agronomy; Prof. W. F. Pickett, horticulture; Prof. L. H. Douglas, history; Prof. A. C. Andrews, chemistry; Prof. Lucile O. Rust, history; Prof. J. C. Heintzelman, architecture; Prof. C. W. Matthews, English; and Prof. C. H. Kitzelman pathology.

Ideas for Relieving Parking Situation Are Printed by South Dakota Student

By Mary Beckmeyer

THE PLOT thickens in the never ending parking and driving problems on college campuses.

Here are a few suggestions for relieving the parking situation according to The Dakota Student.

"All students line up in the stadium and draw chips. Students who draw white chips would be patted on the head and sent on their way. Those who draw black chips would be immediately put to death and their automobiles sold. The proceeds would go to the athletic fund." (This was held in high regard by the Malthusian economists as a means of partially solving the population problem.)

"The faculty (most of whom live in town anyway) should walk to class, thus relieving a great part of the parking pressure." (An alternative to this plan, put forward by a conservative element in the faculty, and consequently rejected, was that the faculty form car pools . . . guaranteeing, of course, there would be no more than fifteen cars on the campus at any given time.)

"Students could park their cars in the basement of the building in which they were attending classes."

The Dakota Student also reports a letter they received from a student who complained of the pegs in the University parking lots. "They are just the right size to catch underneath an auto bumper." Evidently he wasn't kidding, for, along with his letter, he left the orange-painted peg on the editor's desk. The student had to saw the peg off in order to release his car from its "trap."

ON THE University of North Carolina campus there was a student who amazed the automobile registrars with: "What do you do when you have four cars?"

Write Elvis Presley and ask him, of course!

POOR POSKI! He's the California bear and he's in trouble. During the Oregon State-California game last year Oski threw packaged ice cream into the children's section of the stadium. Charles David, 12, got trampled and roughed up in the process and now his dad is suing the bear and Cal. Trouble is—ten men wear the bear costume during the year and who knows which one it is.

What a perplexing situation. Why it's almost too much to bear!

THE UCLA LIBRARY has decided not to fine Caryl and Susan Volkman for overdue books. The library cancelled the fines when they learned that the twin girls used the books to prepare for appearances on "The $64,000 Question" television show.

The books proved valuable, too; the Volkman twins bowed out of the show after winning $16,000.

With all that loot it looks like the library would have doubled the fine!

AT THE University of Mississippi the campus senate has proposed a "Dead Week" for the period preceding exams. During this week, no organizations would have meetings and no official activities would be scheduled on campus.

It's a good idea but the title would be more appropriate for the week the kind instructors mail those little grade cards.

Week's Personality Salute Goes to Gavona Michaels

By MARCIA BOYD

Gavona Michaels, HT Sr, president of the home economics council, is the Collegian's "Personality of the Week."

As president, Gavona presides over the 13-member council which is composed of three officers elected by the School of Home Economics, presidents of the departmental clubs, and appointments by the dean.

Along with her other duties, she supervises arrangements for Hospitality Days and the Snowball. "The proceeds from the Snowball are put into a $150 scholarship fund for a deserving home economics student. Any extra proceeds are kept in a foreign fellowship fund to assist a foreign student to study home economics," she said.

Selection of an interest award plaque presented to the departmental organization that has the best program of the year is another of the president's jobs. The nursing club won the award last spring.

The K-State School of Home Economics publishes a yearly newsletter for the 17 home economics departments in the state schools which is under the president's supervision. She also is responsible for sending progress reports to the National Home Economics association of which the K-State home economics school is a member.

"The success of the council depends on each of the departmental clubs and their members, along with the co-ordination of the entire home economics school," said Gavona.

Gavona Michaels

Gavona has been active in home economics groups on campus and was a delegate to the National Home Economics convention in Minneapolis in 1955. "I always wanted to come to K-State and major in home economics. I never considered anything else," she said.

Gavona is also active in Collegiate 4-H, Purple Pepsters, and has been on the Who's Who staff for three years. She is vice-president of Kappa Phi, Methodist girls' club, and committee chairman of Future Teachers association.

Library Has Books On Campaign Issues

WHEN THE November 6 election rolls around will you be able to cast your ballot wisely? Do you know what issues each candidate is supporting?

The head of the catalog department in the library, Bernice Paton, has composed a list of new-library books that explain some of the issues at stake in the coming election and the views of the candidates.

WE HOPE to bring Collegian readers a list of the new library volumes of interest about every other week with the help of the library staff.—George Vohs.

Hundreds Dead As Hungary War Rages Into Third Day

Compiled from United Press
By LANCE GILMORE

Vienna, Oct. 25—Hungary's civil war, its dead already numbering in the hundreds and its wounded in the thousands, raged through its third day today despite new government promises of forgiveness and a pledge to negotiate withdrawal of all Soviet troops in Hungary.

New Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy promised today that the Hungarian government will ask the Soviet Union to withdraw all Russian troops from Hungarian territory.

No Intervention—Pravda

Moscow, Oct. 25—The official Communist organ Pravda said today President Eisenhower is "without any foundation" in complaining that Premier Nikolai Bulganin's latest disarmament message amounted to intervention in U.S. internal affairs.

"Such subjects cannot be an internal affair of the United States," Pravda said. "... Long ago the Soviet government proposed the prohibition of atomic weapons and the cessation of tests of such weapons."

The Communist newspaper said the world can hardly consider prohibition of atomic tests an American campaign issue because the subject has been before the United Nations for 11 years.

Pravda printed the full text of President Eisenhower's stern letter which rebuked the Soviet Premier for prematurely making the preceding message public and for criticizing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

"The American President has obviously been the victim of uninformed experts," commented Pravda. It said the latest Bulganin letter was handed Dulles October 19 and only published on October 21, "taking into consideration Mr. Dulles' wishes to allow the President to familiarize himself with the message."

New York City Wooed

Adlai E. Stevenson flew out of New York City today as President Eisenhower trained in to fight back for the city's normally Democratic vote.

Both were up in arms for the home stretch.

The Democratic candidate, who made a nationally televised speech from a Madison Square Garden rally Tuesday night, made seven appearances in and about the city between noon and midnight yesterday. Rally crowds in the usually Republican suburbs were described by his associates as some of the most enthusiastic of his campaign.

Stevenson told them he was "good and mad" at the Republican campaign of "misrepresentations

... slush ... slogans ... epithets ... and silly nonsense."

Mr. Eisenhower left Washington by train at 8:30 a.m. for a major address at Madison Square Garden tonight. Spot radio announcements urged listeners throughout yesterday and this morning to "meet Ike" at noon at Pennsylvania station.

Mr. Eisenhower was described by close associates as indignant over Stevenson's attacks on his foreign policies, particularly the recent Suez crisis. His address was expected to re-emphasize his claim that there is "good news" from Suez and other points abroad.

'Cleaner' Claim Valid

Washington, Oct. 25—Your government says it is making "cleaner" H-bombs.

But it has never formally contended it ever will be able to produce a completely clean nuclear weapon—one that won't generate any radioactive fallout at all.

The political orators of both parties haven't always made the essential distinction between "clean" and "cleaner."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), for example, has been saying we have a clean bomb. Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, retorted "nonsense."

The cleaner H-bomb does not, however, appear to be nonsense. Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, atomic physicist turned critic of nuclear affairs, accepts the administration's cleaner bomb claims. In his new book, Atoms and People, he says:

"Operation Redwing, the U.S. Pacific test in 1956 demonstrated weapons with 'reduced fallout.' This means cleaner experimental weapons were tested in which fusion (the H-bomb reaction) predominated over fission (the A-bomb reaction)."

Applications are open for the Student Council's constitution revisions committee, which will have two non-Council student members.

Any student interested in working on this newly-established committee should leave his name in the Dean of Students office, according to Council member Verlene Sobke. Applications must be in by tomorrow.

Purpose of the committee will be to keep the constitution of the Student Governing Association as nearly up-to-date as possible. This special committee will have one faculty representative, two Student Council members (Sobke and Ray Zimmerman), and two at-large members from the student body.

More than 350,000,000 pounds of agricultural dusts and sprays are applied to U. S. acreages annually by airplane for the control of insects, weeds and plant diseases.

Cat Gridders Hit Offensive For WU Tilt

K-State's grid unit turned to offensive drill Wednesday afternoon in final preparation for Wyoming's Cowboys Saturday afternoon at Laramie.

A long, no-contact practice session was held in Memorial stadium as coach Bus Mertes alternated his first and second backfields with the number one line.

Tony Addeo and Gene Keady alternated at the right halfback position as Addeo continued to limp on an injured ankle.

Ray Glaze traded off with Bill Carrington at the fullback slot and Kerry Clifford took turns with Ellis Rainsberger at the center spot.

Glaze missed the first three games of the season with a back injury. Clifford is returning to ac-

Dog Days Here Again

West Point, Miss.—(U.P.)—Mrs. J. A. Phelps thinks October 13 is a lucky day.

Last November 17 her dog gave birth to a litter of 17 puppies. Then, on October 13, the dog produced 13 more.

"Thank goodness it wasn't the 30th of the month," Mrs. Phelps said.

Hawk-Cat Frosh Clash Friday

K-State's freshman football team, untested this season, will face the Kansas university frosh here in Memorial Stadium tomorrow afternoon with kickoff at 3:00 p.m.

Appraising Wildcat freshman forces as "one solid team, and some good replacements," frosh coach Ed Cavanaugh said his biggest concern over the outcome of this tussle with KU was in numbers. "We expect the Jayhawks to have us outnumbered, but we feel we can match them at least in the first unit.

"We will need to get the maximum time out of our starters, but I think we can show a well-developed team," Cavanaugh explained. "We're further along than usual, since we have a small group—our whole squad numbers only 36 men—and we have had more time together than most frosh squads usually do.

"We have spent very little time scrimmaging against the varsity—giving us that much more time to work on our own plays and defense. We have improved tremendously during the past two weeks."

Cavanaugh lists George Whitney as fastest among yearling Wildcat backs, pointing to the little Highland Park (Topeka) product as a real breakaway threat.

"And while our line is far from huge, we have enough speed and agility in men like Miles, French, and Lambing to stay in there against most anyone," Cavanaugh adds.

The Wildcat freshmen average 210 pounds a man in the starting line, giving them a slight 3-pound advantage over probable KU starters.

This game is the first of the two allotted Wildcat yearlings under Big Seven regulations. They also meet Nebraska freshmen at Lincoln November 9.

K-State students will be admitted to the game on their activity tickets.

DON'T THROW THAT PASS, says Tom Cablantz as he tries to stop Dave Craig of Delta Tau Delta from getting the aerial away. George Rood looks on.

Sig Alphas, Eps Win; In Fraternity Finals

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won a berth in the intramural football finals by swamping Kappa Sigma, 34-0, yesterday. Sigma Phi Epsilon, 27-24 winner over Delta Tau Delta, gained the other finals slot.

The Sig Alph offense was led by Bill Sinderson's two touchdowns and two extra points as well as the passing of Jim McCormick.

Sinderson caught his touchdown passes from Darwin Hester and McCormick. McCormick threw 6-pointers to Chad Sims, Vaughn Shamburg and Stan Knowles. In addition he threw two conversion passes.

The Sig Ep win resulted from four Delta Tau Delta missed extra points.

The Eps scored first on a pass from Paul Clark to Larry Sturgeon in the first quarter. The extra point was counted on a pass play to Ron Baker.

Delta Tau Delta's Joe Kashner threw to Dave Craig for a touchdown, but the try for point failed.

Sig Ep Harold Grubb blocked a Delt punt and raced 20 yards to a score. Clark threw to Baker for the point after touchdown.

Both teams scored again in the second period—Delta Tau Delta on a pass from Dub Gunter to Craig, and Sigma Phi Epsilon on a Paul Clark toss to Marvin Childs.

The Delts scored in the third quarter on a Gunter to Craig pass and again when Kashner threw to Jay Ryan.

Clark passed to Childs for the final Sig Ep touchdown. Clark's toss to Baker was good for the extra point.

Agrees Not to Drive

Winters, Calif., (U.P.)—Orville Salisbury, 96, who says he has been driving automobiles ever since they were invented, has agreed to drive no more.

Salisbury made the promise recently when brought into court for driving without a license. He told the judge he never had one.

Fraternity Parties, Formals Planned for Weekend

A formal at Pottorf hall will top the Saturday activities of Acacia and Phi Kappa fraternities. In the afternoon will be a football game between the two fraternities, followed by a tug of war and contests between the fellow's dates. The Acacia-Phi Kap formal is an annual event.

Members of Delta Tau Delta entertained their dates at a house party Saturday night.

The annual Chi Omega Hay Hop was held Friday night in Pottorf hall. The dress was casual, with jeans and square dance dresses predominating.

The Pastels from Emporia provided the music.

Phi Kappa Tau is having a Hallowe'en party Friday, at the chapter house.

Phi Kappa Tau had an hour dance with Southeast Hall Tuesday.

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity will hold their White Rose formal, Friday in the west ballroom of the Student Union from 9 to 12 p.m.

A party earlier in the evening at Skyline will precede the dance. A receiving line of president Corky Hannond, BAA Sr, social chairman, Jim Whitford, BA Jr, and special guests, will greet guests.

Refreshments will be served at intermission.

Faculty-Staff Car Ratio High In Student Lot

Faculty-staff cars in the student area of the parking lot south of the Union outnumbered student cars parked in the faculty-staff area last week by almost a 2-1 ratio.

These results were tabulated by the traffic control board in a survey conducted last Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

The survey revealed that over half of the faculty-staff cars in the student area were owned by employees of the Student Union.

The survey data showed that on October 17 at 9 a.m. there were nine faculty-staff cars parked in the student area, and two student cars in the faculty-staff area. At two p.m. there were seven faculty cars in the student lot and seven student cars in the faculty-staff lot. There were eight vacancies in the faculty-staff area.

On the 18th there were nine staff cars parked in the student area in the morning, and eight in the afternoon. The student cars in the faculty area numbered four in the morning and two in the afternoon. There were ten vacancies in the afternoon.

The 19th shows nine staff cars in the student lot at 9 a.m. and eight in the afternoon. There were five student cars in the faculty-staff area at 9 a.m. and six in the afternoon. There were five vacancies in the morning and six in the afternoon.

LOCKHEED

Aircraft Corporation

California Division • Georgia Division

Lockheed Representatives of the California Division and the Georgia Division will be on campus

Monday, October 29

You are invited to consult your placement officer for an appointment.

Separate interviews will be given for each division.

Both divisions of Lockheed are engaged in a long-range expansion program in their fields of endeavor.

California Division activities in Burbank cover virtually every phase of commercial and military aircraft. Seventeen different models of planes are in production, including cargo and passenger transports, high Mach performance fighters, jet trainers, radar search planes, patrol bombers.

B. S. graduates who wish to attain a Master's Degree will be interested in the California Division's Masters-Degree Work-Study Program. In the program, participants achieve their M.S. while working concurrently on Lockheed's engineering staff.

At Lockheed in Marietta, Georgia, new C-130A turbo-prop transports and B-47 jet bombers are being manufactured in the country's largest aircraft plant under one roof. The division is already one of the South's largest industries. Moreover, a new engineering center is now in development as part of the division's expansion program. In addition, advanced research and development are underway on nuclear energy and its relationship to aircraft. A number of other highly significant classified projects augment the extensive production program.

This broad expansion program is creating new positions in each division. Graduates in fields of: Aeronautical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Mathematics and Physics are invited to investigate their role in Lockheed's expansion.
